18th Quadrennial Reunion

The 18th Quadrennial Reunion of the Alumni of the Maryland School for the Deaf is now history and will be remembered for a long time.

The guests began arriving Saturday morning and kept coming until Sunday midafternoon. 291 registered. Quite a few arrived after registration was closed. A rough estimate of the late comers and children safely puts the total attendance around 350.

Ideal weather prevailed throughout the two-day reunion.

Saturday morning and afternoon were left open for that happy event of getting together and meeting schoolmates and friends whom they had not seen for some time.

The feature of the two day reunion was the banquet on Saturday evening with about 150 present.

The dinner far surpassed some of the convention banquets we have attended. It was superb, delicious and well planned, a credit to our genial host, Supt. Lloyd Ambrosen.

After the dinner the guests assembled in the spacious auditorium in the new primary building. Toastmaster Robert Duley opened the program by introducing Mrs. Helen Wriede who delivered the presentation address and presented handsome plaques to two members of the Board of Visitors.

Judge Charles E. Moylan, son of deaf parents who were educated at the Maryland School for the Deaf, was appointed to the Board of Visitors in 1933, and has been president since 1948.

Mr. Charles McC. Mathias, appointed a member in 1920, has served on the executive committee since that date, and has been its chairman since 1935.

Mrs. Wriede cited the gentlemen for their long tenure on the Board and for valuable services rendered the school and the deaf of the state.

Next on the program was an address by Mr. Mervin Garretson, associate professor at Gallaudet College, who spoke on the work of the National Association of the Deaf and its plans for the future. His talk was timely and interesting. The writer believes his address answered some questions uppermost in the minds of many of the deaf here, and would serve the same purpose elsewhere if published in full in The Silent Worker.

"Old Timers" attending the Alumni Reunion: Clifton Holland, Mrs. Asa Justus, Henry O. Nicol, Sr., Mrs. Elsie Faupel, Miss Agnes Bell, Mrs. Minnie Benson and W. W. Duvall.

Open House at the Barracks gave an opportunity for the "Colonial Dames of the Deaf" to add some color to the proceedings. Kneeling: Mrs. Ethel Hall Seibly, Mrs. Doris Faupel Knowles. Standing: Miss Barbara Haller, Mrs. Catherine Hill Leonard, Mrs. Ruby Dilley Piper, Mrs. Evelyn Wenner Amberg, Mrs. Marie Meyd McCarthy and Mrs. Helen Harris Jones.

The next speaker, Dr. Powrie Doctor, editor of the American Annals of the Deaf, and executive secretary of the International Congress on the Education of the Deaf, gave a summation of the reaction of the overseas delegates to the education and high standards of the deaf in the United States. The meeting was held at Gallaudet College last June with over 2,000 people in attendance from all parts of the world.

Mr. Robert Duley gave a report on a government survey being conducted on the deaf in the Washington Metropolis area and counties in Maryland and Virginia adjoining the District of Columbia.

A very good program of songs and skits arranged by Mr. Clarence Russell, chairman of entertainment, was presented with Mr. Sheldon Blumenthal acting as master of ceremonies. Taking part in the songs and skits were Mrs. Debbie Sonnenstrahl, Clarence Russell, Melvin Carter, Sr., Viola Johnson, Michael White and Alfred Sonnenstrahl. The songs and skits were very pleasing, but the hit of the program was "Who will blow out the lamp?" In this skit Mr. Sonnenstrahl impersonated five characters in a clever and amusing manner.

The concluding event of the evening was a Miss Alumni contest. Mr. and Mrs. Garetson and Mr. Richard Phillips served as judges. The decision of the judges went to Miss Terry Ann Blumenthal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Blumenthal and she was crowned queen. Second and third places honors went to Miss Barbara Haller of Frederick, Md. and Mrs. Carol Baird of Falls Church, Va., respectively.

Sunday morning an informal meeting was held in the new auditorium. Supt. Ambrosen was invited to open the meeting with an address. He responded splendidly with a very instructive talk on matters pertaining to deafness, teaching deaf children, the growth of the deaf population and planning to meet the in-

We Lose Three Fine Men

It is with regret that we record the passing of three gentlemen who have meant so much to all of us.

July 22. General D. John Markey was appointed to the Board of Visitors in 1915. He served with distinction for forty-eight years as a member of the Board and on the Executive Committee. He was interested in all phases of the school and especially in our athletic activities. General Markey was a distinguished soldier receiving decorations from France, Belgium and the United States, having served in both World Wars. He contributed his talents to the civic affairs of Frederick, the state and to the nation.

July 10. Abraham S. Kay, owner and president of the Kay Construction Company of Montgomery County, served on the Board of Visitors for five years. Mr. Kay's presence on the Board reflected a dignified and sincere interest in our children.

September 9. For almost forty years George G. Smith served as a cook, and later, as head cook at our school. He served the school with faithfulness and loyalty and looked forward to return of the pupils each year, many of whom stopped to greet him upon visits after leaving school. At their recent reunion, the members of the Alumni remembered George with a sizable purse.

We feel a great personal loss in the passing of each individual and extend the sympathies of the entire school to the families of these fine men.

The Summer in Retrospect

The International Congress on the Education of the Deaf, held at Gallaudet College in June, was easily the greatest professional venture in our lifetime. Over 2,000 people registered for the Congress with more than 400 persons from foreign nations. It was a real pleasure to renew friendships with several friends from overseas.

Dr. S. Richard Silverman, Director of Central Institute for the Deaf, and Dr. Leonard M. Elstad, President of Gallaudet College, served as Co-chairman of the Congress. Dr. Powrie V. Doctor, Editor of The American Annals of the Deaf, was the Executive Secretary. It was our good fortune to serve as Co-chairman of the Program Committee with Dr. Edgar L. Lowell, Director, John Tracy Clinic, Los Angeles.

The New School Year

The opening of the 1963-64 school year again set a new record for enrollment with 252 children, an increase of 22 over last year.

Among the changes, William J. Hoover resigned as housefather to accept employment in Frederick, while Miss Carol Ann Gillespie resigned to become a housemother at the American School for the Deaf. Mrs. Erica Free, a primary housemother, resigned to accept other employment in Frederick.

Miss Carmen Slaven, formerly a housemother in the Arkansas School for the Deaf, is now serving in the same capacity in our school.

Faculty Changes

Mrs. Ona Howell, primary teacher, left to teach at the Tennessee School for the Deaf. Mrs. Mildred Hartwell, a primary teacher with us for two years, retired. Mrs. Gertrude Cheng and Miss Priscilla Arthur resigned to pursue employment elsewhere. It seemed as though we faced an impossible task in filling these vacancies, and to also find teachers for four additional teaching positions. Thanks in Educationally Speaking . . .

KENNETH R. LANE

It is always pleasant to look back on growth and progress. Academically, the school year 1962-63 showed many gains. Looking at the honor rolls instituted last fall, a fine note of growth can be seen. Parents will be interested in learning that four honor rolls offered our children four areas in which to meet success in addition to the social and physical growth areas. The academic honor roll required a grade average of B with no grades of D or F. The vocational honor roll also required a grade of B or better. The library honor roll required four acceptable, written book reports each quarter. Emphasis was placed upon the citizenship honor roll which required at least two Excellent rating with no marks of Need Improvement. It is interesting to note that growth in each area paralleled the growth in citizenship. It should also be noted that each child has an opportunity to achieve success in one or more of these areas.

Statistically

Quarters	1st	2nd	3rd	4th
Academic	11%	14%	14%	18%
Vocational	22%	31%	38%	48%
Library	*	30%	46%	51%
Citizenship	8%	21%	25%	35%
All Four	4%	7%	4%	10%

*Changes from tri-semester to quarter honors resulted in first quarter omission.

Statistically, growth can be seen in reviewing the number of students achieving honor roll status. After the fourth quarter honor rolls were compiled, it was found that only nine students did not succeed in making any of the honor rolls during the year. In many cases, one more book report, one more E rating or one more B grade was the reason.

There was a 7% jump in students making the academic honor roll last school year. 11% made the list the first quarter and the list grew to 18% of the student body by year's end. The vocational honor roll grew from 22% to 48%, and the library honor roll jumped from 30% to 51%. Citizenship honors leaped from 8% to 35% for the year, an increase of 27%. Noting the 26% jump vocationally and the 21% jump in library honors, one can see the parallel with the citizenship rankings.

Four-Four Club

On honors night, four of our students received pins engraved 4-4 Club. These pins signify that these four students made all four honor rolls four straight times during the year. Alex and Hilda Richey, Stephanie Tag and Bobby Padden received this recognition. During the second quarter last year, 9 students achieved the four honor roll distinction. The fourth quarter showed 12 on all four honor rolls. Compared to five students the first quarter, this also gives an indication of hard work and devotion to being all-around students.

Looking ahead

In anticipation of an even better year this year, it is good to note the extra services and arrangements for 1963-64. We shall have two more teachers in the Intermediate & Advanced Department building and a full time librarian. A few building changes allow a double room for Science instruction with a stainless steel sink to facilitate experimenting. There will be instruction in Modern Mathematics and in Library Science in addition to the Science laboratory. Crafts will be introduced. The new physical education set-up of last year has made many more plans for a broader program. New personnel also aid us in making more homogeneous groupings.

Standing Invitation

There is always a standing invitation to parents to visit at any time, to observe classes and to discuss pupils with teachers and the administration. Parents' Day this year is scheduled for November 15. An interesting program is planned. Come see us.

AROUND THE CAMPUS . . . With K. Kritz

Here we all are, back at school after a summer crammed with various activities. It was interesting swapping stories of vacation trips, summer schools, jobs, and so forth. The summer really seemed short of most of us.

It was good to be welcomed back to the old school. Old??? We were both surprised and pleased to see so many new things and two new dormitories well on their way waiting us—new teachers, new equipment, completion. These of course are needed since our school continues to swell with new students session after session. Graduates of only a few years ago are amazed when they return to visit the old school.

This year's student body surprised the teachers and the staff with their eagerness to learn. Wasting no time, they settled right down to their studies and school was off to a good start. We hope that this eagerness will not wear off, but will continue throughout the entire school year. If so, we should see some remarkable gains in academic and social achievement. These are our goals.

Once more we are taking advantage of the Captioned Films program. The government has added quite a number of films to the program. This makes a more varied program possible. Our first film was "Bornie Scotland." Children from all three departments enjoyed this since it was a Laurel and Hardy comedy.

Our all-school picnic proved to be as popular as ever. This year we were lucky to have pleasant weather so that the students could enjoy games in the afternoon. The older students had baseball, kickball, and volley ball on the new athletic field. The younger students had supervised games under the direction of their teachers. After play, we met with families and friends of the school and made quick work of a delicious supper prepared by Mrs. Savage and her staff. When we had finished eating, Mr. David Hagan, a magician, presented a most enjoyable program. We are still trying to figure out some of his tricks. This annual picnic is a tradition of the old school which we are happy to see carried on.

The first meeting of the Ely Literary Society was under the direction of Mr. Gutin. It was an organizational and planning session. We will bring you more news of activities later.

Mr. Gutin was also in charge of the first assembly this fall. It was entitled "Vacations." Students volunteered to share vacation experiences. These were very interesting.

This year the student council has been re-organized. It is now composed of the 15 oldest boys and the 15 oldest girls. They will act as dormitory councils and will aid in controlling and monitoring the dorms. They will meet once a month for general discussions and problem solving. At present, they have started a contest to see which dormitory can be kept the cleanest and the most attractive. This is good preparation for the time when students will be moving into the new dormitories.

The Boy Scout and Explorers have had an organizational meeting. Mr. Barrett is the Scout Master again. Mr. Clack, one of our new teachers, is the new advisor for the Explorers. Assistant Scouters are John Ritter and David Machin. The first meeting was given over to setting up new patrols. The Scouts will meet twice a month and have made plans for a rather full year. They should have many rewarding experiences. By the way, did you know that Scout Tommy Blick won the James Kelly Service Award last spring? This is an award for character, service, and participation in activities. This year Tommy will assume responsibilities as a patrol leader.

Mr. Behrens and Mr. Barr were in charge of the first dance held this year. They were assisted by Doris Fowler, Shelley Gillis, Byron Zimmerman and Louis Allen. Students enjoyed an evening of dancing and exchanging gossip—to say nothing of the refreshments which really hit the spot.

We've about run out of news for this time. You'll hear from us again next month when we will keep you up to date on happenings at MSD. Come and visit us at school any time that you can.

Bounty always receives part of its value from the manner in which it is bestowed.

SPORTSCOPE . . . By J. Kopas

"If we could only win 2 games this year, I'd consider it a successful season." Thus spoke Sam Parker, erstwhile soccer coach at MSD. If past records indicate anything, Mr. Parker has plenty of reason for setting his sights on a two-victory year. In the past several years, the soccer fortunes at Maryland have been as bright as the successes of the New York Mets. So, in the light of other years, and no eternal optimist like Candide, Mr. Parker would consider two wins this year a cause for rejoicing.

Seven regulars from last fall's team have departed, and the schedule arranged by Athletic Director Barr lists opponents as formidable as in the past. With only two weeks' practice under their belts, the Maryland lads open the campaign September 26 at Middletown.

Co-captains this year will be veterans Milbert Jones and Larry Reedy. These two, together with promising newcomer John Roth, are expected to be mainstays of the team.

An added incentive to the players this year is the International Games for the Deaf, looming just over the horizon. The games will be held in Washington D.C. in 1965, and a squad to represent the U.S. will be selected in December, 1964. Who knows but that from the playing fields of Maryland will emerge boys who, "on other days, on other fields," may lead the U.S. deaf soccer team to victory?

Come see our boys play the game!

part to the Federal Scholarship Teacher Preparation Program, we were most fortunate in employing eight new people to fill all the vacancies existing at the beginning of the summer.

For the position of librarian, we were fortunate to have Miss Alice Andrews, an experienced teacher of the deaf from the New Jersey School, join our faculty. Miss Andrews has a B. A. Degree and special training to teach the deaf. Mr. Joseph Kopas, a graduate of Gallaudet College and former teacher at the Wisconsin School for the Deaf, is a new teacher in the advanced department. Mr. James Clack, brother of our Mrs. Margaret Yates, has his M. A. from Murray State College in Kentucky. Mr. Clack is teaching mathematics in the intermediate department.

Miss Wallace Johnson, Miss Mary Jesty Brooks, and Miss Carolyn Vander Voort received their training to teach the deaf at the South Carolina School for the Deaf, and their B. A. Degrees from Converse College. Miss Carolyn Hamlin, M. A., took her training at the Kansas School for the Deaf and at the University of Kansas Medical Center. Miss Susan Denny, M. A.,

Gallaudet College, who did her practice teaching in our school last spring, elected to accept her first teaching position with us.

We welcome these fine people to our school family, and hope they will find teaching at the Maryland School a rewarding experience.

Supt. Ambrosen Elected President of A. I. D.

Lloyd A. Ambrosen, who has been superintendent of the Maryland School for the Deaf since 1955, has been elected president of the 2,500-member American Instructors of the Deaf for a two-year term.

The election was part of the business session of the instructors held in conjunction with the International Congress on Education of the Deaf.

Mr. Ambrosen had served as co-chairman of the program for the Congress which attracted 2,200. The attendance included 400 from foreign countries including 100 from Central and South America.

The American Instructors were one of the sponsors of the International Congress which meets every four or five years. The meeting is for an exchange among educators of the latest developments in scientific, vocational, academic and technical fields in the education of the deaf and hard of hearing.

Miss Margaret Kent, principal of the Maryland School here, presented a paper to the Congress on "Teaching Of Language To Deaf Children."

The meetings were held at Gallaudet College, Washington. Mr. Ambrosen replaces Roy M. Stelle, superintendent of the New York School for the Deaf, White Plain, N. Y., as national president.

Thomas W. Osborne Honored

Thomas W. Osborne of 2200 Pamer Drive Akron 19, Ohio, received an Honorary Doctor of Letters Degree from Gallaudet College at its 99th Commencement. His diploma was signed by President Kennedy since the President of the United States traditionally signs all diplomas granted by Gallaudet College, world's only college for the deaf.

Thomas W. Osborne spent his entire career as a research chemist with the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, where he started as a junior chemist in Control and Production Laboratories (of the company) after his graduation from Gallaudet College in 1919. Several years later he was promoted to the status of Senior Analytical Chemist and Assistant to the Director of Analytical Laboratories. He then organized the first microanalytical laboratory in the Firestone Research Laboratory and became the assistant group leader, a position he held until his retirement in August 1962, after 43½ years of service with the Company.

Mr. Osborne's wife, the former Elizabeth Moss of Baltimore, graduated from the Maryland School in June 1916. Her younger sister, Helen Moss Wallace, who lives on the West Coast, is also a graduate of this school. Their father, Mr. Isaac Moss, a very successful florist in Baltimore, was for many years a valued member of our Board of Visitors, and left an endowment to the school whereby each year at commencement time, a boy and a girl receive $10.00 each for best exemplifying the Golden Rule during the year.

On our trip, we drove through Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and California.

We saw interesting things. We saw tobacco. The people cut it and hung it up to dry. They take it to a company and make cigarettes. We saw some sugar cane. People make sugar from it. We saw people picking cotton. They make cloth from the cotton. There was lots of white sand. It was like a desert. My family did not like the desert. We saw lots of cactus there. They looked funny to me.

In California we saw my sister Jane and her children. I played with the children. One day we all went to the ocean. I swam in the ocean.

We stayed in California for one week. Now we all miss Jane and the children. We had a wonderful time on our long trip to California.

18TH Quadrennial Reunion . . .

pared by Mrs. Elsie Faupel. The reading was followed by a silent prayer for our departed friends.

Mr. Rudolph Hines, president of the Maryland Association of the Deaf, started the ball rolling by asking the appointment of a 1968 reunion chairman. The assembly responded with the election of Mr. George Singer as chairman. The runner-up Robert Duley will serve as co-chairman. The two gentlemen will appoint committees and make plans for a Centennial Gift to the school.

At the reunion held in Frederick June 6, 1946, Mr. Harry Baynes, printing instructor at the Alabama School for the Deaf, moved for the creation of a 100th Anniversary Gift Fund, seconded by Uriah Shockley and adopted unanimously. Mrs. Wriede was appointed treasurer of the fund. The treasurer's report will be found on another page of this issue.

Before the meeting adjourned, Mrs. Harry Benson, mother of two well known teachers of the deaf, was honored as the oldest member of the Alumni attending the reunion. With the honor went a cash award of five dollars.

On Sunday the museum in the ancient barracks was opened to visitors. Eight ladies garbed in colorful colonial costumes acted as guides. Miss Elvira Wohlstrom, a deaf teacher at the school, was in charge. Acting as guides were Mesdames Doris Knowles, Ethel Seibly, Marie McCarthy, Evelyn Amberg, Catherine Leonard, Ruby Piper, Helen Harris Jones and Miss Barbara Haller.

After a sumptuous Sunday dinner the guests assembled on the new Athletic field for the dedication of the Creager Memorial Field. Mr. Creager and Mr. Berson did much to foster athletics at M.S.D. around the 1900's. The two made a star battery with Benson pitching and Creager receiving. It was a remarkable battery for its time and both eventually became professional ball players. Mr. Benson returned to become instructor of printing and director and coach of Athletics at M.S.D. and served well over 45 years. Mr. Creager returned as supervisor of boys for a few years. He resigned to accept a better paying position with Ox Fibre Brush Co. The new gym is now known as the Benson gymnasium, and henceforth the new athletic field will be known as the Creager Memorial Field. It was fittingly appropriate that the dedication address was made by Mr. W. W. Duvall, a school mate and close friend of the late Harry Creager.

The Sunday afternoon program called for outdoor activities in charge of Mr. James Behrens. Cash prizes were to be awarded to winners of the games. The guests found too much pleasure in meeting the late-comers and conversing with old friends, so the games were abandoned. We do not blame them.

A group picture was taken Sunday morning in front of the beautiful main building. The building has served as a background for every reunion group picture over 75 years. This is probably the last group picture to be taken in front of the main building. The old building will probably be razed to make way for a new building to fit the plans of the future.

Saturday morning we learned from Miss Hazel McCanner that Mr. George Smith, a colored cook, who has served the school well and faithfully over 39 years, was forced to retire because of ill health. An appeal was made to the Alumni and they generously responded with a purse of $86.00 for Mr. Smith. (George passed away September 9.)

Besides two excellent after dinner speakers, we had two excellent interpreters in the person of Supt. Ambrosen and Dr. Elizabeth Benson at the Saturday evening banquet. Both have a style of delivery that is clear and easily understood. Perhaps the answer lies in the fact both learned the sign language from deaf parents. Supt. Ambrosen's parents came all the way from Minnesota to attend the reunion and Dr. Elizabeth Benson's mother was also present at the reunion.

Miss Hazel McCanner, the charming and gracious school secretary, was as usual on hand to assist whenever needed and rendered valuable services to the reunion committee.

Mrs. Helen Wriede served as reunion chairman and received splendid cooperation and support from the members of the committee. Serving on the committee were Mrs. Doris Knowles, Mr. and Mrs. Uriah Shockley, Mrs. Louise Price, Messrs. Rudolph Hines, Robert Duley, Rozelle McCall, Clarence Russell, James Behrens and Glern Knode.

After a very delicious Sunday supper the guests began leaving for the long trek home with pleasant memories of a wonderful reunion.

A few days later the writer received a very complimentary letter from Supt. Ambrosen in which he said, "The reunion was a wonderful affair. I was particularly pleased with the conduct and decorum of every one present."—Helen Wriede

Those lazy days of Summer have come and gone. It was a marvelous Summer, those many pleasant trips to the seashore to enjoy the sand and surf, and the numerous trips to various places of interest as was reported by our readers. We wish to take this means to thank those who sent us the many beautiful "vacation" cards for remembering us. From all reports our readers had "a marvelous vacation" but the consensus was unanimous that "There is no place like home."
