

New Oyster House, BY AN OLD HAND.

The subscriber, who has had an experience of upwards of twenty-five years in the serving up of oysters, has taken the

OLD BILLIARD ROOM,

(in the rear of Mr. Raoder's Tavern, lately occupied by A. Gore, Esq. entrance in the ally, between Mr. Raoder's, and the shoe store of Mr J. W. Prichard,) fitted it up, and is now prepared to furnish

FRIED OR STEWED OYSTERS, to order, in superior style, at the usual rates.

← TERRAPINS served up when they can be procured.

He respectfully requests those gentlemen who formerly patronised him, and the public generally, to give him a call, and prove his skill for themselves.

SAMUEL PERKINS.

N B. He will cut hair, and set Razors.
