THE ENDOWMENT FUND.

The attention of members of the Society is again called to the urgent need for an adequate endowment fund. Our possessions are wonderful, but lack of means has prevented their proper exploitation, so that they are largely inaccessible to students. Rare items of Maryland interest frequently escape us because no funds are available for their purchase. A largely increased sustaining membership will help somewhat, but an endowment is a fundamental need. Legacies are of course welcomed, but present-day subscriptions will bring immediate results. This volume of the Archives is now ready for distribution. The attention of members of the Society who do not now receive the Archives is called to the liberal provision made by the Legislature, which permits the Society to furnish to its own members copies of the volumes, as they are published from year to year, at the mere cost of paper, presswork, and binding. This cost is at present fixed at one dollar, at which price members of the Society may obtain one copy of each volume published. For additional copies, a price of three dollars is charged.

This volume carries on the legislative records of the Province for three years of petty bickering and faultfinding between the Governor and the representatives of the people. In 1745, several popular bills were vetoed by Governor Bladen who had lost his hold upon the Assembly and, forgetting his dignity, scolded the Delegates. On their part, they were fussily insistent upon their privileges. The main object of summoning the new Assembly in 1745 was to secure an appropriation for the garrison at Louisbourg on Cape Breton Island—a fortress recently brilliantly captured by the New England provincial troops and the British fleet. The Lower House tacked on to a bill for this purpose a provision for a Provincial Agent in London. The Upper House denounced this tacking and, as the Lower House refused to recede from its position, the bill failed. The proceedings as to three contested elections are of interest, and a large number of yea and nay votes are recorded, which afford a method of ascertaining that the Eastern Shore and Annapolis generally belonged to the Proprietary Party, while Southern Maryland was Anti-Proprietary. In March, 1745/6, another new Assembly met, summoned because of the Jacobite Rebellion in England and of the fear that the Iroquois might shift their alliance to the French, but nothing was done.

The Assembly again met in June, 1746 and failed to pass bills for the purchase of arms and ammunition, for the regulation of officer's fees, and for the administration of bankrupt's affairs, owing to dissension. Ordinaries were directed to be taxed to provide funds to carry on the war in Canada. In November a brief session passed a law for the purchase of provisions for the troops raised in the Province. Governor Samuel Ogle returned to Maryland and, succeeding Bladen as governor, met with the Assembly in May 1747. A long session of nearly two months resulted in the passage of twenty-eight acts, some of which were of very considerable importance: such as an assize law for trial of matters of fact in the county where they may arise and a tobacco inspection law, which was included in a measure for the regulation of official fees. A tax was also laid on tobacco exported so as to purchase arms and ammunition and another tax for the use of the Governor. The sale of strong liquors, the running of horse races and the tumultuous concourse of negroes during the Quaker Yearly Meetings on West and Tred Avon Rivers were forbidden. A two day session in December 1747, was fruitless, as the Delegates refused to make an appropriation for the war. At each session, the question of setting apart the western part of the Province as Frederick County came up, but was not yet settled.

A brief appendix contains, among other documents, a petition from Elkridge, showing how little men had a vision of Baltimore Town's growth, and a quasi passport to four Germans wishing to return to Europe for a visit.

Since the history of a Palatinate is so largely made by the relatives and friends of its rulers, it may not be amiss to present some fresh genealogical materials bearing upon the Lords Baltimore of Maryland and their kinsmen overseas. The usual way to begin a search in the field of English genealogy, is to make an examination of the wills deposited in Somerset House, London. A number of these, bearing upon Lady Calvert's history will follow, revealing some interesting facts about the Darnalls of Hertfordshire and their kinship to the Proprietary. It is intended also to publish some of the wills of the Lords Baltimore, several of them strangely enough for the first time.

The Will of JOHN MYNNE, dated 11 July, 1540.

JOHN MYNNE, ESQUIRE.

Inquisition taken at the Guildhall, 8 June, 35 Henry VIII [1543], before John Cootes, knight, Mayor and escheator, after the death of John Mynne, esq., by the oath of Hugh Church, Oswald Dokeray, John Lewtt, Richard Madox, William Botesham, Robert Johnson, John Wrnham (†) John Watson, Ralph Harbotell, Henry Nortrich, Thomas Ellys, John Barton, John Samson (†), William Bull, John Ramsey, Robert Reason, John Clark, William Hillyard, Henry Robertes, Robert Tayllor, Christopher Nicholson, John Horsepole, and Freman Overton, who say that before the death of John Mynne, Richard Andewre, of Hales, gent., and Leonard Chamberlayne, of Woodstock, in the county of Oxford, esq., were seised of 1 capital messuage, and 4 tenements thereto adjoining, lying in the parish of St. Botolph without Aldrichegate in the suburbs of London. So seised, the said Richard and Leonard by force of a licence from the King under his Great Seal of England, dated 20 June, 34 Henry VIII, by their charter, dated 4 July, 34 Henry VIII [1542], granted to the said John Mynne and Alice his wife (who still survives) all the said premises, by the name of a capital messuage in the tenure of the said John Mynne, in the parish of St. Botolph without Aldrichegate, lately belonging to the monastery of St. Bartholomew next Westmysthefeld, now dissolved, and 4 tenements thereto adjoining: to hold to the said John and Alice and to the heirs of the said John for ever. The said premises are held of the King in chief by the service of the 20th part of a knight's fee and by the yearly rent of 8s., and are worth per ann., clear, £3 12s. John Mynne died 14 December, 34 Henry VIII [1542]; Edward Mynne is his son and next heir: he was 8 years old on the 22nd day of June last past.

John Mynn's family circle may be traced in the following abstract of his father's will, given in Carthew's Hundred of Launditch, Norfolkshire, Vol. II p. 484; Nicholas Myn of Lyttyll Fraunsham and London, (dated 21 March, 1530; pr. 5 Oct., 1530), to John Myn his son and Alice his wife and their daughter; to Henry Myn, youngest son; to daughters Agnes Salmon, Alice Chapman and Agnes Sparrowe [sic]; to Maude Myn, wife of Edward; to each child of Edward Myn; to Nicholas Myn, son of Edward Myn; to William Myn, son of Nicholas, testator's late son; to redemer, to our Ladye Sainte Marye and all the holly company of heven my boddie to be buried in christen buriall where hit fortune me to deceace. Item I give and bequeathe to the high Alter of sainte buttolfe churche withoute Aldriche gate London

John Myn, testator's brother; to “Mayster Henry Myn my son.” Disposes of lands in Little Fransham, Great Fransham, West Bradenham and Skerning (Norfolkshire). The brother Henry named in John Mynn's will was an Eton A. M. of 1519. “Henry Mynn went away A. M. from the college; became steward to Nicholas West, Bishop of Ely and Rector of Balsham, Co. Cambridge. He was one of the executors of that bishop, by which office he grew in a short time very rich. He gave over all pastoral charge and lived as a lawyer at Norwich; yet while he resided there he supported many poor scholars at this university at his own expense,” (Harwood's Alumni Etonensis.). John Mynn's sister Alice married Alexander Chapman. (Dashwood-Bulwer V. of Norfolk, Vol. I, p. 94.).

There is reason to suspect that John Mynn's widow Alice remarried Francis Southwell, and that she was the daughter of William Standish. In 1545 there was delivered to Wm. Standysh a grant of the Lordship or Manor of Gaulden [or Garldon or Garmelden, Parish of Tolland] and Gaulden Wood, Taunton Priory, Somersetshire, to hold for life with remainder to Francis Southwell and Alice his wife and their heirs with remainder in default to the right heirs of John Mynn deceased. Francis Southwell was holding Garldon or Garmelden circa 1565. (Collinson's Somersetshire, Vol. III, pp. 265, 292.). In 1546, Francis Southwell is named as keeper of a chief messuage in the King's hands by the minority of Edward Mynne son and heir of John Mynne deceased, with wardship and marriage of the heir. (Letters and Papers of Henry VIII, Vol. 21, part I, p. 570; Vol. 20, part I, p. 122.) As Gaulden was held by John Mynn's son George at his death in 1581, it would seem that Francis and Alice Southworth left no heirs, and that John Mynne's heirs inherited. The wife of Francis Southwell was Alice, daughter of William Standish. After her death he married, 1560, Barbara dau. of John Spencer of Rendlesham, Suffolk, wid. of Richard Catelyn, by whom he had issue (Dashwood-Bulwer V. of Norfolk, Vol. I, p. 125; Le Neve's Pedigrees of the Knights, p. 161). It will be noticed that George Mynn administers the estate of his father John Mynn in 1561, his mother Alice being then deceased.

The inquisition upon the estate of Edward Mynne, gentleman, is given here (Index Library, Vol. 24, p. 148, London Inquisitions): Inquisition taken at the Guildhall, 30 March, 3 and 4 Philip and Mary [1557], before Thomas Offeley, knight, Mayor and escheator, after the death of Edward Mynne gent., by the oath of Robert Rosse, Thomas Kendall, Thomas Blunte, Thomas Bullok, William Cheke, George Forman, Robert Dunkyn, for tythes negligently forgoten iijs. iiijd. Item to the same churche toward the repracoñ thereof iijs. iiijd. Item to the fraternitie of the trynytie within the saide churche vjs. viijd. Item I give to every one of my daughters xxti marke to be paied vnto them at the daye of their marriage. And I give unto EDWARDE my sonne godes blessinge and myne and that the coñnon lawe giveth hym after his mothers deceace and my standinge cupp Gilte that to be deliverede unto Simon Burton, John Wysdome, William Androes, Thomas Howe, Richard Richardson and John Febrydge, who say that before the death of the said Edward Mynne, one John Mynne, deceased, and Alice his wife, who still survives, father and mother of the said Edward, were seised of 1 capital messuage, with 4 tenements thereto adjoining, situate in the parish of St. Botolph without Aldrichegate, London. The said Alice survived the said John and is still seised of the said premises, which are held of the king and Queen in chief, by the service of the 20th part of a knight's fee, and by the yearly rent of 8s., and are worth per ann., clear, £3 12s. Od. None of the said premises, beyond the reversion of the same after the death of the said Alice when it shall happen, came into the hands of the said King and Queen by the death of the said John Mynne, by reason of the minority of the said Edward Mynne. Edward Mynne died 14 July, 5 Edward VI [1551]; George Mynne is his brother and next heir, and was aged 21 years on St. Valentine's day last past.

John and Alice Mynne's daughters, one of whom at least was born before her grandfather's will in 1530, were (order not known); (1). Susan, who m. John Darnall and d. soon leaving a son Henry Darnall of Bird's Place, Essenden, Herts, who is said by Wilson Miles Cary in his notes to be the ancestor of the Maryland Darnalls (Md. Hist. Soc. Mss. Coll.); (2). Elizabeth who m. Roger Lawrence and had four daughters, one of whom, Susan, became the second wife of John Darnall (Clutterbuck's Herts, Vol. II, pp. 201, 206; Victoria Hist. of Hertfordshire, Vol. III, p. 466, which repeats the error of calling Elizabeth's husband William. The M. I. however of Elizabeth Vernon positively names Roger as her grandfather, of which later); (3). Anna who m. Richard Boteler, of whom later; (4). Perhaps others.

The farm called Fitz Johns is held of the Queen as of her said manor, but by what service is not known, and is worth per ann., clear, £14. George Mynn died at Hertingfordbury 20 May last past; the said Robert Mynne is his son and next heir, and was aged 3 years on the 6th day of April last past. The said Elizabeth late the wife of the said George still survives.

The Monumental Inscription in St. Mary's Church, Hertingfordbury, Herts reads; "Here lies the bodies of George Mynn of Hertingfordbury, Esq. and Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Sir Thomas Wroth of Durance in Enfield in Middlesex, Knt.; they had issue three sons and three daughters. The said George Mynn departed this life the 20th of May in the year of our Lord 1581; his wife Elizabeth taking afterwards to her second husband, Nicholas Boteler, Esq., and she died the 14th of August 1613 [or 1614]." A nephew of Sir Thomas Wroth, Richard Wroth of Younges, Herts, married Kynborough Hawley, aunt of Jerome Hawley of New Brentford, Middlesex, and Maryland, whose second wife Eleanor Brereton (wid. of Thomas Courtney and mother of Sir William Courtney) is so pleasantly spoken of in the annals of early Maryland (Betham’s Baronetage, Vol. IV, p. 299; V. of Devon, Harleian, p. 76; V. of London, Harleian, Vol. II, p. 374; Archives of Maryland, Vol. 10, p. 444; Md. Hist. Soc. Fund Pub., Vol. 28, pp. 180, 181). Elizabeth (Wroth) Mynn’s second husband, Nicholas Boteler of Netherhill, Essex, was the brother of Richard Boteler who married George Mynn’s sister Ann, and of Margaret, wife of Nicholas Bristowe of Ayot St. Lawrence, Herts. The Hertfordshire Mynns, Darnalls, Bristowes and Botelers are bound together by almost countless interrelationships. Nicholas Boteler, after Elizabeth’s death, married (2) Ann, daughter of James Houghton of Wormley, Herts (she being the widow Kenolmarsh) and (3) Greville, dau. of Sir Edward Greville. It will

The sons of George Mynn and Elizabeth Wroth were; (1) Robert, of whom later; (2) John, to whom was willed Gaulden, Somersetshire, and of whom the writer knows nothing further; (3) a son, unborn at the making of his father’s will, but who was perhaps George Mynne of Woodcote, Surrey, whose estate was eventually left to Lord Baltimore, and of whom later. George Mynn’s daughters were; (1) Mary, (2) Susan, (3) Ann, b. 20 Nov., 1579, if the computation on her monument is correct; d. 8 Aug., 1622, buried in St. Mary’s church, Hertingfordbury, Herts; m. 22 Nov., 1604 to George Calvert (Rec. of St. Peter’s Cornhill, London, p. 244).

4 Ann Boteler was a daughter of John and Alice Myn of Little Fransham, Norfolk, of London, and of Hertingfordbury, Herts. Her husband Richard Boteler was the son of Sir John Boteler of Woodhall, Herts, and Grizel Roche (of Wixley, Yorkshire, as shown by recent discoveries noted in Chesters of Chichely, pp. 159, 160). The Monumental Inscription of the Botelers in the Watton-at-Stone Parish Church, Herts, is in Latin and, translated, reads; "Here lies the bodies of Richard Boteler of Stapleford in the County of Hertfordshire, Esq., who died 5 May, 1614; and Anna his wife one of the daughters of John Mynn of Hertingfordbury, Esq., who died 12 Oct., A. D. 1619; and Elizabeth, only daughter of the same Richard and Anna, wife of Rowland Graveley of Graveley, Esq., who died before the parents, ? Feb. 1600, without issue." (Cussan’s Herts, Vol. II, Broadwater section, p. 182; Clutterbuck’s Herts, Vol. II, pp. 476, 479.) Some of the relationships mentioned by Ann Boteler are explained by other wills which are to follow and which will show this lady to be particularly inaccurate as a genealogist.

The Will of GEORGE CALVERT, LORD BALTIMORE,* dated 14 April, 1632.

“IN THE NAME OF GOD AMEN I SIR GEORGE

*In preparing the Calvert notes hereafter given, the writer has made free of the privilege of using the material collected by Mr. Charles Weathers Bump (1872-1908) of Baltimore, who at the date of his untimely death was about to write a history of Maryland based largely upon a study of the Calvert family. These notes cover an exhaustive survey of the subject and represent the labor of years. Mr. Bump gave much assistance in the compiling of the excellent article on the Lords Baltimore in Gibb’s Peerage as will be seen by the footnote therein. The will of CALVERT Knight LORD BALTIMORE being sicke of bodie
but well in minde doe hereby declare my last will, and Testament to be first I doe bequeath my soule to God, and my bodie to the ground Item I doe bequeath my lands, goods, and Chattells of what nature soever to my eldest sonne CICILL
CALVERT either in England, or Ireland, and elsewhere Item
I doe give, and bequeath to my daughter HELLEN CALVERT the some of Twelve hundred pounds to be paied unto hir out

George Calvert, Lord Baltimore, is here reprinted for the sake of com-28, pp. 48, 49, 50 (Vol. I of the published Calvert Papers). The eleven children of Sir George Calvert and Ann Mynne are named in the amiable epitaph which the devoted husband composed for his wife's tomb in Hertingfordbury Church, Herts (Clutterbuck's Hertfordshire, Vol. II, p. 205; Md. Hist. Mag., Vol. II, pp. 141, 142). They were (the order given being merely approximate); (1) Cecil, b. 8 Aug., 1605; bap. 2 Mar.
1605/6 at Bexley, Kent (Genealogist, new series, Vol. I, p. 59, which mistakes his father's name) ; buried at St. Giles in the Fields, Middlesex, 7 Dec., 1675 (Gibb's Peerage); m. (marriage settlement, 20 Mar., 1627/8, in Md. Hist. Soc. Mss. Coll., Calvert Papers No. 39) to Ann Arundell of whom later; (2) Ann, bap. 1 Apr., 1607 (Rec. of Kensington Church), goddaughter of Ann Mynne Boteler who was also Lady Calvert's godmother; m., before 1627 perhaps, William Peaseley; living 1672 (*Md.
Hist. Soc. First Pub.,* vol. 28, pp. 21, 266, 300); No record of any issue has been found. William Peaseley used for his seal the lion rampant of the Peaseleys of County Kildare, Ireland, one time of Oxfordshire mentioned in her father's will or that of her brother George. She may have been one of the children lost at sea with her stepmother, circa 1630; (4) Elizabeth, bap. 18 Nov., 1609 (Rec. of St. Martin's in the Fields, London, p. 39), who may also have been lost at sea; (5) Leonard, whose birth date is a little uncertain. He was surely his father's second son, but George, Lord Baltimore, in making his will 14 Apr., 1632, says first that Leonard is under 21, and later corrects himself.
This indecision may indicate that his twenty-first birthday was about 1632, and that he was b. circa 1610/11. Leonard Calvert d. in Maryland in June, 1647, leaving, probably in England or Ireland, a "son and heir" and a daughter Ann, both of whom came later to Maryland and married.
Their mother has not been identified, but the drastic laws of the day against Catholics in England both as to marriages and inheritances might fully explain the absence of the lady's name and the failure of Leonard Calvert to mention his wife and children in uttering his nuncupative will (Archives of Md., Vol. IV, pp. 313, 314). There has long been a tradition that Leonard Calvert married a Brent in England circa 1643/4, but the theory that she was Ann, sister of the famous Margaret Brent, can hardly be accepted if she was baptised 7 Aug., 1637 as stated in the Va. Mag. of Hist., Vol. 14, p. 100, Vol. 15, p. 196. The Brent tradition probably will prove to be correct in some as yet undetermined way, but it is surely premature to make this Ann Brent the mother of William and Ann Calvert. (6) George, "third son," bapt. 8 July, 1613 (Rec. of St. Martin's in the Fields, London, p. 44); w. dated at St. Mary's, Md., 10 July, 1634 and proved 19 Jan., 1634/5, of whom later. (7) Francis, living 20 Mar., 1627/8 (Md. Hist. Soc. MSS. Coll., Calvert Papers No. 39, being Cecil Calvert's marriage settlement), but not mentioned in his father's will, 1632. He too may have been lost at sea circa 1630; (8) Grace, d. 15 Aug. 1672; m. circa 1627, Sir Robert Talbot of Cartown, County Kildare, Ireland, by whom she had Sir William Talbot; Mary, w. of James Nugent (Lodge's Peerage of Ireland, Vol. I, p. 131); Frances, w. of Richard Talbot; and other children. Grace Talbot has had large numbers of descendants, among them the present Lord Talbot (Prendegast's Cromwellian Settlement, 2nd Ed., p. 384; Burke's Peerage, current editions); (9) Helen or Ellin, bapt. 5 Dec., 1615 (Rec. of St. Martin's in the Fields, London, p. 48); living 1655 when she and her husband were "transplanted" into Connaught (Hist. MSS. Comm., Ormond MSS., 1st Series, 1899, Vol. II, p. 160); m. James Talbot, Esq. of Ballyconnell, Co. Cavan and Castle Rubey, Co. Roscommon, son of Walter Talbot Esq. of Ballyconnell, Co. Cavan, by whom she had (Col.) George Talbot of Castle Rubey and Maryland (Hist. MSS. Comm., Ormond MSS., 2nd Series, 1904, Vol. III, p. 148; for Col. George Talbot's issue see Crofton Memoirs, and Archdalls's Lodge's Peerage of Ireland, Vol. VI, p. 165); (10) John bapt. 31 Jan., 1618/9; buried 1 Feb. 1618/9 (Rec. of St. Martin's in the Fields, London, pp. 54, 178); In Feb. 1618/9, Sir George Calvert told King James that his wife "was a good woman and had brought him youngest sonne PHILLIPP CALVERT the some of three hundred pounds to be paiied unto him att the age of one, and Twenty, And for his educacoû and maintenance in the meane Tyme I doe order and require my eldest sonne CICILL CALVERT to take care, and be att the charge thereof. Item I doe give unto my daughter ANNE PEASELEY and my daughter GRACE TALBOT each of them a Crosse of Gould of the valew of ffortie shillings a peece, And likewise to my sonne in Lawe ROBERT TALBOTT, and WILLIAM PEASELEY Two other crosses of Gould of the same valew to be given unto ten children and would assure his majesty that she was not a wife with a witness.” (Birch, Court and Times of James I, Vol. II, pp. 142, 143); (11) Henry, fifth son, b. after 20 Feb., 1618/9, who d. at sea or abroad unmarried, before 25 Nov., 1635, when adm. was granted to Cecil, Lord Baltimore, his brother (Md. Hist. Soc. Mss. Coll., Calvert Papers No. 110, being the letter of adm., in Latin), and of whom the writer knows nothing further.

George, Lord Baltimore, had a second wife, Joan or Johanna, whose life as his Lady was a series of adventures, and by whom he had at least one child, though more are suggested by an early manuscript which will be quoted presently. He was; (12) Philip, b. before 20 March, 1627/8, (when he was named in Cecil Calvert’s marriage settlement), possibly in County Wexford, Ireland where his parents went to live before 17 Sept., 1625 (Hist. Mss. Comm., 1906, Franciscan Mss., p. 81); d. in Maryland after 13 Dec., 1682 without issue (Md. Hist. Soc. Mss. Coll., Calvert Papers, No. 528); m. (1), in England bef. 1656 when he and his wife “immigrated,” (Rec. at Land Office, Annapolis), Anne Wolseley, dau. of Sir Thomas Wolseley of Wolseley, Staffordshire, and Helen Broughton. Philip Calvert m. (2), Jane Sewell, stepdaughter of his nephew, Charles, Lord Baltimore, of whom later. Joan, Lady Baltimore’s maiden name eludes us but there are unexplained family intimacies with the Philip Darnalls, with the Brents and with the Yorkshire Copleys which may point in her direction. Of her death by shipwreck, we find but one account and it therefore seems important enough to quote. It occurs in a fragment of unknown origin among the papers in Sir Hans Sloane’s Collection in the British Museum in London, and is numbered 3662, pp. 24-6 and dated 1670. Sir Hans had many correspondents in the colonies and 3662 is conceivably a tract from one of them, perhaps Thomas Trousdale of Maryland who is listed among the letter writers. The interesting narrative is listed in Samuel Ayscough’s Catalogue and has often been referred to by different names. The following excerpt is dated 1629 in the margin, and since the next marginal date is 1631, we must infer that

HOW MARYLAND BECAME A SOVEREIGN STATE.

Wm. L. Marbury.

THE MEANING AND VALUE OF STATE SOVEREIGNTY.

From the day that Leonard Calvert with his gallant band of adventurers landed upon the shores of St. Marys, Maryland was a State in all save name.

What constitutes a State?

A State in the true sense of the term is not a mere piece of territory. It is not a mere aggregation of people. In the celebrated cases of Texas vs. White, 7 Wallace 700, and Lane County vs. Oregon, in the same volume, the Supreme Court of the United States defines a “State” as being a “political community of free citizens occupying a territory of defined boundaries under a Government sanctioned and endowed by a written constitution; * * * and endowed with all the functions essential to separate and independent existence.”

The Constitution of the original State of Maryland is to be found in the Charter granted by King Charles I of England to Cecilius Calvert, Baron of Baltimore. Article VII of that Charter reads as follows:

“VII. And forasmuch as We have about made and ordained the aforesaid now Baron of Baltimore, the true Lord and Proprietary of the whole Province aforesaid, Know Ye therefore further, that We for Us, our heirs and successors, do grant unto the said now baron, (in whose fidelity, prudence, justice, and provident circumspection of mind, We repose the greatest confidence) and to his heirs, for the good and happy government of the said Province, free, full and absolute power, by the tenor of these presents, to ordain, make and enact, Laws, of what kind soever, according to their sound discretions, whether relating to the public state of the said Province, or the private utility of individuals, of and with the advice, assent, and approbation of the free men of the same Province, or of the greater part of them, or of their delegates or deputies, whom We will shall be called together for the framing of Laws, when, and as often as need shall require, by the aforesaid now Baron of Baltimore, and his heirs, and in the form which shall seem best to him or them, and the same to publish under the seal of the aforesaid now Baron of Baltimore and his heirs, and duly to execute the same upon all persons, for the time being, within the said Province."

The right and the authority of the King of England to grant such a Charter as this, has never been questioned. Under the Constitution of England and the old feudal system, the title to all newly acquired territory was vested in the Crown, so that the King had the constitutional right to make grants of this territory to whomsoever he pleased and on such conditions as he might impose.

It will be apparent at once from any inspection of this Maryland Charter that it was most liberal in its terms. In fact it could scarcely have been more so.

In addition to the clause, which we have above quoted, there was a clause conferring upon the Baron of Baltimore all the powers which the Bishop of Durham exercised in the County Palatine of Durham. As has been fully explained by Mr. Hall in "The Maryland Palatinate," the effect of this provision of the Charter was to confer upon Lord Baltimore Vice-Regal authority. He was in fact a King in his own domain, so far as local matters were concerned, but owed allegiance to the King of England as the ultimate sovereign.
As shown by Mr. Hall all the writs of the Courts in Maryland ran or were issued in the name of the Baron of Baltimore, whereas in the other colonies they were issued in the name of the King of England or the King of Great Britain, etc.
Undoubtedly all those provisions of the Charter above mentioned, whereby power was conferred upon the Baron of Baltimore "by and with the consent of the "free men" of the Colonies or their deputies to "enact laws of what kind soever according to their sound discretion, whether relating to the public state of the said province or the private utility of individuals," was made so liberal for the purpose of making Maryland attractive to the lovers of civil liberty and thus ensuring the settlement of the colony.

Even more remarkable and vitally important are the provisions of Article X of the Charter, which reads as follows:

"X. We will also, out of our more abundant grace, for Us, our heirs and successors, do firmly charge, constitute, ordain and command that the said Province be of our allegiance; and that all and singular the subjects and liege-men of us, our heirs and successors, transplanted, or hereafter to be transplanted, into the Province aforesaid, and the children of them, and others their descendants, whether already born there, or hereafter to be born, be and shall be natives and liege-men of us, our heirs and successors, of our kingdom of England and Ireland; and in all things shall be held, treated, reputed, and esteemed as the faithful liege-men of Us, our heirs and successors, born within our kingdom of England; also lands, tenements, revenues, services, and other hereditaments whatsoever, within our kingdom of England, and other our dominions, to inherit, or otherwise purchase, receive, take, have, hold, buy and possess, and the same to use and enjoy, and the same to give, sell, alien, and bequeath: and likewise all privileges, franchises and liberties of this our Kingdom of England, freely, quietly and peaceably to have and possess, and the same may use and enjoy in the same manner as our liege-men born, or to be born within our said kingdom of England, without impediment, molestation, vexation, impeachment, or grievance of us, or any of our heirs or successors; any statute, act, ordinance, or provision to the contrary thereof, notwithstanding."

It would seem very clear from this that when the men of Maryland, prior to their final separation from Great Britain, protested that the acts of the British King and Parliament which deprived them, the people of Maryland, of such rights as the right of trial by a jury of the vicinage, immunity from taxes, except such as might be levied by their own representatives, and other long established "rights of Englishmen," were unconstitutional and void, they had full warrant for their contention in this provision of the Charter.

Article XXII of the Charter contains the further significant provision that in case any—

"doubts or questions should arise concerning the true sense and meaning of any word, clause, or sentence contained in this our present Charter, we will charge and command that interpretation to be applied, only and in all things, and in all Courts and judicatories whatsoever to obtain which shall be judged to be the more beneficial, profitable and favorable to the aforesaid now Baron of Baltimore, his heirs and assigns."

Very soon after the establishment of the colony, acting in pursuance of authority conferred upon him, or to speak more accurately, in performance of the duty imposed on him by this provision of the Charter, Lord Baltimore caused his brother, the then Proprietary Governor, to summon the "free men" of the colony to attend at St. Marys for the purpose of enacting such laws as might be necessary for the well being of the inhabitants.

As the number of colonists increased so as to make it impracticable for them all to assemble, various political divisions were formed, counties, hundreds, etc., from which delegates were sent to the Assembly at St. Marys.
This Assembly soon began to function in the same way as did the Parliament of England. At first Lord Baltimore made the contention that under this provision of the Charter exclusive right to initiate all laws was vested in him, as the King of France initiated all laws enacted by the Parliament of Paris.

This contention, however, was promptly and vigorously denied by the "free men" of the colony, who insisted that under the proper construction of the Charter each one of their representatives or delegates in the Assembly had as much right to propose laws as had the Lord Proprietary, and Lord Baltimore seems to have finally yielded the point.

This appears to have been the first exhibition of that spirit of independence, and what is more to the purpose, of that capacity for self government on the part of the people of Maryland which ultimately made Maryland a Sovereign State.

These "Free Men" well deserved the title.

They were no mere dreamers or theorists.

They seemed to realize as Professor Sumner says in his essay entitled "Liberty and Responsibility," "civil liberty is not a matter of phrases (such as, e. g. "hundred percent Americanism &c), or resolutions, but it is a matter of institutions," and the institution which is most essential for the preservation of civil liberty is that which we are accustomed to call the Right of Local Self Government.

No State is entitled to call itself "A Sovereign State" whose people do not possess this right.

If the men of Maryland had failed in this first controversy with Lord Baltimore, and had yielded to him, the exclusive right to initiate laws, Maryland would never have been a self governing dominion, or as we would say in the current phrase of the day, a "Free State." On the contrary the government of Maryland would soon have become an absolute monarchy, in fact if not in name, similar to the Government of France under the Bourbon Kings.

Some years ago Mr. Elihu Root in a very remarkable speech, which did not seem to arouse any public interest at the time, called the attention of his fellow Senators to the fact that there was a time in the history of France when the French Kings were not absolute monarchs.

On the contrary the Parliament of Paris was the law making body and it was composed of representatives of the various estates of the realm. Without the sanction of the Parliament of Paris no decree of the King could become law; and in its early history, that Parliament was a deliberative body.

The King, however, had the sole right to initiate or suggest laws. The laws, which he suggested, were put in the form of decrees, subject to the approval of the Parliament, and they were generally deliberated upon and approved or rejected by Parliament in the exercise of its own judgment.

In the course of time, however, the Kings of France acquired the habit of complaining to the people that Parliament was not enacting the laws which the King recommended and which were necessary for the public good.

The man, who is executive head of a country, has one great advantage.

Whatever he says is heard by the whole people, and in the course of time the Kings of France succeeded in arousing so much popular discontent that the delays of Parliament, as to bring Parliament in complete subjection to the royal will. The ultimate result was that Parliament of Paris finally ceased to be a deliberative body and became a mere registering body ratifying all decrees submitted by the King as a matter of duty.

Thereupon, of course, the Government of France became an absolute monarchy, and civil liberty disappeared from that land.

Such might have been the fate of Maryland in Colonial times, but for the fine courage and the political sagacity of the people, or at any rate of the leaders of the people of that Free State.

In his Tercentenary History of Maryland, Andrews brings out the constant struggles between the representatives of the people of Maryland and the Lord Proprietary, which were found necessary to preserve the Charter Rights of the free men of Maryland.

These free men always at all times successfully maintained that the Charter granted by the King of England, upon the faith of which they or their ancestors had braved the perils of the seas and of the wilderness to establish the Colony of Maryland and thus extend the dominion of the British Crown, constituted an irrevocable contract—a grant which could not be recalled; and it was because of the attempt of the Parliament of Great Britain to infringe upon these Charter Rights that the people of Maryland ultimately declared their independence of the British Crown and established themselves before the world as an absolutely sovereign and independent State.

In fact, during the Colonial period, Maryland was almost as much an independent State as England itself. The people of Maryland had their own Parliament in the form of a representative Assembly and they had practically their own King in a Proprietary Governor, who under the Charter was vested with Vice-Regal authority. Yet they all owed allegiance to the Crown of England.

The proceedings of the Maryland Convention of 1774, 1775 1776 show how that allegiance was finally thrown off.

In his celebrated message vetoing the Cumberland Road Bill, delivered to Congress by President James Monroe, May 4, 1822, the manner in which the sovereignty passed from the Crown of England to the various colonies is described and explained in most interesting way. This message appears on page 144 to 183 of volume 2 of "Messages and Papers of the Presidents" by Richardson. This paper of President Monroe's should be read by every man, who wishes to understand clearly the meaning of "State Sovereignty" in this country, and the reason why the former Colonies after the Revolution called themselves and were recognized as being "Sovereign States."

Apparently even as early as Monroe's time there had arisen in the minds of a great many Americans a certain vague idea that there was such a body as the American people as a unit—in the aggregate—and a more or less vague idea that the States were merely geographical divisions or departments of the national government.

This confusion of mind was in great measure due to the language found in the beginning of the Preamble to the Federal Constitution:

“We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union,” etc. etc.

Anyone reading this preamble without having in mind the actual facts of the situation, and the circumstances under which it was employed, might naturally suppose that the people of America through their representatives in the Constitutional Convention, had acted as a unit in declaring their independence and enacting this Constitution.

The fact is that in the original draft of this Preamble the language used was “We, the people of Virginia, Massachusetts, Maryland, etc. in order to form a more perfect Union,” etc. etc. But in view of the fact that they had no assurance that all the States would ratify the Constitution, the Convention found it necessary to abandon this form and substitute that which was finally adopted.

It is evident that at the time when Mr. Monroe came to the Presidency, these circumstances had been forgotten and the public mind, and for that matter the Congressional mind, seemed to be in a state of confusion regarding the nature of our Federal system and lacking perhaps in appreciation of the nature and origin of State Sovereignty. President Monroe's paper on the subject seems to have been devoted largely to clearing away this confusion as will appear from the following quotations:

“In thus tracing our institutions to their origin and pursuing them in their progress and modifications down to adoption of the Constitution, two important facts have been disclosed, on which it may not be improper in this state to make a few observations. The first is that in wresting the power, or what is called the sovereignty from the Crown, it passed directly to the people. The second, that it passed directly to the people of each colony and not to the people of all the colonies in the aggregate: to thirteen distinct communities and not to one. To these two facts, each contributing its equal proportions, I am inclined to think that we are in an eminent degree indebted for the success of our Revolution. * * * And that the power that rested on the British Crown and passed to the people of each colony, the whole history of our politic movement from the immigration of our ancestors to the present day clearly demonstrates. What produced the Revolution? The violation of our rights. What rights? Our Chartered rights. To whom were the Charters granted, to the people of each colony or to the people of all the colonies as a single community? We know that no such community as the aggregate existed, and of course that no such rights could be violated. It may be added that the nature of the powers, which were given to the delegates of each colony and the manner in which they were executed, show that the Sovereignty was in the people of each and not in the aggregate."

In other words not in the American people as a whole or in the aggregate, but in the people of Maryland, Massachusetts, Virginia, etc., severally. pages, 149, 150.

And again—

"Each State holds territory according to its original charter except in cases where cessions have been made to the United States by individual States. * * * The next circumstances to be attended to is that the people composing this unit are the people of the several States and not of the United States in the full sense of a consolidated government."

Again—

"The equality of rights enjoyed by the people of every colony under their original charters forms the basis of every existing institution and it was owing to the creation by those Charters of distinct communities that the power, when wrested from the Crown, passed directly and exclusively to the people of each colony." p. 180.

On the 6th day of July, 1776, the people of Maryland acting through their delegates in Convention assembled at the City of Annapolis, adopted their own declaration of independence in the following words:

"To be exempted from the parliamentary taxation and to regulate their internal government and polity, the people of this colony have ever considered their inherent and inalienable right, without the former they can have no property; without the latter no security for their lives and liberty.

The Parliament of Great Britain has of late claimed an uncontrollable right of binding these colonies in all cases whatsoever, to enforce an unconditional submission to this claim; the legislative and executive powers of that State have invariably pursued for these ten years past a steadier system of oppression, by passing many impolitic, severe and cruel acts for raising a revenue from the colonists; by depriving them in many cases of trial by jury; by altering the Charter constitution of one colony and the entire stoppage of the trade to the capital, etc. etc. Compelled by dire necessity either to surrender their properties, liberties and lives into the hands of a British King and Parliament or to use such means as will most probably secure to us and our posterity those invaluable blessings, we the delegates of Maryland, in convention assembled, do declare that the King of Great Britain has violated his contract with this people (i.e. the people of Maryland) and that they owe no allegiance to him; we have therefore, thought it just and necessary to empower our deputies in Congress to join with a majority of the United Colonies in declaring them free and independent States, in framing farther confederation between them, in making foreign alliances, and in adopting such other measures as shall be judged necessary for the preservation of their liberties; provided the sole exclusive rights of regulating the internal polity of this Government be reserved to the people thereof * * *

Thereupon Maryland became and was a sovereign and independent State, and proceeded to act as such and was recognized as such. For instance,—in the Preliminaries of the Compact of 1785 between Maryland and Virginia, the latter State in an Act of December 9th, 1777, provided for Commissioners from that State to meet Commissioners from Maryland for the purpose, as the Act stated, "to consider the most proper means to adjust and confirm the rights of each to the use and navigation and jurisdiction over the Bay of Chesapeake and the Rivers Potomac and Pocomoke, in order to prevent any differences on those subjects which may interrupt that desirable harmony between the two countries which it is equally the interest of both to cultivate." (Note "the two countries").

Again—

In the instructions given by the General Assembly of Maryland to its Commissioners on December 22nd, 1777 (Notes and Proceedings, House of Delegates, December 22, 1777), we find this:

"You are to endeavor to settle the point of jurisdiction over that part of the bay lying within the limits of Virginia, in the following manner: That all piracies, crimes or offenses committed in the said part of that Bay by the subjects of this State (note the word "subjects") Only a Sovereign State can have subjects)—or by any other persons not subjects of the Commonwealth of Virginia, against the subjects of this State, shall be tried in the Court of this State, but as according to the laws of this State cognizance of the offense, etc."

How much of that sovereignty remains in the people of Maryland today in view of the recent encroachments of Federal power, and of whether they have as much freedom in regulating their "internal polity" in government as they had before their separation from the British Crown, is a question of grave concern to many thoughtful men at this hour.

COLONIAL RECORDS OF KENT COUNTY.
Contributed by Louis Dow Scisco

Kent County, whose local government was created in 1642, is the oldest of Maryland counties, preceding St. Mary's in the matter of distinct local organization. Chestertown has been the county seat since 1696. The present court house, built about 1860, contains two record vaults or fireproof rooms, one used for the land records, the other for the probate records. These rooms are equipped with modern steel racks and reference tables, making access convenient.

In the earlier years of Kent there was relatively little court business and few realty transfers. It would seem that the earlier clerks used for their records ordinary mercantile account books having about 60 to 100 leaves usually. In these they entered the acts of the county court sessions and the interim presentations of indentures and of miscellaneous documents. This simple style of record work seems to have lasted to about 1676 or a little later, when the clerk began to differentiate his records by copying the land indentures into books distinct from those used for the court minutes. Whether the record books had any volume indicata at this time is uncertain. About 1693 the small books of the time were consolidated by rebinding into a set of nine, to which were given alphabetical indicata. The alphabet was continued to letter M. About 1701 it was superseded by indicative letters that were usually those of the recording clerk.

Thanks to occasional transcription the county's series of land records is practically complete. The books carrying the colonial court records, however, have mostly disappeared. It is stated that the county has never suffered by fire and that the disappearance of these books is far back in past years.

Liber A of the older series has had 126 numbered folios, but folios 1 to 95 are now missing. The book now begins with an assignment of 1652 recorded in 1655, followed by two proclamations for setting up the anti-proprietary government of 1655. Folios 99-126 bear the court session records and miscellany from April 25, 1655, to October 11, 1656. On folio 107 are 32 items of vital records. The book has been constructed by combining two or more earlier books.

Liber B of the older series is a book of 109 numbered folios. Folio 1 is damaged. The contents are court sessions, indentures, and miscellany from December 1, 1656, to June 7, 1662. Folio 34 has 42 items of vital records and folios 74-77 have 90 items. The book seems to embrace four books originally separate.*

Liber C of the older series has 77 numbered folios. Its contents are court session records and other papers from October, 1667, to October 24, 1676. Folios 21-22 have 16 items of vital records and folios 55, 57, 58 have 8 more. This book, too, has been made by combination of two or three earlier books. Part of folio 5 has been cut away. Folios 19-35 are breaking up because of ink corrosion.

Liber D, E, F, G, H, I of the older series are now missing. They seem to have contained only land indentures. In 1727 the contents were transcribed into a new book. By that book it appears that Liber D had about 91 folios with deeds of 1662 to 1667, Liber E had about 92 folios with deeds of 1671 to 1674, Liber F had about 79 folios with deeds of 1675 to 1678, Liber G had about 83 folios with deeds of 1678 to 1680, Liber H had about 78 folios with deeds of 1680 and 1681, while Liber I had about 249 folios with deeds of 1676 to 1678 and of 1685 to 1693. The peculiar make-up of Liber I shows that it and probably its companions were made by combining earlier books.

Liber K of the old series, marked "1681 to 1685," is a volume of indentures. The land papers occupy 81 numbered folios. Following these are 11 unnumbered folios bearing various proprietary ordinances and commissions. On the flyleaf are 8 items of vital records. Many of the indentures have clerk's notation "acknowledged in open court" with date appended. These dates range from November 23, 1681 to June 23, 1685.

Liber L is now missing and contents are unknown. Deeds of 1685 to 1693, filling the time between Libers K and M are assigned to Liber I in the transcription.

Liber M of the old series, marked "1694 to 1701," has 121 numbered folios of land indentures, beginning with deeds dated in 1694. On April 17, 1701, the clerk of the time began to enter regularly with each deed the date of recording. The book closes with a record of May 13, 1701.

Liber J. D. No. 1, marked "1701 to 1704" and bearing modern shelf number 4, reveals the abandonment of the alphabet indicata by John Dowdall, the clerk. It is a book of indentures recorded from September 2, 1701, to March 29, 1705. It has 180 numbered pages.

Liber G. L. No. 1, marked "1704 to 1707," and bearing shelf number 5, has a cover legend, "Marks of Cattell, Hogs and Other Small Business." It begins with folios numbered 1 to 22, followed by pages numbered 23 to 151. Its contents embrace earmarks, vital records, receipts, contracts, powers of attorney, servants' indentures, and other miscellany of 1694 to 1706. It also has some land indentures of 1706 and 1707. A flyleaf legend shows that the clerk Simon Wilmer originally marked this book as Liber S. W. No. B.

Liber G. L. No. 2 is now missing. It is known only by indentures transcribed from it in 1727, which are dated in 1706 and 1707.

Liber J. S. No. N, marked "1707 to 1714" and bearing modern shelf number 6, has 370 pages of indentures recorded December 23, 1707, to May 27, 1714. It has an index. From this point onward the land records are indexed.

Liber B. C. No. 1, marked "1714-1718" and bearing shelf number 7, has 351 pages of indentures recorded May 29, 1714, to January 25, 1718-19.
Liber N. W., marked “1719-1726” and with modern shelf number 8, has 568 pages of indentures recorded April 7, 1719 to September 1, 1726.

Liber unlettered, marked “Record of Land Commissioners 1716 to 1721,” contains the record of decisions in the years stated by the commissioners empowered to fix bounds of private properties in the county. It has 94 pages not numbered and 33 unused folios.

Liber J. S. No. 10, marked “1726-1730” and with modern shelf number 9, has 482 pages of indentures recorded September 5, 1726, to July 17, 1730.

Liber A, marked “1648-1679” and with modern shelf number 1, has the cover legend “Transcribed 1727.” It is a transcription volume of 552 pages made by James Smith, clerk. Its contents are indentures and other land papers, each document carrying notation of former book and page location. Pages 1-36 come from old Liber A, pages 36-93 from Liber B, pages 93-123 from Liber C, pages 123-213 from Liber D, pages 213-366 from Liber E, pages 366-464 from Liber F, and pages 465-552 from Liber G. The volume has many broken leaves that need protective treatment.

Liber B, marked “1679 to 1692” and with shelf number 2, is a continuation of Smith's transcription, containing only land papers. Pages 1-11 come from Liber G, pages 12-91 from Liber H, and pages 91-360 from Liber I. Some of the leaves are much broken.

Liber C, marked “1692 to 1706” and with shelf number 3, continues Smith's transcription of land papers from older books. Pages 1-122 come from Liber I, pages 122-137 from Liber M, and pages 137-242 from Liber G. L. No. 2. The volume has 102 unused pages, the work of copying not being carried beyond Liber G. L. no. 2.

Liber J. S. No. 16, marked “1730-1734” and with modern shelf number 10, has 454 pages of land indentures recorded July 18, 1730 to April 8, 1734.

Liber J. S. No. 17, marked “1731 to 1735,” has pages numbered 1 to 169, numbers 130-137 being duplicated. The contents are bonds and service indentures recorded August 5, 1731 to June 11, 1735.

Liber J. S. No. 18, marked “1734-1737” and with shelf number 11, has 553 pages of land indentures recorded from April 18, 1734, to January 28, 1737-38. Some of the leaves are badly broken.

Liber J. S. No. 20, bears the legend “Criminal Business 1734.” Its 392 pages bear a record of criminal prosecutions in court sessions from August, 1734 to June, 1736.

Liber J. S. No. 21, marked “1736 to 1738,” continues the record of criminal prosecutions in court sessions from June, 1736 to June, 1738. It has 369 pages.

In the office of the register of wills there are 28 volumes with contents belonging to the colonial time. The office has also a large quantity of loose papers arranged in packages. A portion of this loose material is colonial. The probate records seem to have been, at first, in a single series of books. About 1709 the various kinds of papers were segregated in separate series.

Liber marked "Wills 1669-1710" seems to be a surviving volume of the earliest record series. It contains wills, inventories, and administrators' accounts of the period indicated. The index has 91 names.

Liber marked "Wills 1709-1734" has 360 pages continuing the record from the preceding book.

Liber "Record of Wills from 1669 to 1734" is a modern transcript carrying 414 pages of wills, followed by 154 unused pages. Its index has 381 names.

Wills No. 2, 1735-1746, 273 pages. Wills No. 5, 1770-1776, 264 pages.

The manner in which Mr Samuel Hyde has declined the Maryland Trade put many People to great Inconvenience as well as occasioned Considerable Loss to the Province in General: as I have had a long Correspondence with his Father and himself I cannot but be Concerned for the Gentleman And must still think of him as an honest man and hope that no part of his Conduct or Actions will Induce a Contrary opinion, the present Catastrophe in his affairs I attribute to some very Extraordinary Occasion not yet known here, tho' many Surmises as Insurance &c^a^

I am now to come into the share I have myself in this general Calamity and as I have a great dependance on your good Conduct Integrity & Friendship make use of you on the present occasion and for the future shall Recommend what affairs I have to your management and wherein I hope we may be both Adequately benefited.

Inclosed is the first of Doctor George Buchanans Bills of Exchange on you for Four Hundred & fifty pounds Sterling with which I desire you will Credit me in Account There is also Inclosed his Letter of Advice of the said Bills which I make no Doubt of being good, nor need I mention to you into what Confusion & extremity the Contrary or mismanagement on this head would throw my affairs, but Relying on your assistance & Diligence therein hope for & expect they are good and that I shall have all my affairs in a Clear method again very soon
I drew the following Bills of Exchange on Mr Samuel Hyde as by their Respective Dates Amounting to three hundred and two pounds twelve shillings and the notes on them may lead you into the knowledge of finding into whose hands in London they are fallen or what notary Protested them as I have Reason to believe that they are Protested or most of them. Now What I desire you will do is to make such Enquiry and of Mr Hyde himself who I hope will favour me therein to let you know that you may pay the second or third Bills and which I desire you will do taking in the same in such Authentick manner as that in Law I may hire, and else where be discharged from any Demand for the same.

My Lord Baltimore is the Chiefest Concerned as I have lately purchased Lands of him and I conceive that not only the Bills drawn Payable to himself but those also marked X have fallen into his hands. If his Secretary, merchant or other under him Refuse to accept of the payment of the second or third Bills or discharge of the same I desire you will by a publick notary make tender of the same to him in his proper person and in Case he refuses to accept of such payment & discharge the same that then you will procure a Testimonial thereof under such Notary’s hand and seal of Office to be transmitted to me here and Duplicates thereof.

In sure Confidence of your taking in the seconds or thirds of those Bills or such as have been Protested of them I shall here delay payment of the first in case such should Come until I hear from you and desire that may be as soon as possible and for the greater security send Triplicates of such your Letters if no other opportunitys directly here then by way of New York, Philadelphia or Virginia with Directions to be put into the Post Offices of Either.

I desire that you will charge to my Account such of the said Bills as you shall take up there and from which by sufficient Vouchers from you I may here be discharged, and the Vouchers of such paym† Transmit to me as before directed with all convenient speed keeping Authentick Copys thereof.
Whatever Bills I shall have occasion to Draw on you shall be drawn at Sixty days sight all in my own hand writing and if possible advise therein, nor will I hurry such drafts whereby to render Inconvenient the Drawing the sum of these Bills out of your hands and hope with your good Management to have my affairs again soon in an orderly manner, nor need I Enlarge to you that thereon depends the Fate of my self and Family.

I have transmitted to Mr Hyde the following Bills as by the Dates amounting to forty two pounds three shillings which may be mislaid or not taken notice of by him which if you find upon enquiry and that he will not pay by Crediting me in Account or Transmit to me Protested I request you will apply to him or other proper person for them and procure Protests & send the same to me.

I have had no account Current from Mr Saml Hyde these three years I therefore Request you will apply to him and desire that he will send me one and Duplicates thereof and please also to know of him wt has been done in Relation to the Insurance made by him on the schooner Annapolis Alexander Scougal Master Voyage to Barbadoes According to my Letters to him dated Maryland December 25th 1741 and Relating to the Damage on that Voyage Mr Codrington Carrington Merchant of Barbadoes Transmitted & Delivered Mr Hyde Vouchers, and according to his Mr Hyde's Instructions as by his Letter Dated London May 30th 1744 I sent him Affidavits of the Cost of the Cargo here and that the Loss was on the Voyage ensured duly Authenticated and which I'm sure he received as Copy was in the Charles Allingham, In this as in other matters I hope for Honest & kind treatment from him the Loss I then suffered between the Cost of the Cargo here and the sale there ocationed by the Damage as was proved amounted to Two hundred forty five pounds thirteen shillings and five pence Sterling and such Sale Exceeded what the Merchants there on view valued the Damaged Cargo at It would be cruel to pay Insurances Constantly & when a Loss happened to have no Recompence, I hope Mr Hyde will not Refuse to let you into the knowledge of this Matter, his Letter aforesaid is in the following Words—

The Insurers expect your affidavit to the Cost of the goods lost & that it happened on the Voyage on which you ordered the Insurance to be made & to be as particular as you can in the times, I have made the Demand.

Now Sir I have been as particular as I could be according to his direction Recited my Letter to him & if anything further was needfull to the honest purpose I could have had it done.

My son having been in England some time I do not know what Mr Hyde may have advanced for him for want of my Accounts as aforesaid, but I am Certain that making a Reasonable allowance of what might be sufficient for such a youth my Remittances to Mr Hyde since his Account Current must leave him Considerably in my Debt Especially if he has done me justice in Relation to the Insurance aforesaid by Recovering & Crediting me with the same for Damage &c.

I fear the youth has been under some Difficulty by Mr Hydes affairs I had wrote him to come Home in one of his ships and have Daily been in Expectation of seeing him hoping lately that he might get Passage in some other good ship as the others did not come. If any accident should have Intervened to hinder his coming before this comes to hand, pray do the needful to get him a safe passage with Convoy or otherwise to your likeing as soon as possible.

Pray favour me by Delivering the Inclosed to Mr William Woodward and know of him what money he Received from Mr Samuel Hyde at times on acco[t] of or for my Son's use and favour me by sending me such Account and Duplicate thereof.

I Refer myself to your kind care herein as well as in other matters Recommended to you.

I had wrote you and my son so fully By Biggs, Allingham and Randall's mate to which had expected answer by him that had not now to add, had not the Extraordinary & unexpected news of Mr Hyde's declining business intervened which I suppose has laid my son under some Inconvenience as to his Passage if not come away before.

In case he be not come away before this comes to hand which I suppose he must be, have wrote to Mr Wm Black to procure him a passage. I am now to request a favour of you and that you will be very particular therein to witt, to send me under the Care of Mr Wm Black an Account of all the sums of money & times when Received by you on account of my son or for his use from Mr Saml Hyde and how apply'd, and pray that you will send me Duplicates of such acco't and lodge one Copy with Mr Black

Please to let such Acco't be from the beginning to the last Receipt for I suppose my son has not himself Received any thing from Mr Hyde but what came thro' your hands. Your favour & friendship herein will be of singular use & Advantage to me wherefore hope for your friendly Complyance.

Pray present my kind Respects to Mrs Woodward . . .

I sent you lately some Bills Drawn on your self and others which I hope you will either pass to the Credit of my Account or Deliver to Mr Wm Black Protested, to whom I have wrote in Relation to my affairs And if you have not Recovered the Damage on the said Insurance and passed the same to the Credit of my Acco't I hope you will Enable Mr Black to procure me justice therein from the Insurers.

The great opinion I have of your uprightness & Integrity makes me expect everything that is just from you.

& Baily viewed my Damaged Cargo of Corn in the Annapolis, Scougal Master. I have not yet had any Satisfaction on that head from the Insurers and I fear my Merchant Mr Hyde has not used me well therein. Your favour herein will oblige.

To Mr Coddington Carrington Merch Barbadoes By Capt Martin in the James & Marthaes

July 28th 1746

Sr

I am Really Concerned for your loss by Mr Hyde as I should be for any other accident which might prejudice you, and hope I shall never Contribute to any such.

You may be assured that the Bill you mention to your self is paid, and I conceive that a payment of a second or Third is equal to that of a first and therefore hope that such payment will be satisfactory as it is fair & honest.

I hope that the same answer will be satisfactory as to those of Lord Baltimores, nor that you doubt my word of haveing made a suitable provision and ordering payment accordingly of these as well as that

It is much to be hoped that his Lordship nor any Concerned for him would Exact more than Twenty shillings in the Pound from his Tenants, and that if he is paid the second or third of those Bills he will be throughly satisfied. It has been a Case of General Calamity and sure from any power with which he is Invested he would not take advantage of oppressing the Distressed. His Lordship will certainly be satisfied to Receive the principal of these Bills at Home in London, which I have ordered faithfully to be paid him, but if they should not I hope you believe me Responsible 'till you are advised of the Contrary which cannot be long if they remain unpaid.

I have perused the Account as well as the short time would admit wherein I find several articles omited in Credit and especially a sum of near Two hundred & Fifty pounds which I expect Credit for from Mr Hyde, and some Articles wrong Charged which I can readily convince Mr Hyde of. I am very ready and willing to adjust the accot and to pay any just Ballance due from me and hope no other will be insisted upon.

Mr Hyde gives me Credit for nett proceeds of Pigg Iron which he has sent no accot sales of, and which would be satisfactory to you as well as to me to see.

To Benja Tasker Esq

P. S. If notwithstanding what I have said you should think proper to commence actions against me for those Bills you will certainly be of opinion that an Action upon one will be sufficient for the whole.

30th July 1746

Sir

I make your case my own, and I faithfully assure you I would not do otherwise than I would should be done unto me if I mistake not very much you have in your hands due to me double your claim so that it can be no hardship for you to stay a while for the Issue of my directions for payment of the bill to Wilkins wh if not done may then detain your principal and what in Justice otherwise arising due for any damages With regard to the Bills of Lord Baltemores I think three months may be a reasonable time to Expect Ships wh may bring answers to my Letters on that head and if those Bills are not paid, I can not refuse paying him what in Law or Equity would give, for I do not look upon myself on a Level here to dispute with his Lordship unless in very open and clear points as he has all the Superior Gentlemen of the Law Engaged. The power you mention, you say is to your self & the Governour. I hope as he is Chancelor of Maryland he will be of opinion with you that I have the same Right against Lord Baltimore that I should have had against Mr Hyde, that is to discount any Remittances made or any other Just claim not credited by Mr Hyde as also to object against any articles wh by mistake Mr Hyde may have charged in his Account against me.

If his Excy and you will appoint any Honest and Judicious person I will another to adjust the account and whatsoever Ballance (if any) be due I will very Honestly pay whoever is Impowered to receive it.

If your Inclinations comes up to mine I am sure you will find no difficulty in Liveing well with me for I faithfully assure you I would not designedly do any act that might offend or give Just cause of Umbrage to you or yours.

It is no new practice to have a second or third bill paid when a first has been protested; nor do I desire to Introduce any Illegal doctrine nor to act otherwise than an Honest and upright part and you are very sensible of some Articles wch in Mr Hydes acc'tt ought to be Credited as Barr Iron your order to Biddiford to Mr Banburry to pay him. I hope I need not Enlarge on the head or that you or the Governour (to whom you may please to communicate this & my former) will not press any thing against the Rules of Justice or Common right, this is what I Expect from you both . . .

To Benjn Tasker, Esq.

Maryland Aug* 5th 1746

Sir

Since I wrote myne of the 26* of April 1746 to you I find the following bill have been paid as follows Viz—My Exch* of Novr 19th 1744 To Tho. Franklin for Thirty seven pounds one shs & Six pence has been paid by Mr Saml Hyde and charged by him as also my Exch* to Pheter and Dominick Joice entred April 3d 1745 for Eight pounds, And I find that Mr John Hanbury has paid for my Honr my Exchange of the 7th November 1745 To Onorio Razalini for Twenty four pounds Sixteen shil. & Six pence wch I acquaint you for your directions & hope for your kind and asidious care of the others for my Intrest that the seconds or thirds may be paid.

I find that my Bill to Tho. Sheredine of June 29th 1745 for Eleven pounds Eighteen shill was Endorsed to one at Philadelpia.
My son is safe arrived I thank God and I return you thanks for your favours to him I shall take punctual care unless all things fail contrary to Humane apearance to make you a suitable and gratefull return for all favours.

We hope to have some Ships from you this way by which shall make remittance & advise as the times may Turn out as to Insurance.

I desire that you will find out if possible where the Insurance of 1741 on scougall in the scooner Annapolis myself owner hence to Barbados & back was made by Mr Hyde or if he himself was not Insurer and procure me a Copy of the Policy of such Insurance and Copy to be sent here. My Loss on that occasion was more than 300l ster. Mr Hyde charges me an Insurance made on Scougall of 500l dated October 18th 1743 £32.. 14.. 6 which I am certain is a mistake for Scougall had not been in my Service after 13th of July 1742. I have wrote to Mr Hyde on the Subject Inclosed, and open for your perusal; I hope he will set it Right and acknowledge the Error in such Manner as I may be discharged from any demand thereon.

I wrote him of the 23d of October 1742 to make an Insurance on the scooner Annapolis aforesd John Satirwhite master to & from Barbados of 500l and which he charge me £32.. 14.. 6 for as also for a second Insurance made on said Vessell hence to Barbados and there till unladen of 500l for which he charges me £20 in his Acc 27th Jan. 1743 ¼.

I should be glad to find where these Insurances were made & whether by himself these were the onely & last I wrote to be made after that of 1741 before mentioned and as I am certainly assured Mr Hyde is wrong in the charge aforesd I hope he will like the man I hope to find him, set the same right by acknowledging the Error.

Pray seal and deliver the Letter to Mr Hyde and give your assistance to me on the several Heads. I suppose I shall have a Law suit with Lord Baltimore about adjusting the acct if Mr Hyde will not do me Justice I trust much in your care & friendship . . .

Sir

In a Copy of An Account delivered by Mr Tasker to me and wch I might have reasonably Expected from Your self I find an Article therein charged to witt 1743 October 18 To premio £500 Insured on Scougal £32.. 14.. 6 I am certain the said Article is Wrong and that you never had any Instructions from me to make such Insurance for that the said Scougal had not been in my service after 13th July 1742 This I can prove by the man Liveing here now. And as this is a Manifest Error I hope you will set the same Right that I may meet with no trouble about it. I am very willing & ready to pay you or your assignee whatever is Honestly due but hope you will preserve the Charracter I wish you allways to have & wch my opinion conceived of you.

You have a pcell of Barr Iron wch you do not Credit me for, this I Expect to be credited in that account as also £13 part of my order on Laurence Williams wch you must have read or he has still in his hands, Likewise 1/5 Benjn Tasker Esqr his order to Sa Banbury for £65.. 9.. 03/ wch makes £13: 1: 10

And I hope I need not Repeat the Law and Equity I have against you and your Assignee for The Loss I sustained in the Voyage of the sooner Annapolis Alexr Scougal Master to Barbados on an Insurance ordered to be made by you 25th of December 1741 and with the premio of wch you charge me and advise the same to be made. this Loss has been fully proved to you and certain there has been no deceitt on my side and hope there will be none on yours.

I now request you will deliver Mr William Black a Copy of that Policy whether made by your self or others and that you will order it so that I may have Credit in the account aforesd for the amount of my Loss, which I compute at Two Hundred forty and five pounds thirteen shil & five pence sterling gieveing Credit for the sale of the said Cargo wch sold at more than it was valued at as damaged, and wch if not damaged would have turned out above a Hundred pounds more to my advantage as Corn sold then at Barbados.

Please to look back on my acct and you will see vizd. May 1st 1742 To paid Insurance's £1000 Goods in the Annapolis two voyages £57.. 19.. 0 and these were the onely voyages Scougal was desired by me to be Insured on that you will find any Instructions for since these dates. To Messrs Philpott & Lee Merchants In London by Capt Tiffin & Gunston and Hutchinson in the Britannia
May 10, 1926.—The regular monthly meeting of the Society was held tonight with the President in the chair about fifty members and guests being present.

J. Harry Deems, Mrs. James M. Hemphill, Tolly A. Biays, Mrs. Norris Harris,
Charles O. Scull, David C. Winebrenner, 3rd
George Lewis Wetzel, Philip Ritchie Winebrenner.

The following deaths were reported from among our members: Mrs. Chester Turnbull, Mr. Tunstall Smith.

The President read a note of appreciation and thanks from Mrs. H. Irvine Keyser, for the flowers sent to her by the Society on May 7th, the anniversary of the death of her husband.

The President stated that the Society had received from the estate of the late Bessie E. Johnston Gresham, $1000, and a portrait of her grandfather Samuel Johnston, by Charles Willson Peale.

Mr. George L. Radcliffe presented the following motion which was unanimously carried:

"Resolved: That the Maryland Historical Society place on record its high appreciation of the legacies of One Thousand Dollars and of a portrait of Samuel Johnston by Charles Willson Peale, made to it by the will of the late Bessie E. Johnston Gresham, and of the sincere interest in the Society and its aims which has been through many years so generously manifested by Mrs. Gresham."
The President stated that after a rather informal correspondence with the Secretary of the Navy, the Society had made two prints of the Pulaski Banner, and presented them to the Navy Department to be used in their exhibit at the Sesqui-Centennial to be held in Philadelphia from June until December of this year.

Attention was called to the collection of medals and certificates which had been left to the Society by the Will of the late General Felix Agnus.

The President stated that it was with keen regret that he presented the following note to the Maryland Historical Society:

"I herewith tender my resignation as the representative of this Society, on the Municipal Art Commission of Baltimore, to take effect from this date, and I would respectfully suggest the name of Mr. Lawrence Hall Fowler, to fill the position, after confirmation by the City Council.

record its high appreciation of the gift to it by the Hon. A. J. Foble of Cambridge, Maryland, of a Wooden Indian Boy.

"Resolved further that the Society accept this unique gift so closely associated with the family of Mr. Foble and so illustrative of an interesting phase of one of our former commercial activities and

"Resolved further that the Society retain and exhibit the gift with its other treasured possessions,

"Resolved further that the Society extend to Mr. Foble and to his friends a cordial invitation to visit it and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to him."

Dr. Henry J. Berkley presented to the Society a brick taken from the ruins of the old mill in Jamestown which is said to be the oldest in this country. Careful examination had proved, he stated, that the brick is made of clay found near the original site. He also presented a photograph of the old Schroeder House which is now the Nursery and Childs' Hospital, with a brief history written on the back. He then read a brief but interesting account of the life and works of John H. Alexander the first geologist in the State of Maryland. He stated that Mr. Alexander was instrumental in getting the Standard Weights and Measures from the Federal Government from the State.

The President then introduced the speaker of the evening, Joseph C. France, Esq., who read a paper on "Newspapers in the Time of Cromwell."

At the close of the paper Dr. Berkley moved that the Society give a rising vote of thanks to Mr. France.

Vice-President Thom presiding in the absence of President Harris, who has left the city for his summer vacation, spoke a few words of welcome and referred to the honor it was to have the Eastern Shore Society of Baltimore City as the guest of the Society. He then introduced Mr. Swepson Earle, President of the Eastern Shore Society. President Earle, on behalf of his Society, spoke in appreciation of the privilege.

Mr. George L. Radcliffe, Chairman of the Historical Essay Contest of the Eastern Shore Society, gave a brief sketch of the work of that committee, and introduced the winners from the different counties of the Eastern Shore and presented prizes to them. In the course of the program six colored singers sang some old negro songs and hymns.

President Earle made several announcements and called upon the Chairman of the Boat Trip Committee to make a brief outline of the proposed trip for this summer.
Mr. Thorn made several suggestions for themes for Historical Essays. He then extended an invitation to the guests to inspect the historical exhibits of this Society.

Refreshments were served by the Eastern Shore Society.

October 11, 1926.—The regular meeting of the Society was held tonight in the Home of the Society with the President in the chair.

A list of donations made to the Library and Gallery was read. Mr. Dielman called attention to the number of gifts presented by Mr. H. Oliver Thompson and spoke of his generosity to the Society, and presented on his behalf a very valuable scrap book of "Songs of the American War 1861-65."

The President stated that he would like to get in touch with the German Society of Maryland, and Judge Walter I. Dawkins referred him to Mr. Karl A. M. Scholtz, who would be able to assist him in this matter.

The chair recognized Mrs. J. H. Day of Augusta, Georgia, a daughter of the late Brantz Mayer, one time President of this Society. Mrs. Day offered to the Society many valuable autographed letters from prominent men addressed to her father; and a set of handsomely carved ivory chess men. She also expressed her wish to become a member of the Society. President Harris referred to the pleasure which her statements afforded the Society.

The chair then recognized Mr. Francis B. Culver, who presented on behalf of the late Charles B. Rogers, genealogical data relating to the Rogers and allied families; Owings, Cockey and allied families, and other items of considerable interest. Mr. Culver then presented the following resolution which was unanimously carried:

"Resolved, that the thanks of the Maryland Historical Society be tendered to Mrs. Charles B. Rogers in recognition of the gift, on the part of Mr. Rogers, recently deceased, of certain valuable genealogical data relating to the family antecedents of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Rogers, including the Rogers and allied families; and the Owings, Cockey and allied families; beside certain other records and mementoes of considerable interest.”

The President stated that upon the resignation of J. Appleton Wilson from the Municipal Art Commission, the Society had elected at its last meeting Mr. Lawrence Hall Fowler to fill the vacancy.

The President gave a brief account of the three pieces of the Star-Spangled Banner which had been in the possession of this Society, but have recently been delivered by him, with the permission of the Council, to the National Museum in Washington, where they will be preserved with the main part of the flag.

The following resolution was passed by the Council of the Society and sent to the President and Board of Trustees of St. John’s College:

“Resolved, that the President and Council of the Maryland Historical Society respectfully represent to the President and Board of Trustees of St. John’s College, Annapolis, Maryland, their earnest hope that St. John’s will maintain the Harwood House, Annapolis, Maryland, unchanged architecturally, and as a purely Colonial Museum and not otherwise; and begs to congratulate the College upon the great opportunity thus in their power to do a perfect service for the cause of Colonial architecture and Colonial furniture, and so for the City of Annapolis, for the State of Maryland and for the perpetuation of the historic Colonial memories of our Country.”

Judge Walter I. Dawkins, a member of the Committee which purchased the Harwood House for St. John’s College, expressed appreciation on behalf of the Committee to the Maryland Historical Society for the resolution sent to them, and stated that there had not been a meeting of the committee since the purchase of the house, but he felt safe in saying that St. John’s is very desirous of carrying out the plan of making a purely Colonial museum of the Harwood House.
The following deaths were reported from among our members: Charlotte M. Thompson, G. Frank Baily, Wm. H. Perkins, 3d, John Wesley Brown, Wm. Power Wilson, Olivia Mankin, Charles McFaddon.

Mr. John L. Sanford, Chairman of the Committee of Addresses was introduced and read a most interesting paper entitled "Some French Chateaux."

President Harris, as an individual, moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Sanford for his most interesting paper, and also for his ability in securing speakers for the monthly meetings of the Society.

NOTES

In the preface to this work the author says: "Students and writers of history are becoming aware of the futility of writing history which only historians read. They are making a conscious and determined effort to reinvest the story of America with the charm which naturally and rightfully belongs to it. They do not intend to do this with a sacrifice of truth or historical perspective, they are not committed to any form of propaganda. Their sole desire is to tell the story with as much of the interest and glamour as may be possible to the imagination of the writer."

The author seems to have accomplished his purpose admirably. Not a single foot-note or other reference mars the continuity of the story, but the narrative of the discovery, settlement, and expansion of the country flows smoothly to its conclusion. It is a book to be read and not merely for reference. It deserves and will doubtless find a wide public.

This volume by our fellow member, Mr. Sanford, contains addresses made by him on several occasions, on subjects of especial interest to Masons. They are "Washington, the man and the mason"; "Present-day thoughts"; "Masonry in Maryland"; "An early Chapter Mason"; [Nathaniel Knight, book-seller and publisher], "Washington, The national Adviser"; "Burns and Scott as Freemasons." The volume was privately printed for free distribution.

The title of this work discloses fairly the scope of the thesis. It is a scholarly piece of work, well supported by adequate references, and sheds new light on the economic history of the states under consideration.

The History Quarterly. Published by the Filson Club and the University of Louisville. Vol. 1, No. 1, October 1926.

"The Filson Club is interested chiefly in the history of Kentucky and of the Ohio Valley; the University has no preference for one country more than another, but its facilities for study are chiefly in American history. It follows from this that the Quarterly, although it will not limit itself strictly to any one section, may reasonably be expected to give most of its space to American history, particularly to that of the Ohio Valley and Kentucky."

The first issue covers 51 pages, is well printed and is of distinct importance. The annual publications of the Filson Club are well known for their value both historically and bibliographically.

Mr. Nicklin, an Associate member of this Society will be remembered for his valuable contribution to the history of the Calvert family, published in vol. 16 of this Magazine. This is a volume of poems which have originally appeared in various newspapers throughout the country. Many of the verses are dedicated to individuals, usually indicated by initials. The volume is probably intended for circulation among friends and will have no wide appeal.

Two hundred and fifty copies of this brochure have been issued. It is a fine specimen of the printer's art, and the sketches though brief are interesting. They have been reprinted from The American Printer for October, 1926.

The Committee on Addresses and Literary Entertainments announces three lectures before the Society during January, as follows:

In view of the changes in the British Empire, recently announced, which are in accord with the view of the British Empire taken by many of our Revolutionary leaders, Prof. Turner's lecture will really be a continuation of the topics discussed in Prof. Latané's first lecture.
Transportation of Prisoners to Maryland.

1719, July 8. Treasury order for payment to Jonathan Forward, merchant, London, of £396 for the transportation of 44 malefactors in Newgate, at £3 per head, and other 66 in the county gaols of Hertford, Essex, Kent, Sussex and Surrey at £4 per head, to his Majesty's plantations in Maryland in the ship Margaret, of which William Greenwood is commander.
