MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

ANNAPOLIS, January 7, 1860.

After the report of yesterday closed by motion, the House resolved itself into a committee of the whole.

Mr. Mackubin resumed his position as chairman, and Mr. Miller as secretary.

Mr. Dennis, of Somerset, continued his remarks, and in brief stated that the present condition of the country, on the slavery question, was properly to be attributed to the result of Democratic measures. Mr. Dennis spoke at length, and was replied to by Mr. Gordon, of Allegany, who made a masterly argument in opposition to the views presented by Mr. Dennis, and defended the Democratic party from the allegations made by Mr. Dennis.

Mr. Gordon's speech was highly commended and applauded by Democratic members.

Mr. Dennis offered substitute resolutions, which were understood to be the resolutions approved by the American legislative caucus, (held for the last few days,) which were voted down, and the resolutions offered by Mr. Freaner were unanimously adopted in the House, upon the recommendation of the committee after the committee rose.

The following are Mr. Dennis's rejected resolutions:

Resolved by the General Assembly, That Maryland's Senators, William Pinckney and Edward Lloyd, and her Representatives in the national Congress, at the session of 1820, did not misrepresent the wishes of her people in voting for the act known as the Missouri Compromise.

Resolved, That Maryland's Senators, James Alfred Pearce and Thomas G. Pratt, and her Representatives in the national Congress at its session of 1849, did not misrepresent the wishes of her people in voting for the measures known as the compromise measures of 1850.

Resolved, That the Democratic nominating convention, which assembled at Baltimore in 1852, announced a principle in accordance with the wishes of a large majority of the voters of Maryland and of the Union, when it declared, in the most explicit terms, that the Democratic party deprecated and would oppose any further agitation of the slavery question in Congress or out of Congress, and that the voters of Maryland trusted that pledge would be kept in good faith, when they voted in November, 1852, by a majority of nearly 5,000 in favor of the principles set forth and the candidates nominated by said Democratic national convention.

Resolved, That when the Democratic Congress in the year 1854 repealed the measure known as the Missouri Compromise, and President Pierce affirmed said repeal, said Congress and President voluntarily did what greatly tended to revive the agitation of the slavery question in Congress, and out of Congress, and such repeal was a violation, both of the letter and spirit of the pledges given to the country by the democratic nominating convention in 1852.

Resolved, That the repeal of the Missouri Compromise has resulted in no substantial good either to the South or North, but on the contrary, the revival of the slavery agitation thereby presented has been a serious evil to every section, by engendering bitter sectional feelings both North and South, by weakening the bonds of the national Union, and in the judgment of many, endangering even the existence of that Union.

Resolved, That those public men of any section or party, who, for mere partizan purposes, are willing to violate their pledges, made to those who elected them, by volunteering to agitate the slavery question in Congress, and thereby excite animosity between the people of the various sections of the Union, and weaken the bonds of that Union, as enemies to the true interests of the American republic, are not deserving of the confidence and support of any portion of the American people.

These resolutions were lost by a vote of 17 yeas to 42 nays.

The resolutions of Mr. Freaner were adopted by a vote of 53.

Messrs. Ford, Quinlan and Renshaw, of Baltimore county; Wilson, of Cecil; and Boose, Seth, Berry, Crowley, McAllister, Turner and Denison, of Baltimore city, and McCleary, were not present when the vote was taken, but leave was asked by their respective colleagues, that permission be granted them to record their votes hereafter.

Mr. Freaner then offered the following resolution, to be appended to the resolutions adopted. It is as follows:

Be it further Resolved, That the Governor of this State be requested to have sent immediately a copy of these resolutions to the representatives of Maryland in Congress assembled.

Several petitions were presented, and a resolution adopted requesting the Governor to hoist the American flag upon the State Capitol to-day, and also requesting him to have a national salute fired upon the occasion, in commemoration of the day, (anniversary of the battle of New Orleans.)

The House then adjourned until Monday, 12 o'clock.

The Speaker announced the reception of the papers in the Baltimore contested election case, which were referred to the committee on elections.

Mr. Gordon, of Allegany, presented a memorial, signed by 800 citizens of Baltimore city, praying the House of Delegates to address the Governor to remove Henry S. Stump, judge of the Criminal Court of Baltimore city, which was referred to a select committee of five, appointed by the Speaker, consisting of Messrs. Gordon, Freaner, Briscoe, Smith and Goldsborough.

On motion, Mr. Gordon, of the above committee, was empowered to send for persons and papers.

The Speaker presented the report of the commissioners on the code, and the report of the joint committee thereon, appointed by the last Legislature, which were read and referred to a select committee.

Leaves to introduce bills were asked as follows: By Mr. Gordon, that the committee on education report a bill providing for a general system of education throughout this State. By Mr. Coudy, to exempt a reasonable amount of the property of a debtor from sale by execution. By Mr. Briscoe, to render more uniform and efficient the criminal laws of this State. By Mr. Eakle, for better regulation of religious worship of colored people. By Mr. Miller, to repeal the tax on mortgages.

A message was received from the Senate proposing to refer the new code to a joint committee, and naming Messrs. McKaig, Goldsborough, of Talbot, and Yellot on the part of the Senate.

On motion of Mr. Long, a message was returned, concuring in the message, and appointing Messrs. Long, Maxwell, Briscoe, Gordon and Naill on the part of the House.

On motion of Mr. Compton the committee on the judiciary were instructed to inquire into the expediency of enacting a law legalizing the testimony of slaves, free negroes and mulattoes against white men in cases where white men attempt to incite slaves to escape or to insurrection.

Mr. Denison, of Baltimore county, offered the following resolutions, to explain his vote on the resolutions of Mr. Freaner passed on Friday:

Resolved, That that the last resolution of a series of resolutions offered by the member from Washington county, and passed by the House on the 6th of January, is not to be understood as advising or approving the democratic members of this State in the House of Representatives of the United States, uniting with the American party or any other minority party in the House of Representatives to elect one of such party speaker of that House, as declaring it to be the opinion of Maryland that the members of the democratic party generally in the House of Representatives ought to unite with the American party or any other minority party in electing one of such party speaker of that House.

Resolved, That if the resolution alluded to in the resolutions above, be understood by those to whom it is addressed as advising or approving the democratic representatives in Congress uniting with the American party or any other minority party in the House of Representatives in Congress, uniting with the American party in the House of Representatives to elect any member of such party to the speakership of the House—that such an understanding of said resolutions would, as far as Maryland is concerned, inaugurate their principles—authorize the precedent and advise the policy of an irresponsible minority party by refusing to join in organizing Congress until organized under their direction, thus to stop or control the action of the government, which is alike dangerous in policy, opposed to the first principles of our institutions, never has been, nor ought to be sanctioned by the democratic party, and is not intended to be advised by this State.

Those resolutions lie over one day under the rule.

Mr. Turner offered the following order: That it be entered on the journal, that if Mr. Turner, of Baltimore city, as also Messrs. Booze, Seth, Berry, Crowley, McAllister and Dennison, of Baltimore city, had been present on Friday when the resolutions of Messrs. Freaner and Dennis were before the House, they would have voted affirmatively on both propositions. On motion of Mr. Stake his name was also included.

ON MONDAY, October, 2, I opened a large stock of French Goods of my own importation, all of which were carefully selected by myself whilst in Paris last month. I am confident that I now offer the greatest variety and the handsomest goods, at the lowest prices, ever exhibited for sale in Washington city. I therefore earnestly invite the ladies of Washington and vicinity to give me an early call and convince themselves of the truthfulness of what I assert.
The attention of the ladies is respectfully directed to the following most beautiful goods:
Empress Eugenie Head dresses
Flower Head dresses
Marie Stuart Head dresses
White Marabout and Gold Head dresses
Queen Victoria Hair-nets
Chenille and Gold do

Parisian Ruches for Bonnets
A splendid stock of Cloth and Velvet Cloaks
A great variety of Children's Bournous, Paletots and Raglans, both plain and embroidered.
All of the above articles, and a great many others not enumerated, were purchased at the opening of the present Parisian season, and are consequently a whole season in advance of the styles usually found here, as the goods imported to this country are generally ordered the preceding March, and hence are necessarily of the previous fall's Parisian style. Hence, to avoid the annoyance of being always behind the fashions, while making a visit to Europe I stopped a few weeks in Paris and bought the above goods in person, from first hands. I hope the kind patronage of the ladies will enable me to make a yearly trip to Paris, with the sole object of keeping pace with the Parisian fashions, and to have all the new styles of goods here at the same time they appear upon the Paris shelves.
Particular attention given to orders.
Cloaks and Bonnets made to order in latest styles.
N. B.—Ladies wishing any choice articles from Paris may obtain them by leaving their orders with me.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS AND MACHINERY
FALL OF 1859.

THE subscriber, having just returned from his annual tour throughout the New England States, where he has engaged extensively in the manufacture of agricultural Implements and Machinery, would call the attention of Farmers and Dealers in agricultural implements to his facilities for furnishing them with all articles in that line.
At the North (whence I have just returned) I have made arrangements that will enable me to furnish all goods in my line
AT PRICES BEYOND COMPETITION!
Lower than any other House south of N. Y.
Through the representations and experience of many intelligent farmers, I am introducing in this part of the country several new and important features in Farming Implements and Machinery, as also, new and important improvements on machinery now in use.
The subscriber would further say, that from these annual tours he is enabled to obtain all goods in his line directly from the Manufacturers, and not through wholesale establishments, as is usual with Southern Houses, and he is thus enabled to furnish all Implements and Machinery by retail, at wholesale prices.
Hereinmerated Implements and Machinery for this season, all follows:
Threshers and Cleaners combined, of various kinds, with latest improvements
Threshers and Separators, of various kinds, with the latest improvements
Horse Powers, of various kinds, with the latest improvements
Wheat Fans with Balance Wheels, a new feature, made expressly to my order
New Wheat Drills
Cider Mills
Seed Drills
Horse & Ox Carts
Corn and Cob Crushers
Hay, Straw, and Cornstalk Cutters
Huose Hoes, entirely different from any ever offered in this market
New Hay Presses, and all other Machines and Implements for agricultural purposes, too numerous to mention.
New Corn Shellers
Potato Diggers
Hay Cutters
Churns, do. Plows
Being thoroughly conversant with all the various branches of agricultural machinery, with 15 years' practical experience therein, it is to the interest of the farming community to purchase their machines from me, as it frequently occurs in purchasing machinery from persons unacquainted therewith, it is put up in an improper manner, and it more frequently occurs, in the shipment and moving of machinery, that some of the apparently insignificant parts get out of order, which, by the unpractical, is often unobserved, and when observed, they cannot obviate; hence the accidents and mishaps which render machinery, thus purchased, so unprofitable and expensive to the farmer, as in all cases it is at his risk and expense.
☞ All Machinery guaranteed, and carefully inspected before leaving my warehouse.
GUANOS.—Peruvian, Californian, Barbadoe's Fish or Mexican Guano, and all other Fertilizers constantly on hand, and will be sold on the most favorable terms.
BONE DUST—low than ever offered in this District. FIELD & GARDEN SEEDS.
Being thankful to the farming community for their past favors, I hope to merit a continuance of the same.
