Montgomern

Sentince

TO PARTY NOT INCOMMETENT WITH THE PEREDON OF THE PRES

By M. Fields.

ROCKVILLE, MARYLAND, FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 23, 1860.

THE SENTINEL

Is published every Friday morning at One Dellar and Fifty Cents per annum. If paid within six months from the time of subscribing or Two Doubage if not paid antil the expira tion of the year. No paper discontinued until all arrearages are paid, unless at the option of the editor.

ADVENTMENTERS conspicuously inserted at the rate of one dollar per square for the first three insertions, and twenty-five cents for every subsequent insertion. Twelve lines to constitute a square. If the number of insertions be not marked about them, they will be continued until forbid, and charged accordingly. A liberal deduction will be made to those who advertise by the year.

COMMUNICATIONS, the effect of which is to promote, private interests, are matters of charge, and ard to be paid for at the rate of fifty cents per square. All communications must be accompanied with the author's name, otherwise they will not be inserted to Arrertisements for Companies or Associations of any kin l. An onicational, charitable or otherwise, are is all cares to be paid for at the usual rates; an libituary notices or culogies in addition to the announcement, will be charged at the rate of $fty cents per square. earner of the doune, lately occupied by Wu.

THE YOUNG SLEEPER. She sleeps, but the soft breath No longer stirs her golden hat The robber hand of Death | Has stolen thither unaware; The lovely chilice | Is still as beautiful and far,

But mournfully we miss
The gentle inhabitant that sojour With stealthy pace he crept
To the guest-chamber where it he
That angel-thing—and slept
And whispered it to come away;

That light with laughter used to pla The silver strings that tinkled forth so ga

Then with his farger cold He shut the glancing windows too, With fringe of drooping gold, He darkened the small panes of the Sheer from the maride floor. He swept the flowers of crimsen closed the ivery door. And o'er the perch the rosy curtains dret The angel-quest is gone.

Upon the spolice's dark using being:
The read she journeys on

Wonds evermone without return;
To tuin and decay

To usin and decay!

The fairy palace now must turn,

For the sur's carly ray.

Upon light its walls and windows shall not pla.

Nor light its golden roof to-merroy mora.

sace, pieding himself that nothing on the part shall be for modes of reason properly one could interest in the case of the young girl was leasing upon for Arthur was an excellent swipmer.

The part shall be for modes of reason and the case of the country of the case of the lave of a woman, surrounded by suiters more gay, "desirable" and interesting? I know not, but I know it to be the truth. As I found in due time. The surrounded be gers upon the bright and thereful seems ether-al-looking face. She motioned be English throne, one of whom reigned Pharba had no dream nor diought of the I have mentioned from a sit of shud-to bend down. I did so, and she whis-sixty years. The population of the United smoked interminable pipes in Jack's tion drow up to the deer—the portly the deal was slowly but surely going to special den—out-doing all the travelers chariot, the comfortable buggy, the light rejoin her husband, to greet again the of romance in our stories and experiences! sulky, and the old fashiones one-liorse disembedied soul to which she had plight-pearance. Authur was dark, tall, collected alloss grave at times—Ton, on gentlemen, a maid chanced to open the contrary, slight, blue-eyed and gay. They both loved Phobe, but had rever have I seen a more refrect chaos, spoken of their secret to each other or heard a greater. Bable of tongues.

She treated both with the same delected and winning kindness—her habitured and winning kindness—her habitured and winning kindness—her habitured as any one could perceive, was equally fend of them both. I knew actuards, found of them both actuards, found of them both. I knew actuards, found of them both actuards, found of them both. I knew actuards, found of the country, white found of the country is the found of the country, white satio. It was one of those seenes which however, and all knew, that Arthur had, pulling down the folds of a heavy, white satio. It was one of those seenes which family: for I was the friend of Arthur, been performed when Mrs. McCabe was born. When the first white man came was accident, and cause us to reflect. dark, scrious, carnest man so often gains accident, and cause us to reflect.

the lave of a woman, surrounded by I know not why I have entered into I can still see the thin white hand—the She was born a subject of King George Selected Miscellann.

An Extraordinary Life-Death of a special deu—out-doing all the tracefers of romance in our stories and experiences!

It was the riot of health and youthfur romance—not vicious at all however—the stirring of the blood which would have its frolic and its laughter.

Of all the youths there was no one half so popular as Tom Dangerfield, unless it were Arthur Hewston his and my bosom friend. How distinctly they rise now in my vision as I poster:

They were strongly contrasted in personal appearance. Authur was dark, tall, collected all most grave at times—Tom, on gentlemen, a maid chanced to open the gentlemen, a maid chanced to ope

Sign.

An July could be supported to the sum of supported to the supported to the sum of supported to the supported to the supported to the sum of supported to the supported

REVOLUTIONARY ASSETS ATTORE. A correspondent of the Nagliville (Tenylence) Banner, writing from Baltimore, indulges in the following miniscence : The old building at the confluence of Liberty and Sharp streets, in this city, where Congress and other patriotic assemblages met in times past, is soon to be demolished. Compared to modern the demoinance. Company the diminutive in the ght, although having a large front; and only a few years since it was divided in twain by a tall sheet house, which rises like a tower from the two portions left. It blood out, remorally, as it soon will be by modern progress. I must try to ociety, something aliditional to tir the nemories of the purp days of the lieare fast disappearing the all the cities.

The old Fountain Uniel, in Light street, nac old rountain tique, in Light street, here, which used to be Gen. Washing-ton's quarters, while withing the city, still holds its own, shills close by, but half submerged or hummed in by other ildings, is the once ambitious structure, where the gay and patriotic met at Washington's ruceptions so long ago.

Only a year or so spice, the old buildthe last declaration of war against Britain; and as matters progress, it will not be very long before the last vestige of revolutionary times will have disappeared from the streets of our cities for-

Sign of the property of the pr

| The properties of the special part of the special part of the special part of the special part of the part of the special part of the special part of the part of the special part of the special part of the part of the special part of the special part of the special part of the part of the special part of the special part of the part of the special part of the sp