THE SENTINEL.

ROCKVILLE, MD.

FRIDAY, :::::::: JUNE 22, 1860.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.—This body, which adjourned from Charleston to Baltimore city, convened on Monday last at the latter place, and is still in session. Our latest accounts give us nothing decisive. The committee on credentials have been in session since Tuesday morning, and, up to Wednesday night last, were unable to make a report of their conference to the convention. It was thought they would report yesterday morning. We subjoin below, from the Baltimore "Sun," of yesterday, an anticipation of the reports of the committee, founded on rumors which are understood to be reliable:

THE COMMITTEE ON CREDENTIALS.—OUTSIDE RUMORS.—We have rumors respecting the final action of the committee on credentials, which are from outside sources, and are accordingly submitted to the reader without any voucher for their authority. They have the aspect of probability, at least, and were the subject of some exultation on one side last evening, and elicited the expression of a stern and resolute purpose on the other. The majority report, it is said, will be in favor of the Mississippi seceders, there being no contestants. Texas and Florida not being applicants for seats, will not be mentioned in the report.—The Alabama and Louisiana contestants (Douglas) to be admitted in place of the seceding and regular or original delegates. Messrs. Bayard and Whitely, seceders, to be admitted from Delaware. The Arkansas and Georgia seats to be equally divided between seceders or regular delegates and contestants. Mr. Hallett to be rejected from Massachusetts, on the ground that having executed a power of attorney to Mr. Chaffee, he cannot now revoke it.

One or two minority reports will also be made.

Should the majority report prevail with the convention, it is said that nearly all the delegates from the Southern States will withdraw, and probably be accompanied by a considerable number from the free States, who, in conjunction with the regular Southern delegates, will meet in this city, a despatch having been sent to Richmond requesting that convention, which re-assembles to-day, to adjourn forthwith to Baltimore. When the withdrawal takes place, it is believed that the seceding convention will contain the largest number of delegates, although it was claimed that the majority report of the committee on credentials would secure to Mr Douglas 170 votes in the first ballot, should the delegations remain intact.

THE BELL AND EVERETT MASS MEETING.—On Saturday last, the friends of Messrs. BELL and EVERETT had a Mass Meeting and Barbecue at the Fair Grounds, near this place, in accordance with the programme published several weeks since. It was, indeed, a quiet and tame affair—an entire absence of all enthusiasm and interest. There were no visiting speakers; and, indeed, it is well none were present, for they would have had no audience to address.

After dinner, which we learn was ample and very inviting, the meeting was called to order, and A. BOWIE DAVIS, Esq., invited to preside, which position he accepted with his usual grace, and discharged the duties with dignity and elegance. His address was principally laudatory of the Union organization, and condemnatory of the Democratic party. More than one of the positions he assumed are open for comment, which we reserve for future notice.

A threatening storm caused an adjournment to the Court-House, where a few assembled, and were addressed by RICHARD J. BOWIE, Esq., in a very chaste and patriotic speech. The Constitution and the preservation of the Union, was the theme of his discourse. He spoke eloquently of the beneficent provisions of the Constitution, and pathetically of the importance of a continuance of the union of this Confederacy—every sentiment of which found a hearty response in the breasts of all present. He deprecated, in strong language, the re-opening of the African slave trade—a proposition which no one of his audience for a moment ever entertained an idea of favoring. But what struck us most forcibly was, his failure to speak of the organization of the "Union and Constitutional" party as a political organization. We expected to hear something of its principles—its position on the all-absorbing question of slavery in the Territories; but not a word—silent as the tomb; and when he closed, we, for the moment, forgot that it was a political speech that we had listened to—thought only of the Fourth of July and its associations—with our heart full of patriotism, said "Amen!" to almost every thing we had heard. Altogether, this Mass Meeting of the "Union Constitutional" party, as a political gathering, was a failure in its fullest sense.

☞ A despatch to the Baltimore Sun, dated Washington, June 20, says: "Col. Hughes, of Maryland, rendered efficient service as one of the committee of conference in the miscellaneous appropriation bill. Not only are appropriations made for the water works, the capital and treasury extension, but for nearly all minor matters of a local nature."

☞ The Commissioners of Tax closed their session on last Friday, having completed the levy and appointed the collectors. We learn that the county tax is thirty-two cents, State tax ten cents, and School tax fifteen cents, on the hundred dollars. The following gentlemen were appointed as tax collectors:

First District—JOHN ALLNUTT.
Second District—JOHN J. CARLIN.
Third District—JOHN M. VEIRS.
Fourth District—SINGLETON PRATHER.
Fifth District—PERRIE LIZEAR.

The Commissioners also appointed JOSEPH J. BENSON, Constable, for the Third District, vice A. E. SOPER, resigned.

Mr. FORREST, the very efficient clerk to the Commissioners, is preparing for us a statement of the county levy, which we hope to be able to publish next week.

☞ On Thursday night of last week, several young gentlemen, of Cracklin district, in this county, succeeded in arresting "Buck" Leamon, a notorious out-law and desperado, and had him committed to jail, though he was bailed out on Saturday last. When "Buck" was attacked, he made a bold and desperate resistance, and had to be roughly handled and badly pummelled before he was subdued and tied. On his way to jail, he managed to release himself, and was about to escape, when one of the party fired at him which took effect in the thigh, and brought him to. Pity such desperadoes could not be kept in jail until they learn to behave themselves.

☞ A severe hail storm passed over the eastern portion of this county on last Tuesday afternoon, doing considerable damage to the growing crops. Wheat, corn and potatoes were much injured in the neighborhood of Bethesda Church and other portions of this district. Copious and opportune showers have fallen in various portions of the county during the week, making fine seasons for planting tobacco, of which our farmers have availed themselves, and almost every one has finished planting.

☞ On Wednesday last a number of our farmers met upon the well-tilled farm of Mr. S. M. LAMBERT, near this place, to witness the trial of mowers. We learn that five machines were entered for the premium, but which most pleased the committee, we are unadvised. As soon as their decision is made known, we will, with much pleasure, announce to our readers the successful competitor.

☞ Our farmers are now busily engaged in mowing grass and hay-making. Wheat is nearly ripe for the harvester. A few days more of favorable weather will put it beyond the reach of disease or insect. From present appearances, an average yield is anticipated. Corn and oats look remarkably well.

AFFAIRS IN PRINCE GEORGE'S COUNTY. We copy the following from the Planters' Advocate:

Fire from Lightning.—We regret to learn that Mrs. SARAH BOWIE, of this district, met with a serious loss on Saturday last. She had one of her barns, containing a small quantity of tobacco, wagons, carts, thrashing machine, farming implements generally, struck by lightning, and entirely consumed. Loss from $1500 to $2000—and no insurance.—What is a little remarkable, in connection with this fire, it is stated that in an instant after the barn was struck it was completely enveloped in flames in every part, and no one could say where the fire commenced.

Struck by Lightning.—HENRY S. MITCHELL, Esq., had three valuable mules killed by lightning at his farm, near this place, on yesterday morning.—The servant, who was ploughing with them, was considerably stunned by the shock, but not seriously injured.

☞ The following is the law, passed during the last session of the Legislature, in regard to the measurement of potatoes by weight; we publish it for the benefit of Farmers and traders in that article, and also because it is of importance as it affords ample protection to purchasers:

AN ACT to amend the Code of Public General Laws, article ninety-five, relating to weights and measures, by repealing the eighteenth section of said article, and substituting in lieu thereof:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That the eighteenth section of the ninety-fifth article of the Code of Public General Law, relating to weights and measures, be and is hereby repealed, and that the following be substituted therefor:

SEC. 2. Potatoes in this State shall be sold by weight at the rate of fifty-six pounds to the bushel, and any person offending against the provisions of this section shall be subject to a fine of ten dollars, to be recovered before any justice of the peace of the city or county where said offence may be committed.

THE CATTLE DISEASE APPROACHING THE SOUTH.—We see it stated that the disease which has recently destroyed so many cattle in Massachusetts and other of the New England States, has made its appearance in Bucks county, Pa. Within a short time Charles Michener, a farmer of Bristol township, lost nearly all of his valuable cows of a complaint said to resemble very much the dreaded pleuro-pneumonia. If this proves to be the truth, it shows that the disease is steadily spreading and may shortly make its appearance among the herds of Maryland.

☞ "ONE OF THE VOTERS" has been received, and will appear next week.

RESTORATION OF LAW AND ORDER.—We take the two following extracts from Baltimore papers, showing the good effects of the restoration of government to that city. The first is from an account of the Japanese festivities, in the American, and the latter is from an editorial in the Sun:

"It would be unjust to conclude an account of the incidents of the day without speaking of the good temper and remarkable order observed by the people. From fifteen to twenty thousand strangers were in the city; three-fourths of the population of the city were brought into the streets; there was, up to late at night, many thousands gathered in the square, and yet no breach of the peace worth noticing occurred. The police acted with great efficiency and vigor, and had a hard day's work in directing the movements of the crowd, keeping avenues open, &c., but the admirable temper of the people relieved them from all the more disagreeable duties of the office."

"Those who can most distinctly appreciate the great change which has been wrought in the civil condition of our city have abundant cause for gratulation; while none can fail to realize it to some extent and enjoy it—none but those who have been stricken and awed, by the restoration of law with authority; and even these will be benefitted by it in the end, if disposed to abandon the evil and unprofitable villainy to which they have been addicted.

"Our citizens must have been pleasingly impressed with the record of proceedings of Friday last, in view of the occasion and the display incident thereto. From an early hour in the morning till late at night the streets were literally thronged, scores of thousands of people were out, and mostly in their holiday attire, as spectators of the pageant, and so doing honor to the city's guests. And above all, there multitudes of people, including both sexes, all classes and ages, were there in the full sense of security and without the slightest dread, apprehension or even suspicion of annoyance, disturbance, the wantonness of assault or rowdyism of any sort. And at night, from the remotest and obscurest parts of the city, people went in masses to Monument Square to witness the display of fireworks, and returned home—men, women and children—in perfect security, free from insult, threats, robbery or assault. To think of such a state of affairs as this, and what would have been but a few months ago, is enough to elicit a spontaneous expression of joy and the mutual gratulations of the whole people."

THE CENSUS.—We see it stated that some of the deputy marshals appointed for the purpose of taking the census have met with unexpected opposition from some stupid people, who persist in considering their inquiries as impertinent prying into their private affairs. Several such persons have been arrested in New York, and will be prosecuted in the United States Courts for the penalty of $30 prescribed in the following sections of the census law:

SEC. 15. "And be it further enacted, That each and every free person more than twenty years of age, belonging to any family residing in any subdivision, and in case of the absence of the heads and other members of any such family, then any agent of such family shall be, and each of them is hereby required, if thereto requested by the marshal or his assistant, to render a true account, to the best of his or her knowledge, of every person belonging to such family, in the various particulars required in and by this act, and the tables thereto subjoined, on pain of forfeiting thirty dollars to be sued for and recovered in an action of debt by the assistant, to the use of the United States.

SEC. 16. And be it further enacted, That all fines and penalties herein provided for may be entered in the courts of the United States within the States or Territories where such offence shall have been committed or forfeiture incurred."

Probably the existence of this law is unknown to the majority of our residents, and we therefore commend it to their attention. A courteous and civil answer will not be thrown away even in the case of a Census Marshal.

DROWNED.—The Howard county "Enterprise" says: Mrs. Rebecca Davis, youngest daughter of the late Joseph Lishear, of this county, was found in the dam at Woodberry, on Sunday morning, the 10th instant. It appears that on Saturday evening she walked out on the bank of the Falls with her cousin, a young girl of some thirteen summers, and observed to her how beautiful the water looked. She lingered behind, and her cousin missing her, went back but could see nothing of her; alarm having been given, persons searched around, but could find nothing but her shawl. The search was continued until Sunday morning, when her body was found by dragging in the dam. Her eyes and forehead were much injured, probably from the fall, as it is several feet from the bank to the surface of the water at the point where she was found. The remains were brought to Lisbon on Monday morning, and buried by the side of her father and mother in the Presbyterian burial ground. Mrs. Davis was married in March, 1859, but from some unknown cause did not live with her husband, but with a married sister in Baltimore until a few days ago, when she went to spend a few days with an uncle at Woodberry, Baltimore county. She was heard to say she wanted to get one more letter from her husband; this she received the day before her death, and immediately answered it. As soon as her body was found, the family telegraphed to him to inform him of the sad occurrence, and to be present at the funeral. He resides in Virginia, and the shock must have been great to him.

☞ Hon. A. H. Stephens, of Georgia, is exceedingly unwell from attacks of vertigo with which he has recently been visited.

☞ Monday next is fixed for the adjournment of the thirty-sixth congress.

PRESENTATION OF THE BELTS.—The London Times of the 31st ult. devotes a column to a report of the presentation of the belts to the rival champions of the prize ring, Heenan and Sayers. The presentation took place at the Alhambra Palace, Leicester Square, in the presence of a large audience. The "champions," who were introduced by a Mr. Caldwell, as the "two bravest men who had honored the world since the days of Wellington and Napoleon," were loudly cheered. Before the addresses were delivered which were to precede the award, the pugilists advanced half-way towards each other, and cordially shook hands, in token of their final reconciliation. The first belt of the two was presented to Heenan, accompanied by an address written on parchment, which was formally read, amid the vociferous cheering of the concourse. The belt, a massive piece of silver, about three inches in width, bearing the inscription, "Champion of England," and ornamented with several designs emblematical of the prize ring, was then handed to Heenan, who straightway buckled it around his waist, amid loud and prolonged applause.

LOOK OUT.—The Census-man will soon be hobbin' round and Old Bachelors and Old Maids should hunt up their ages, and screw up their courage and consciences to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, as near as the delicate nature of the case will admit of! Self-preservation we all know, is the first law of nature and it is not expected that any chronic lady or gentleman will damage their prospects by telling their exact age, much less over-rating it—not by any manner of means. The Marshals are instructed not to press them too closely, particularly the ladies, on this delicate point, but where there is any hesitancy in answering, to examine the teeth provided the dentist has not been ahead of them. In case of a total refusal to answer, the Marshal has the power to impose a fine of thirty dollars. It is expected that the fines accruing from this source alone, over the United States, will be sufficient to pay the expenses of taking the Census, with enough left to purchase the Island of Cuba.—Chambersburg (Pa.) Valley Spirit.

POETICAL JOKES.—The Republican ticket is exceedingly appropriate—true to its design. Devoted to the interests of Ham's descendants, it begins and ends with its index finger pointing to the colored race; thus:—Abraham and Hamlin!—Bath Times.

At the Chicago convention one enthusiastic individual, not very well posted on politics or politicians, waited anxiously on the outskirts of the crowd to learn when the nomination was made. Like many others we had heard nothing but Seward—Seward—Seward—for days before, from the busy lobby. When the shouting broke forth, he inquired eagerly, "Who's nominated?" and received for a reply, "Why, old Abe, of course." This was enough, and starting down street at a twenty [illegible] the inquirer rushed in hot haste into the midst of a crowd of friends, anxious to be the first bearer of the news, and shouted, with stentorian lungs, "Hoorah, boys! The nomination's made! Three cheers for old Abe Seward!"

Mr. Everett's Campaign Motto—"Hang out your Bonnets," &c.—[Shaks: Improved.]

The New York Courier, Col Webb, which supports Lincoln, declares with emphasis, "that William H. Seward was sacrificed to the most infamous and systematic falsehoods, having their foundation in personal malice, and the desire of revenge, cruelly exercised by a few worthless men of no true religious friends, whose position gave them an influence to which they were not justly entitled."

The "Kirby Reaper" and Horatio Trundle.

EDITOR SENTINEL: The following letter from Mr. HORATIO TRUNDLE, one of the best farmers of the country, and whose judgment and opinion as to the relative value of Reapers and Mowers is exceedingly valuable to the farmer, speaks for itself. Respectfully, yours,

JESSE T. HIGGINS.

EXETER, near Leesburg, Loudon Co., Va., May 22d, 1860.

MR. JESSE T. HIGGINS: Dear Sir: Hearing that my name is being used in Montgomery, in connection with the "Kirby Reaping and Mowing machine," as having purchased one, and as giving it preference over the "McCormick," I hasten to write to you and state how far and in what way I have had any thing to do with this machine.

The agent of the Kirby machine called on me and proposed to send me a machine to use at the coming harvest—expecting that if it worked satisfactorily, I would give him a certificate to that effect, he supposing that this might be of advantage to his machine, and neither he or myself having any idea of my purchasing the machine.

I told him I owned three McCormick machines and was perfectly satisfied with them as Reapers and Mowers, but that he might do as he proposed; that the machine should have a fair chance, and that if there was any thing better than what I had, I would like to see it. He sent the machine and I had it set up in the Court-House yard at Leesburg, where I have seen it and examined it thoroughly. Since which upon being pressed by the agent to give my opinion of the machine I have to tell him frankly that I considered it, in many IMPORTANT FEATURES, very greatly inferior to say McCormick's, and in regard to some or two minor points, where said reapers were claimed I considered them about on a par. I was satisfied from what I had learned of "McCormick's Improved McCormick for 1860," that in those points "McCormick's" was ahead of it. Inasmuch as I promised I'd send him word as to the machine, I will do so, if it should remain till harvest, though I regret if I'd [illegible] hearing my opinion he will leave it, if not other good farmer will try it. I have not failed to see the "Improved McCormick for 1860"—but have no doubt from what I have been told by those who have seen it, that it is a magnificent machine, and very far ahead in all the most important features of a good Reaper and Mower of all others now before the public.

The farmers of Loudoun are going in for the "McCormick" this year.

You are at liberty to make such use of this [illegible] you please.

In haste, very respectfully, yours,

HORATIO TRUNDLE.
