The North and the Fugitive Slave Law.

The last number of De Bow's Review gives an account of the States which prohibit their officials and citizens from aiding in the execution of the "fugitive slave law;" in other words, which have nullified and broken the Constitution of the United States. They are as follows:

Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Michigan, New York, New Jersey, Vermont, Rhode Island, Wisconsin.

States which deny the use of all public edifices in aid of the master, are Maine, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Michigan.

States which provide defence for the fugitive, are
Maine, Vermont, Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin,

States which declare the fugitive free, if brought by their master into the State, are Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont.

State that declares him free absolutely, is
New Hampshire.

The following are some of the cheerful prospects before a citizen of any southern State who has the old-fashioned notion in his head that he is living under the Constitution of the United States, and endeavors to reclaim his property, as provided by that instrument:

States.	Fine.	Imprisonment.
In Maine	$1000	5 years.
In Vermont	2000	15 years.
In Massachusetts	5000	5 years.
In Connecticut	5000	5 years.
In Pennsylvania	1000	3 months.
In Indiana	5000	14 years.
In Michigan	1000	10 years.
In Wisconsin	1000	2 years.
In Iowa	1000	5 years.

It will be seen by the above that the northern States are nearly all in a position of practical disunion, that is, they have refused to sustain the Constitution which their fathers adopted. In June, 1851, Daniel Webster, in a speech at Capon Springs, Va., remarked:

"I do not hesitate to say and repeat, that if the northern States refuse wilfully and deliberately to carry into effect that part of the Constitution which respects the restoration of fugitive slaves, the South would no longer be bound to observe the compact. A bargain broken on one side is a bargain broken on all sides."

Now, according to Daniel Webster, and he is generally regarded as good authority at the North, the South are to-day justified in presuming that this confederation of States, framed for mutual protection and benefit, is at an end. We suppose there are some who yelp so loud for "the Union" that they would ask the South to be quiet and submissive, even under John Brown forays and Texas burnings. No calamity, with such people, not even universal black and white amalgamation, is half so much to be deplored as the breaking up of a government which has outlived its uses, and if any person be bold enough to ask that this government shall be restored to its original functions, that it shall restore runaway negroes and protect southern citizens equally with northern citizens, why forthwith, from "the squatter" organs and from the Bell-Everett journals, he is denounced as "a disunionist" and a "fire eater." The truth is, the only way to preserve the Union, and the only way it ought to be preserved, is for the North to simply try how it will seem to be honest. Let us perform our agreements. The work of preserving the Union is to be done here. The North is overflowing with disunionists, for every man is a disunionist, who refuses to abide by the obligations of the Constitution to return fugitive "slaves," or who denies southern men an equal protection in the common Territories, which the Supreme Court says they are entitled to. Those who abide by the Constitution are "Unionists," and hence the entire South, so far as we know, are "Unionists," at least the majority, while at the North, in the present state of public opinion, it is probable that the majority are "disunionists." For proof of this, try to pass in any so-called "Union Meeting" at the North, a simple resolution, taken word for word, from the decision of the United States Supreme Court, and it would be hooted down—Bellites, Douglasites and Lincolnites all assisting in the clamor.—It gives us no pleasure to state these facts, but they are facts nevertheless, that some time or other, unless altered, will bring on a terrible collision between the North and the South.—Our people ought to look them in the face, for the Union cannot forever be saved under an unmeaning form of words which deceive the people and blind them to the real questions in issue. The good physician is the bold one who, despite pain and writhing, probes the sore to its seat. So in the present juncture he is the true friend of the Union who bravely calls the public attention to the old landmarks of the Constitution, and shows that the only safety is to cling to that instrument, not as falsely interpreted by Black Republicans, or loosely construed by the followers of Douglas and Bell, but as boldly presented by the friends of Breckinridge and Lane. They are the only candidates now standing squarely on the Constitution, and hence the only ones to whom every Union man can safely look for the preservation of all that every patriot holds dear.—Day Book.

WHO ARE THE BOLTERS?—Senator Bright, in his speech at Patriot, answered this question most pointedly. Hear him: "I know at some places (it may be so here) there are men ready to say, 'You are a bolter—you are outside of the Democratic party.' 'If I am a bolter, my friends, I am found in company I am proud of. [Applause.] Is the President of the United States a bolter—the man who was baptized forty years ago in the Democratic party, and has been its faithful friend and advocate, filling from the least to the highest offices you have to give? Are the seven members of Mr. Buchanan's Cabinet bolters—beginning with General Cass, that old patriarch and pillar of the party here in the Northwest, for fifty years?—(for, fifty years ago, Lewis Cass held a commission from the hands of the immortal Jefferson—the only man now living who ever held a commission from that apostle of the Democratic party.) Is Lewis Cass a bolter? Are thirty-six out of thirty-eight Democratic Senators of the United States, bolters? Are nine-tenths of the Democratic members of Congress, bolters?—Are such men as Franklin Pierce, the late President of the United States; Gen. W. O. Butler, your neighbor; Daniel S. Dickinson, of New York, and that grade of men, whom you can name one after another by scores, bolters? Are they all bolters, and all wrong, and this little immaculate squatter sovereign from Illinois, right? [Laughter.] I answer, 'Sad criticism—sad commentary on the history of the Democratic party, if all its brains and all its heart are merged in the person of one single little man.' [Laughter and applause.] Is it not so, my friends?"

WARM TIMES IN FLORIDA.—In Calhoun county, Fla., on the 25th ult., the "Regulators" killed Jesse Durden, Willis Musgrove and Larkin O. Musgrove, charged with murderous crimes. The first brigade of Florida militia has been called out to operate against them. Judge Finly, of the United States District Court of Western Florida, has declared the country to be in a "state of insurrectionary war."

EXTRA SESSION.—The Governor of South Carolina has issued a proclamation calling an extra session of the Legislature of that State, for the purpose of electing presidential electors, and, "if advisable, to take action for the safety and protection of the State."

BAUGH'S
RAW-BONE
SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME.

ANALYSIS:
7 to 8 Per Cent. of Ammonia, and 54 Per Cent. Bone-Phosphate of Lime.

FOR FALL SEEDING it is a most invaluable manure, being made from pure Raw-Bone.

IT ACTS DIRECTLY—bringing forward the young shoots of the grain and grass, giving them a vigorous growth, healthy color, and imparting strength and stamina.

IT IMPROVES THE LAND PERMANENTLY. It does not, like Peruvian Guano, stimulate the growing crop, and leave the soil exhausted, but leaves the land permanently benefitted.

FARMERS AND PLANTERS GIVE IT A TRIAL.

It is rapidly working its way into favor, and is a reliable fertilizer.

Price $45 per ton of 2,000 lbs., in Baltimore, in strong sacks of 160 lbs. each.
