Poetry.

The Time to Marry.

The would-be wise this counsel give—
"Let Love's fond passion cool,
The man who early weds will live
To think himself a fool.
The gathering chain that frets his limb,
Wears deeper day by day,
Experience little teaches him,
Who gives his heart away.
He wisely weds who weddeth late,
A thrifty, unimpassioned mate."

When wrinkled oaks shall twining cling,
With tendrils like the vine,
When ravens, like the linnet, sing
With melody divine;
When honey drops from withered leaves
And not from summer flowers,
When winter brings us golden sheaves,
The snow drift sunny hours,
When truth abused makes falsehood right,
Go withering wed and find delight.

The trembling notes the young birds wake,
Rise sweetly into tune,
As April buds expanding make
The flowery wealth of June;
So love begun in life's young day,
Matures with manhood's prime—
Defies the canker of decay,
And stronger grows with time.
Oh, early quaff Love's nuptial wine,
And all that's best in life is thine.

Selected Miscellany.

WHAT WE LIKE TO SEE.—The following, which we clip from an exchange, sounds so much like what we have heard now and then that we print it. If any who read it recognise, their daguerreotype, we hope they will study the picture attentively and show some signs of repentance.

We like to see a man refuse to take his local paper, and then borrow it from his neighbor. We like to hear a man complain when you ask him to subscribe for his home paper, that he takes more than he can read now, and cannot afford it. We like to hear a man run down his home paper as not worth taking, and every now and then go or send to the editor for some favor in the editorial line. We like to hear a man complain because the paper contains so many advertisements, and threaten to stop it if they are not taken out, and then refuse year after year to pay his subscription, or wonder if the paper goes down why it could not live. We like to see a merchant or mechanic refuse to advertise in his local paper, and then strive to get a share of the trade the paper brings to the place, by advancing its interests, as good newspapers always do. We like to have men threaten to "stop their paper," if the editorials and character of it do not come up to their preconceived standard of politics, science and literature. We like to have them dictate what course an editor should pursue, simply because they are subscribers, and particularly if they have not paid their subscription in advance. But above all things, we like to see men of wealth and property refuse to sustain the local press, which is constantly enhancing the value of their property by advocating the interests of the town. It looks so economical and thrifty.

A correspondent of the Columbus (South Carolina) Times, gives the following melancholy illustration of the uncertainty of the types. A young gentleman by the name of Conkey, having been united by the holy bonds of wedlock sent the marriage notice, with a verse of his own composition, to the printer for publication.

"Married—At Gosham, July 28th, A. Conkey, Esq., Attorney at Law, to Miss Eupheunia Wiggins.

"Love is the Union of two hearts
That beat in softest melody,
Time, with its ravages, imparts
No bitter fusion to its ecstacy."

He looked with much anxiety for the issue of the Gosham Sentinel, in order to see his name in print.

The compositor into whose charge the notice was placed, happened to be on a spree at the time, and made a wonderful blunder in setting the types. Here is the notice as printed.

"Married—At Gosham, July 28, A Donkey, Esq., Eternally at Law, to Miss Eupheunia Piggins.

"Jove is an onion of two heads
That belts in soft mellowy;
Time with its cabbage head imparts
No better feed to an extra dray."

The feelings of the said Alexander Conkey, on seeing this piece, can better be imagined than discribed.

OLD NEWSPAPERS.—Many people take newspapers, but few preserve them; the most interesting reading imaginable, is a file of old newspapers. It brings up the very age with all its genius and its spirit, more than the most labored description of the historian.—Who can take a paper dated half a century ago, without the thought that almost every name there printed, is now cut upon a tombstone, at the head of an epitaph? The doctor (quack or regular) that there advertised his medicines and their cures, have followed the sable train of his patients—the merchant his ships—and the actor who could make others laugh or weep, can now only furnish a skull for his successors in Hamlet. It is easy to preserve newspapers, and they will repay the trouble, for like wine their value increases with their age.

—Should the eye or any other part be blackened by a fall or blow, apply a cloth wrung out of very warm water, and renew it until the pain ceases. The moisture and heat liquify the blood, and send it back to its proper channel. Never use cold water to a bruise.

—Give me a kiss, my charming Sal, said a lover to a blue-eyed gal; No; that I won't, you lazy elf, screw up your lips and help yourself.

—A scurrilous Western editor says he sometimes blushes that he is a man. His friends often blush that he isn't.

When a man has been intemperate so long that shame no longer paints a blush upon his cheek, his liquor generally does it instead.

EXTRAORDINARY AGRICULTURE.—The man who planted a dagger in his enemy's breast, raised a crop of hemp that elevated him in the world.

A WIFE's farewell to her husband every morning—buy—buy.

HAGERSTOWN ADVERTISEMENTS.

GEISER'S
PATENT SELF-REGULATING
GRAIN SEPARATOR,
CLEANER AND BAGGER,
AND THE LATEST IMPROVED
Iron Tripple-Geared
HORSE-POWER,
All furnished Complete, if desired, on Four Wheels.

THE subscribers desire to call the attention of the Farmers and Thrashermen of Montgomery and adjoining counties to their Improved Machine for the present year. This machine has now been before the public for six years, during which time it has earned for itself the reputation of being the best Separator in use; and we have made some very important improvements and additions for the present year, which renders it still more perfect, and we take pleasure in recommending it to the public, knowing that it cannot fail to give general satisfaction. We are now manufacturing two different sizes, as follows:

No. 1, the large size, is 8 horse power, 36 inch Iron Cylinder, Trunk 37½ inches wide, with Stacker, delivering the straw 30 feet beyond the feeder and up on the stack 16 feet high, and can be easily managed either to carry the chaff with the straw, or deliver it in a separate place if required. It bags the grain, by reasonable management, sufficiently clean for market, and its capacity, under ordinary circumstances, is from 20 to 40 bushels per hour, or from 200 to 500 bushels per day, using eight horses and the same number of hands; but to force the work, under the most favorable circumstances, it will do considerably more, with the same number of horses and less hands. It will thrash and clean as much or more grain per day than any other machine now in common use and with much more ease and agreeableness to the hands.

No. 2 is the same as No. 1, except something less in size and capacity; it is from 7 to 8-horse power, 30-inch Iron Cylinder, Trunk 31 inches wide.

Persons having good Thrashers, can have Separators suitable to their capacity, attached, at a comparatively small cost. All our machines are sold under a warrantee.

We being practical mechanics, and being engaged in the manufacture of these machines for the last five years, and one of us having the advantage of twenty years practical experience in the thrashing machine business, and having in our employ the most skillful workmen, and using the best material, we flatter ourselves that we are now prepared to manufacture these celebrated machines in the most [illegible] manner.

REPAIRING done in workmanlike manner. All our work warranted to give satisfaction, and [illegible] Orders respectfully solicited.
