have already mentioned that the dwelling of Sign of the Projecting Arming! Mr. James R. Stavely, at Still Pond Cross Roads, Kent county, Md., was entirely deatroyed by fire on Sunday night week, and that his son, aged starty six years, and a servant girl, aged fifteen, pertished in the fames. The Kent News says:

The flames had made such progress before the family was aroused as to render it imposible to save only a portion of the furniture, sibis to save only a portion of the furniture. Starely is reported to the furniture, which is the part of the flame of the flame of the flame of the flame of the start of the same time directed the servant girl, aged about affect took a child in their arms and fled from took a child in their arms and fled from thouse, and at the same time directed the servant girl to save the remaining child, this vant girl to save the remaining child, this vant girl to save the remaining child, this vant girl to save the remaining child, this was making her way down stairs, but because lewildered and lost be way near the head of the steps, as after the fire the bones of both were found in close proximity and in a location justifying this inference. The origin of the fire was at first thought to have been actively in the proposed to the steps, as after the fire was affirmed that two persons were seen running from the house.

Mr. Starely is reported to be an industrious and estimable citizes, and his pecuniary loss by this fire was the accumulation of years to fall and the strain of years and the strains grades, it large and $1,400, on which there was an insurance of $600 only on the house.

ALEXANDRIA .- The storm of wind and rain

ALEXANDRIA.—The storm of wind and rain which prevailed on Monday and Tuesday last, has created heavy freshets along the Potomac and Rappahannock rivers. At Alexandria. V.a., the tide rose to an unusual height on Tuesday, and did considerable damage. From the Gazette we take the following particulars:

The upper coal wharves were overflowed. The American coal wharf was also in great part under the water, but we have heard found damage to vessels at any of these wharves. Fish Town was entirely submerged. The occupants of some of the boarders at "Robinson's blide!" inade their way to terra firms over the roofs of aljacent houses. At nightfall, Fishtown was a "waste of waters," the Potomac dashing as freely through it as though it were the bed of the river. The wharf of the New York and Virginia Screw Strumship Company was covered, and much of the planking of the adjoining wharf disturbed by the tide.

The lumber whervas in the vicinity of Union and Queen streets were sufferers to a limited evicted.

The Wharf and Union street merchants sufto a great extent to successfully guard fered somewhat from the inundation, but the rise taking place in daylight, they were enabled to a great extent to successfully guard against it. This tibbd almost rivals that of 1847, failing but five inches below the highest tide of that year.

The New York Tribune of the 10th inst.

announced, with positive certainty, that the principal object of the military and naval expedition which had sailed from that harbor within the past four days, is the relief of Fort Sunter. It adds:

Sunter. It adds:

"Precisely what forces for operations on land will arrive off Charleston Co-night or to-morrow, we cannot say, but we judge that the number must be some 2,000 of the best fighting men in the service of the government, the number must be some 2,000 of the best fighting men in the nervice of the government, fully equipped and provided for the duty ther will be required to perform. Ample conveniences for landing men, horses and gnus, form a part of the expedition. Its commander is Lieut. Col. Harvey Brown, of the 2d Artillery, an officer of tried gallantry and judgment. As the weather has been favora lyder we suppose that all the vessels of the fleet will great the renderyous some time to morrow of ext day, and of coarse no time will be lost in occeding to the business. In hand, A small steading of which three attend the expedition, will a sent in to the fort, bearing stores of food and hard for the destitute garrison; and, if allowed to pass on its errand, all will be well, and there will be no fighting but if repelled by force, the reals will, without any unnecessary delay, he might that there is still a power in the United Status, and that this power cannot well be inabled with impunity.
