War Department.
On similar morains last, I discovered that a detachment of troops, under command of Brig. Gen. E. F. Butler, half exched Annapolic in a cleaning and had taken presention of the practice ship Contolution, which, during that day, they succeeded in getting dutside the harron of Annapolit, where she now lies. After getting the ship off, the steamer had outside our Larbor, and was soon loined by another atenuer, having on board the Swenth Regiment from New York city.

Brig. Gen. Butler addressed me, asking for parmission to land his strees. It will be seen, from the correspondence benevith submitted, that I refused my content. The major of Annapolis also protested. But both stewners soon afterwards landed at the Nava Academy and put off the troops. Subsequently other large bodies of troops-teached here in transports and were landed. It was notified that the troops were to be usrched to Washington. They desired to go wittion obstruction from our people; but they had orders to go to Nashington and were determined to ober those orders. In furtherance of their designs they took military possession of the Annapolis and Elk Ridge railmad; in, regard to which act. I forwarded to Brig. Gen. Butler the protest and Elk Ridge railmad; in, regard to which act. I forwarded to Brig. Gen. Butler the protest and treview of the reply helpswith submitted. On Wednesday morning the two detachments first landed took up the line of march fut Washington. The people of Annapolis, though greatly exasperated, acting nufler counsel of the most prudent citizena, refrained from indesting or obstructing the troops under counsel of the most prudent citizena, refrained from undesting or obstructing the troops when had transpred in Baltimore, I deemed lift my daty to make another appeal to the authorities at Weshington. Accordingly I sent a special messenger to Washington, with a dispatch to the administration advising that the more throops he sent through Maryland; that the troops at Annapolis se sent elsewhere Land or page that a
