

JAN

1863

THE SENTINEL.

ROCKVILLE, MD.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 2, 1863.

The Holidays.

Substitutes Accepted.

The following are the names of the substitutes who were accepted by General Shriver, since the 13th ult., for persons drafted in this county: Henry Davis, of Ohio, for Richard L. Thompson; T. A. Nelson, of Sweden, for John Williams; John Hoyt, of Philadelphia, for Levin Limer; David Berg, of Pennsylvania, for John Crossdale; Christol Dalton, of

The Rebel Bomb-Shell.

The Providence (R.I.) Post places the above head over its remarks on the late proclamation of President Davis. The Post goes on to say: It is called forth by the butcheries and barbarities of that disgrace to civilization, Benjamin F. Butler, by the grace of Abraham Lincoln, a Major General of Volunteers, and commander of a department in the Federal army; and by the emancipation proclamation of the President of the United States.

DRAFTED MEN

CAN BE ACCOMMODATED WITH SUBSTITUTES,
AT VERY LOW PRICES,
WASHINGTON HOTEL,

THE DRAFT IS OVER!

WE would inform the Farmers and others of Montgomery county, that we have, at present, a very large and good stock of—
SADDLES
RIDING BRIDLES
CARRIAGE HARNESS
WAGON GEARING
BLIND BRIDLES
COLLARS

STOLEN.

WAS STOLEN from the subscriber, on Monday night last, a Light Bay MARE, four years old, last spring, with a star in the forehead, and a hard lump on the left thigh. If the person now in possession of the above Mare, will give to the subscriber such information as will lead to the identification of the thief, he may retain the animal; or, if the thief cannot be detected, I will give one-half the value of the Mare for her return to me.