

Selected Miscellany.

From the Crisis. Reply to Beecher--Comfort in the Church.

"We need more martyrs; we need more blooded. Blood is the wine of nations. God feeds them on blood. When I read this evening of Burnside's retreat across the Rappahannock, of 6,000 or 7,000 brave men, many of them of the best blood of New England, sacrificed for nothing, my heart sank within me; but when I looked again I gathered up my courage, for I believe this is God's cause. Let us thank God we have them to give, as we have plenty more in reserve to give if needed.--Beecher's New York Independents.

The blood of thirteen thousand Northern youth leered on Rappahannock's high, And cold and stark all torn by cannon's ruth, Lie mangled men--a ghastly sight! And yet, a teacher of the Gospel comes To give a God of mercy thanks That thirteen thousand brave Northern youth Will march to bleed on Rappahannock's banks.

In gray grave, 'neath stone without a name, There sleeps my noble eldest born; His comely brother drags a battered frame, A wreck so early in life's morn. And now, meek Priest or Him who wore the thorn, Would't it bid my heart its anguish stay, And lead to know my gallant youngest born Would waste a life as usefully as they?

Is there a mission from the Lamb Divine? Or didst thou come red-handed forth From butcher's stambus to Religion's shrine. A desolation to the North? For country's sake, I bear my dreary lot, So long as Nature's self can bear; But when my woes reach Christ's dear aid, send out A fend to mock my anguish and despair. CORBUHOV.

"WEDDING FEES--The religious papers occasionally get off a spicy item. The reverend editor of one of these papers, in a recent issue, says: "In our experience, we have married persons for 371 cents; we have married on trust; and we have married for a counterfeit bill."--Dr. Bestien, in copying this item, adds: "We may soften our German friends' grievances by quoting the case of the minister who received as a wedding fee a salt codfish, which, when he had taken it home for his table, was chiefly eaten by the bride and groom, who called upon him at dinner!"

Harper's Weekly for the present week gives the President a hard hit.--Mr. Lincoln is represented as a theatrical manager before the footlights. His attitude is obsequious in the extreme. The following is his little announcement: Manager Lincoln--Ladies and Gentlemen, I regret to say that the tragedy entitled, "The Army of the Potomac," has been withdrawn, on account of quarrels among the leading performers, and I have substituted three new and striking farces or burlesques; one, entitled "The Repulse at Vicksburg," by the well-known popular favorite, E. M. Stanton, Esq., and the others, "The Loss of the Harriet Lane," and "The Exploits of the Alabama"--a very sweet thing in farces, I assure you--by the veteran composer, Gideon Welles.

A very robust, healthy-looking man, weighing about one hundred and ninety pounds, entered a doctor's office to get a certificate of exemption. On being questioned if he was able to do a day's work, he said he could do more than any other man in the place. Can you carry a mule and knapsack all day? "Yes, he could, and his weight, too." Can you walk a race-horse can run? "Yes, further than a race-horse can run!" Well, what is the matter? "I'm a d-d fool and can prove it--I voted for Abraham Lincoln!"

HAPPINESS AND DUTY.--We know of nothing more contemptible, unmanly, or unwomanly for happiness. Those who have the most of it, think the least about it. But in the thinking about and doing your duty, happiness comes--because the heart and mind are occupied with earnest thought that touches at a thousand points the beautiful and sublime realities of the Universe; the heart and mind are brought--we say it with reverence--in contact with the Creator and Father and Ruler of all--the perfect bliss.

While hunting after deserters in New York the other day, the U. S. officers discovered in a house in Brooklyn, in a bed where reposed a charming young lady, a very animated bolster! It proved to be a soldier enveloped in the cotton casing, who, when pinched, gruffly exclaimed, "I'll fight the whole d-d lot of you!" He was relieved of such a task, however, and reclaimed to the service of Uncle Samuel.

The Louisville Journal says that "if Mr. Lincoln, gazing abroad throughout the whole country that he was elected to preside over, does not regret his election more than almost any other man in the nation, bitterly as millions regret it, he must be almost the weakest or worst man in the nation."

The pompous epitaph of a close-fisted citizen closed with the following passage of Scripture: "He that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord." "Dat may be so," soliloquized Sambo; "but when dat man died de Lord didn't owe him a red cent."

Mechanics and chemistry are hand-maid arts; the one furnishes the instruments, the other supplies the materials.

FOUTZ'S Celebrated Horse and Cattle POWDERS. THESE POWDERS have proved, after a trial of several years, to be superior to any preparation of the kind in use. The chief property of these powders arises from the fact that they are composed of medicines that have laxative, tonic and purifying properties--the laxative effects creditable from the stomach and intestines; the tonic gives strength to the system of the horse, and the purifying medicines contained in them cleanse the blood, and lay the foundation for a healthy and vigorous circulation. The use of them improves the wind, strengthens the appetite, and gives the horse a fine, smooth and glossy skin--thus improving the appearance, vigor and spirit of this noble animal. These powders are not intended, as most powders are, to heat the animal, so to give him the appearance of being fat when he is really so--but to regulate his disease and promote his general health. These powders will strengthen the stomach and intestines, cleanse them from obnoxious matter, and bring them to a healthy state. They are a sure prevention of Lung Fever, and a certain remedy for all diseases incident to the above diseases, such as Croup, Hoarse Coughs, Fever, Loss of Appetite, and Vital Energy, &c. The powders, if used two or three times a week, through the winter and spring, your horse will never get the Lung Fever, Cholera, or Hoarse Cough, and cure Frost Bites, as this powder will remove the worst cough on any horse. Were owners of horses to feed a few of these powders every year, they might save the lives of many valuable horses. MILK COWS. The properties of this powder possess in increasing the quantity of milk it gives it an importance and value which should place it in the hands of every person keeping a cow. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster. HOGS. In all diseases of Swine, as Coughs, Cholera in the Lungs and Liver, &c., by putting from half a paper to a paper of these powders in a barrel of swill, the above diseases can be cured or entirely prevented. By using these powders, the Hog Cholera can be prevented. Prepared by S. A. FOUTZ, Westminister, Maryland. For sale, by JOHN H. HIGGINS, Rockville, Md.; and Druggists and Storekeepers every where.
