

THE SENTINEL.

SUMMARY OF WAR NEWS.

The subjoined summary of War News, for the past week, we extract from the Baltimore Globe.

Saturday, May 2.—Concerning the Confederate raid into Western Virginia, there are rumors in abundance, but the facts are few. The actual amount of damage done to the western section of the Baltimore and Ohio Railway is at present unknown. It is said to appear to have been ascertained by the Government, in the light of the most important at Gettysburg, one of the Baltimore and Ohio points on the Baltimore side have been captured. The Confederates also lost, but eventually succeeded in getting the railroad into the hands of the whole Federal army. Col. Mullin was killed and 1,200 men were taken prisoner, including the loss of the 11th Maryland. The raiding party extended into Fayette county, but for only a few miles into the interior. At the last advice received, the Federal and Confederate forces were in contact at the mouth of the Potomac, and it is asserted, had seized large quantities of cattle and horses and sent them southward. The extent of the raid, both in the amount of damage done and of spoils taken at various points, is said to exceed that of any previous excursion of a similar character. The impression of the military authorities that the number of Confederates engaged in it is comparatively small.

Of the six train parties that attempted to run the batteries at Vicksburg, we now learn that four are known to have been sunk, and that the other two, if they got off, were badly damaged.

There were serious apprehensions at Washington that the Confederate raid would result in the Federal army being driven from the Potomac, and that the Federal Government would be compelled to evacuate the city. It was reported that several train parties had been captured and the Confederates were in possession of the Potomac. It was also reported that the Federal army was being driven back towards the city.

As the latest news from Fort Royal, the troops were evacuating on the 19th, and the Confederates were in possession of the place. It was also reported that the Federal army was being driven back towards the city.

There were serious apprehensions at Washington that the Confederate raid would result in the Federal army being driven from the Potomac, and that the Federal Government would be compelled to evacuate the city. It was reported that several train parties had been captured and the Confederates were in possession of the Potomac. It was also reported that the Federal army was being driven back towards the city.

Monday, May 4.—An order from General Hooker was issued on the evening of Thursday last, directing that, hereafter, all newspaper correspondents, when on duty in the army, should report the operations of the Army of the Potomac, and the movements of the Federal forces, to the military authorities. It was also reported that the Federal army was being driven back towards the city.

Monday, May 4.—An order from General Hooker was issued on the evening of Thursday last, directing that, hereafter, all newspaper correspondents, when on duty in the army, should report the operations of the Army of the Potomac, and the movements of the Federal forces, to the military authorities. It was also reported that the Federal army was being driven back towards the city.

Monday, May 4.—An order from General Hooker was issued on the evening of Thursday last, directing that, hereafter, all newspaper correspondents, when on duty in the army, should report the operations of the Army of the Potomac, and the movements of the Federal forces, to the military authorities. It was also reported that the Federal army was being driven back towards the city.

Tuesday, May 5.—We surrender a good portion of our space this morning, to the reports of the correspondents of the New York Tribune and the Times. The reports are of a nature that is not believed that General Johnston will advance against General Rosecrans in the position occupied by the latter. It is believed that General Johnston will move out of his position for the Confederate commander to an engagement.

Monday, May 4.—An order from General Hooker was issued on the evening of Thursday last, directing that, hereafter, all newspaper correspondents, when on duty in the army, should report the operations of the Army of the Potomac, and the movements of the Federal forces, to the military authorities. It was also reported that the Federal army was being driven back towards the city.

Monday, May 4.—An order from General Hooker was issued on the evening of Thursday last, directing that, hereafter, all newspaper correspondents, when on duty in the army, should report the operations of the Army of the Potomac, and the movements of the Federal forces, to the military authorities. It was also reported that the Federal army was being driven back towards the city.

Monday, May 4.—An order from General Hooker was issued on the evening of Thursday last, directing that, hereafter, all newspaper correspondents, when on duty in the army, should report the operations of the Army of the Potomac, and the movements of the Federal forces, to the military authorities. It was also reported that the Federal army was being driven back towards the city.

Monday, May 4.—An order from General Hooker was issued on the evening of Thursday last, directing that, hereafter, all newspaper correspondents, when on duty in the army, should report the operations of the Army of the Potomac, and the movements of the Federal forces, to the military authorities. It was also reported that the Federal army was being driven back towards the city.

Monday, May 4.—An order from General Hooker was issued on the evening of Thursday last, directing that, hereafter, all newspaper correspondents, when on duty in the army, should report the operations of the Army of the Potomac, and the movements of the Federal forces, to the military authorities. It was also reported that the Federal army was being driven back towards the city.

Monday, May 4.—An order from General Hooker was issued on the evening of Thursday last, directing that, hereafter, all newspaper correspondents, when on duty in the army, should report the operations of the Army of the Potomac, and the movements of the Federal forces, to the military authorities. It was also reported that the Federal army was being driven back towards the city.

Monday, May 4.—An order from General Hooker was issued on the evening of Thursday last, directing that, hereafter, all newspaper correspondents, when on duty in the army, should report the operations of the Army of the Potomac, and the movements of the Federal forces, to the military authorities. It was also reported that the Federal army was being driven back towards the city.

Monday, May 4.—An order from General Hooker was issued on the evening of Thursday last, directing that, hereafter, all newspaper correspondents, when on duty in the army, should report the operations of the Army of the Potomac, and the movements of the Federal forces, to the military authorities. It was also reported that the Federal army was being driven back towards the city.

Monday, May 4.—An order from General Hooker was issued on the evening of Thursday last, directing that, hereafter, all newspaper correspondents, when on duty in the army, should report the operations of the Army of the Potomac, and the movements of the Federal forces, to the military authorities. It was also reported that the Federal army was being driven back towards the city.

Monday, May 4.—An order from General Hooker was issued on the evening of Thursday last, directing that, hereafter, all newspaper correspondents, when on duty in the army, should report the operations of the Army of the Potomac, and the movements of the Federal forces, to the military authorities. It was also reported that the Federal army was being driven back towards the city.

NOTICE

To Merchants, Traders and Others.

All Persons and Individuals who are engaged in the business of buying and selling goods, or who are otherwise engaged in any business, are hereby notified that...

Between the 1st and the 10th day of April, 1863, the undersigned, J. H. Johnson, of the County of Montgomery, State of Maryland, has obtained from the Orphan's Court of said county, letters of administration on the personal estate of...

Notice to Creditors. Notice is hereby given that the subscribers have obtained from the Orphan's Court of Montgomery County, letters of administration on the personal estate of...

Notice to Creditors. Notice is hereby given that the subscribers have obtained from the Orphan's Court of Montgomery County, letters of administration on the personal estate of...

Notice to Creditors. Notice is hereby given that the subscribers have obtained from the Orphan's Court of Montgomery County, letters of administration on the personal estate of...

Notice to Creditors. Notice is hereby given that the subscribers have obtained from the Orphan's Court of Montgomery County, letters of administration on the personal estate of...

THE SENTINEL

ROCKVILLE, MD.

Fine opening for the army. The army of the United States is in need of more men, and it is hereby announced that...

Notice to Creditors. Notice is hereby given that the subscribers have obtained from the Orphan's Court of Montgomery County, letters of administration on the personal estate of...

Notice to Creditors. Notice is hereby given that the subscribers have obtained from the Orphan's Court of Montgomery County, letters of administration on the personal estate of...

Notice to Creditors. Notice is hereby given that the subscribers have obtained from the Orphan's Court of Montgomery County, letters of administration on the personal estate of...

Notice to Creditors. Notice is hereby given that the subscribers have obtained from the Orphan's Court of Montgomery County, letters of administration on the personal estate of...

Notice to Creditors. Notice is hereby given that the subscribers have obtained from the Orphan's Court of Montgomery County, letters of administration on the personal estate of...