THE SENTINEL.

ROCKVILLE, MD.

Friday Morning.....May 8, 1863.

A FINE OPENING FOR THE "NEXT BEST MAN."—The Army of the Potomac seems to have met with as little success under "Fighting Joe Hooker," as it did under either McClellan or Burnside. If the Washington Chronicle and Star are good authority, (and we presume they are,) Hooker has been compelled to abandon his position at Fredericksburg, and recross the Rappahannock. See summary of War News.

☞ A settled determination seems to be resolved upon, by the party in power, to crush out all opposition of the press to their unjust and illegal measures. Already, we perceive, that several of our contemporaries are taking the ground that, hereafter, they do not intend to indulge in any comments upon the acts of the present administration, but prefer to remain quiet, until there is a return of those days when perfect freedom of speech and of the press was vouchsafed to every one.

☞ At the sale, on the 29th and 30th ultimo, of the real and personal property of the late Benj. F. Middleton, the "Home Farm," containing 275 acres, brought $43 per acre. Alpheus Middleton, Esq., purchaser. The negroes sold at remarkably low prices. Thirteen were sold—for the most part likely young boys and girls—the whole number bringing less than one thousand dollars.

☞ We understand that Samuel T. Grove, who was released, some short time ago, from the old Capitol prison, where he had been confined under an alleged charge of harboring Confederate soldiers, was again arrested, on Monday last, in Georgetown, for having in his possession two of his father's negroes who had eloped and made their way to the District, but who had voluntarily agreed to return with him to their home, in this county.

☞ At the election, held in this place, on Monday last, for Corporation officers, W. V. Bouic, M. Queen, and J. H. Hannes, were elected Commissioners, and John E. Mines, Bailiff.

☞ Mr. Vallandigham was arrested, at his residence at Dayton, at 2 o'clock on Monday morning last, by a detachment of soldiers who went up from Cincinnati by a special train on Sunday night. The soldiers were obliged to batter down two or three doors before they could reach his room. His friend rang the fire bells, and an attempt was made to rescue him, but failed. He was carried to Cincinnati.

☞ W. Scott Roberts, editor of the Westminster (Md.) Democrat, was arrested a few days since and carried to Baltimore, on the charge of having published treasonable matter in his paper. After a hearing, he was honorably discharged without being required to take the oath.

THE CONSCRIPTION.—It would appear that the Government intends to commence the enforcement of the conscription act at once, from the fact that the full list of provost marshals, as far as at present appointed, for the different districts has been made public. The appointments for Maryland have not yet been announced.—Sun.

Notwithstanding the above, we hear it stated to-day—but whether true or not, we are unable to say—that Mr. Wm. McGowan, formerly of this county, but at present a resident of Baltimore, has been appointed provost marshal for this congressional district.

READ, MARYLANDERS!—The following notice, in hand-bill form, was handed us by a gentleman from Washington, which we lay before our readers without comment:

Meeting for the Organization of a Colored Regiment in the District of Columbia.—The President has authorized Col. J. D. Turner, late chaplain in the army, and Lieut. Col. W. G. Raymond, late chaplain in Trinity Hospital of this city, to raise a regiment of colored troops in the District of Columbia.

A meeting will be held in Ashbury Chapel, corner of 11th and K streets, on Monday evening next, May 4th, at 7½ o'clock, to organize, and make arrangements to visit the President and receive his orders.

All who desire to enlist in the 1st. Rgeiment District Columbia Colored Volunteers, and thus demonstrate their manhood, are earnestly invited to be present, and hear, consult, and decide. By order of—

J. D. TURNER,
W. G. RAYMOND.

Since receiving the above, we see it stated that the recruiting for the First District of Columbia colored volunteers now goes on daily under the auspices of the white aspirants for office in the regiment. They have now, perhaps, one hundred and fifty names enrolled, whom they are drilling mornings and afternoons at the contraband camp.

SPY SYSTEM.—A Washington correspondent of the Cleveland Herald writes as follows:

"The time has come, and this is the place for committees of safety whose business it shall be to watch spies and sympathizers. • • • Union leagues are well enough, but they are not, as at present organized, thorough enough. • • • In every township a committee of safety is needed. • • • Their duties would be those of voluntary aids to the Provost Marshals, to furnish lists, and keep watch of the suspicious," &c.

To which the Cleveland Plain Dealer replies:

"Listen to this Austrian spy! this fellow, who proposes a gang of snea[k]s, who will go prowling about people's bed-rooms to hear suspicious talk; this Abolition Titus Oates, who proposes an organized gang of slimy hangers-on in society. Let them organize their sneaking committees, and every honest citizen provide himself with a good cowhide, and if he catches one of these whelps sneaking into his private apartments he will flay him out of his boots."

MARYLAND EDITORS IN RICHMOND.—J. Lewis Barroll, of the Kent Conservator, and James S. Downey, of the St. Mary's Beacon, recently ordered from Maryland to the South by the military authorities, have published a ... in the Richmond Enquirer in relation to their ... imprisonment.

☞ Gold was quoted to-day ...

FOREIGN.—By the arrival at Halifax of the steamship Europa, we have European advices to the 19th ultimo—three days later than the advices by the Edinburg. The news which she brings is of more than ordinary importance. From one cause in particular, and doubtless from many others which are not specified, the popular feeling in England is becoming greatly irritated and excited against the United States. Mr. Adams, by granting a special license to certain parties to convey arms and munitions of war to Matamoras, has drawn upon himself the indignation of the English journals, and may possibly find that he has compromised himself with the Government to which he is accredited. The facts of the case appear to be these: Two persons, a Mr. Howell, a citizen of the United States, and a Mr. Zerman, a Mexican, having contracted with the Mexican Government to deliver a cargo of arms and munitions of war at the port of Matamoras, applied to Mr. Adams for a certificate which would enable them to sail unmolested by the Federal blockade. The certificate was granted; and an insurance on the vessel, which could not be effected before, was immediately obtained. But by some means or other, the letter of Mr. Adams relating to the transactions was made public, and immediately a perfect storm of indignation was raised throughout China. The London Times charged Mr. Adams with "having introduced a system of pass for Fujish goods in merchandise, without which they are not to reach the Mexican coast. That such selling from one point of port to another should require this interposition of the American Minister is regarded as offensive to the utmost degree. The conduct of Mr. Adams in this affair is characterized as most daring and reprehensible." "There has been no time [illegible] it, we are told, [illegible] were received from Rome, confirming the fears of England." A committee of merchants and shipowners engaged in the Mexican trade [illegible] offence at an act, which [illegible] in contravention of international [illegible] Earl Russell [illegible] promise to take the matter into consideration.

[illegible] which arrived at N[illegible] we have always to the [illegible] the popular excitement, both in England and [illegible] against the United States. The conduct of [illegible] Government in issuing [illegible] Mexico is denounced by the London Times as [illegible] the [illegible] of its own. The Morning Post [illegible] that the matter had been taken up in Parliament and by the Government, but hoped [illegible] measure would be withdrawn. The Times [illegible] that the [illegible] intended to pursue, practically, a course [illegible] the Union. The Times asserts that the [illegible] are of the British people even a worse [illegible] than that of the Parliament. The London Advertiser joins in the cry against Mr. Adams, and declares that, if any action is made by Admiral Wilkes to exclude British vessels from commerce, the British Government will put it down. From France it is reported that the Emperor Napoleon is greatly offended at the course of Mr. Adams, and the correspondent of the Times reports that the time is not far distant when England and France will be compelled to take some another attitude toward America.

THE LATEST RAID INTO WESTERN VIRGINIA.—A dispatch from Harrisburg, dated May 5th, says:

"All [illegible] of Imboden is now [illegible] by Gov. Pierpoint's [illegible] A dispatch from Gov. Pierpoint [illegible] The rebels [illegible] through Harrisville, in Ritchie county, on the line of the Parkersburg and Northwestern road, [illegible] of the river at Fairmount, the same [illegible] and a [illegible] Northeastern Virginia railroad [illegible] five miles east of Clarksburg and [illegible] Harrison and Taylor counties, if not near the Baltimore and Ohio road. [illegible] have [illegible] with horses and [illegible] mounted men. They got a large number of horses at [illegible]

The Washington Intelligencer says of the [illegible]

"The Secretary of War [illegible] that the rebels have vacated the entire line of the Rappahannock from Fredericksburg to the Chesapeake, and have retired in force on the Orange and Alexandria railroad, and beyond it. The [illegible] Northeastern road, and joined their forces in the Upper Valley, near Harrisburg, and it is supposed they are proceeding east, through Berryville, to their old haunts. Some of them are now on the line of the Baltimore and Ohio road. It is some time since that possibly they may make a detour round down into the Shenandoah Valley, and do that section for a few days as they have done this one."

THE POTOMAC FISHERIES.—The recent continued rains have caused a considerable rise in the Potomac, and interfered materially with the catch of herring and shad—occasioning a corresponding advance in the price.

DEATHS.

Died, on Wednesday morning last, the 6th inst., after a protracted indisposition, JOHN W. SPATES, Esq., in the 45th year of his age.

The subject of this notice was, at the time of his death, the Register of Wills for this county, which office he filled, during the several years of his incumbency, to the entire satisfaction of the community in which his whole life was spent. Few persons had endeared themselves to the society of those around him, or whose loss will be more regretted. In his intercourse with his fellowmen, he was proverbially courteous and obliging; in his family circle, kind and affectionate; and his character for integrity and honorable deportment, unexceptionable. Thus has passed away from our midst one of our most useful and beloved citizens, leaving to his large family-circle and his numerous friends a memory which they will long delight to cherish.

Died, on Sunday the 26th of April last, at her residence, Mount Calvary, county, Md., after an illness of four days, ELLEN, the beloved daughter of Samuel and Miriam W. Rose, aged 11 years and 2 months.
