SPRING.

BY W. W. M.

The meadow Spring is coming,
With her gifts of power and beam,
And the earth, the locked in slumber,
Sifts forth life in her dream.
But the birds have heard her footsteps—
See the robin woo his bride,
And the lark, with its glowing,
With her dainty head aside.

The waters glint and sparkle,
And with murmur are dimpled o'er,
As they mock with tinkling laughter,
At the chains that were
Rachling up to close the sunlight,
Tiptoe of green and gold,
With their tiny paper banners,
Put aside the garden mould.

All the little things are headed,
With their golden beaded gems,
And the willow, with its leaflets,
Cutting close above their stems,
Barely tipped the budding peaches,
From their rosy buds look out,
Pouting mouths of love.

From each breeze that roves about,
While the meadow is so lively,
Seems to startle from all the world,
Folding her pale hands together,
Round her rosy cheeks,
In the second of the moon's greenery,
There is a hush upon the air,
Such falls the sun and shadow,
There is a hush upon the air,
Nature seems to start and hush,
And to wait, with lifted eyes,
For the coming steps that bring her
Brighter notes and finer hues.

CIVIL RIGHTS BILL.

SECTION 1. That all persons born in the United States and not subject to any foreign power, excluding Indians not taxed, are hereby declared to be citizens of the United States; and such citizens of every race and color, without any previous condition of slavery or involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall have the same right in every State and territory to make and enforce contracts, to sue, to be sued, to inherit, purchase, lease, sell, hold and convey real and personal property, and to full and equal benefit of all laws and proceedings for the security of person and property as are enjoyed by white citizens; and shall be subject to like punishment, pains and penalties, and to none other, any law, statute, ordinance, regulation or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

SEC. 2. And that any person who, under color of any law, statute, ordinance, regulation or custom, shall subject, or cause to be subjected, any inhabitant of any State or territory to the deprivation of any right secured or protected by this act, or to punishment, pains and penalties on account of such person having at any time been held in a condition of slavery or involuntary servitude, except for the punishment of crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, or by the reason of his color or race, than is prescribed for the punishment of white persons, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000, or imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 3. That the District Courts of the United States, within their respective districts, shall have, exclusively of the courts of the several States, cognizance of all crimes and offenses committed against the provisions of this act, and also concurrently with the Circuit Courts of the United States, of all crimes, civil and criminal, affecting persons who are denied, or cannot enforce in the courts or judicial tribunals of the State or locality where they may be, any of the rights secured to them by the first section of this act; and if any suit or prosecution, civil or criminal, has been or shall be commenced in any State court against any such person for any cause whatsoever, civil or military, or any other person, any arrest or imprisonment, trespass, or wrong done or committed by virtue or under color of authority derived from this act or the act establishing a Bureau for the relief of freedmen and refugees, and all amendments thereto, or for refusing to obey any act upon the ground that it would be inconsistent with this act, such defendant shall have the right to remove such cause for trial to the proper district or circuit court in the manner prescribed by the act relating to habeas corpus and regulating judicial proceedings in certain cases, approved March 3rd, 1853, and all amendments thereto.

The jurisdiction in civil and criminal matters hereby conferred on the District and Circuit Courts of the United States shall be exercised and enforced in conformity with the laws of the United States, so far as such laws are suitable to carry the same into effect, but in all cases where such laws are not adapted to the object, or are deficient in the provisions necessary to furnish suitable remedies and punish offences against the law, the common law as modified and changed by the constitution and statutes of the State wherein the court having jurisdiction of the cause, civil or criminal, is held, so far as the same is not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of the United States, shall be extended, and govern the said cause, and of a criminal nature, if the infliction of punishment on the party found guilty.

SEC. 4. That the District Attorneys, Marshals and Deputy Marshals of the United States, the Commissioners appointed by the Circuit and Territorial Courts of the United States, with powers of arresting, imprisoning, or holding offenders against the laws of the United States, the officers and agents of the Freedmen's Bureau, and every other officer who may be especially empowered by the President of the United States, shall be, and they are hereby specially authorized and required, at the expense of the United States, to institute proceedings against all and every person who shall violate the provisions of this act, and cause him or them to be arrested and imprisoned, or held, as the case may be, for trial before such of the United States or Territorial Courts as by this act have cognizance of the offense; and with a view to affording reasonable protection to all persons in their constitutional rights of equality before the law, without distinction of race or color, or previous condition of slavery or involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, and to the prompt discharge of the duties of this act, it shall be the duty of the Circuit Courts of the United States and the Superior Courts of the Territories of the United States, from time to time to increase the number of Commissioners, so as to afford a speedy and convenient means for the arrest and examination of persons charged with violation of this act.

SEC. 5. That said Commissioners shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the judges of the Circuit and District Courts of the United States, and the Judges of the Superior Courts of the Territories, generally and collectively, in term time and vacation, upon satisfactory proof being made, to issue warrants and precepts for arresting and bringing before them all offenders against the provisions of this act, and on examination to discharge, admit to bail, or commit them to trial, as the facts may warrant.

SEC. 6. And such Commissioners are hereby authorized and required to exercise and discharge all the powers and duties conferred on them by this act, and the same duties with regard to offenses created by this act, as they are authorized and required to exercise with regard to other offenses against the laws of the United States. That it shall be the duty of all Marshals and Deputy Marshals to obey and execute all warrants and precepts issued under the provisions of this act, when to them directed, and should any Marshal or Deputy Marshal refuse to receive such warrant or other process when tendered, or to use all proper means diligently to execute the same, he shall, on conviction thereof, be fined in the sum of one thousand dollars, to be used for the benefit of the Freedmen, and in default of payment, he shall be imprisoned for six months, or until he shall have satisfied the demand of the law, and the person so appointed to execute any warrant or process, as aforesaid, shall have authority to summon and call to their aid the layholders or a posse comitatus of the proper county, or such portion of the land or naval forces of the United States, or of the militia, as may be necessary to the performance of the duty with which they are charged, and to issue a faithful observance of the laws of the Constitution, which prohibits slavery, in conformity with the provisions of this act; and said warrants shall run and be executed by said officers any where in the State or Territory within which they are issued.

SEC. 7. That any person who shall knowingly and wrongfully obstruct, hinder or prevent any officer or other person charged with the execution of any warrant or process issued under the provisions of this act, or any person or persons lawfully assisting him or them, from arresting any person for whose apprehension such warrant or process may have been issued; or shall refuse or attempt to rescue such person from the custody of the officer, other person or persons, or those lawfully assisting, as aforesaid, when so arrested, pursuant to the authority herein given or declared; or shall aid, abet or assist any person so arrested, as aforesaid, directly or indirectly, to escape from the custody of the officer or other persons lawfully authorized as aforesaid, or shall harbor or conceal any person for whom a warrant or process shall have been issued as aforesaid, so as to prevent his discovery and arrest, after notice or knowledge of the fact that a warrant has been issued for the apprehension of such person, shall be either
