HOW COULD IT

He carried my satchel to school, And me through the drifts carried too; Could I think why he hugged me so closely If I souldn't, how could I ?-could you?

He told me my eyes were quite black, And the brightest of any he knew; blushed and looked down-could I help it If I couldn't, how could I?-could you?

Be left on my cheek a warm kins, Then off with the lightning speed flew If I could, I'd have scolded him soundly; If I couldn't, how could I?-could you?

PRINTERS AND DOCTORS .-- An Eastern er very justly comments on newspa-and medical credits: it is a notoriou feet that doctor's bills and newspape bills are the last accounts in the sum of every man's indebtedness which he thinks of paying. Whatever may be his ability to pay, no difference if his chests be filled with old rusty dollars, he thinks some indefinite time will do to settle the foresaid accounts. People somehow have a traditionary notion that the practice of a physician and the publishing of a newspaper are mera amaigur profes-cions, followed for amusement's sake, and for the cost of which little or nothing is expended. Yet there is not in the know, a more expensive employment ban that of publishing a newspaper.
