Democrats of Montgomery!

For many years you have been accustor to confend with and overcome all kinds of opposition. You have known no other work but victory, except when excluded from the you contended with the Know-Nothing party and were ever victorious. From 1860 to 186 the Union party made but a feeble strugg against your irresistible forces. From 1864 fe 1867, yon Vere excluded from the polls to military force and a disfranchising constitution proclaimed by military power. Enfranchised again in 1867, you flave since been accustomed to give overwhelming majorities over the Republican party. Neither Know-Nothings Union men, nor Republicans, have been abe parties have virtually passed away, and now you have a mongrel party to contrad withcomposed of negroes and the baser sort of white men. By such a party you cannot, you must not, for a moment, entertain the idea is defeat. You must triumph with a crushing majority. The honor of the old Democratic stronghold must be maintained. Defeat nom would not only be ruinous, but it would be disgraceful. Never can we believe that the white men of Montgomery will permit themar that now arrave, against them. Such a rabble could to be put to ignominious rout, in no time, by the upble army of veteran troops we shall march to the battle. Let no Densicract or Conservative falter in this great struggle. Let our victory, this time, over the mo grel party be so complete as to consign the few white men who have gone into it for pel to everlasting political perdition.

Autumn Days.

Loveller days than those which come in the sweet month of October, the year knows To the Democratic Conservative Voters not in all its round. The pure air braces every nerve, and gives energy and elgor to the system. We walk amid the glories of the senson with head erect and a consciousness of strength. There are no more cloudless skies. no brighter days of sunshine, no nights, more soft and splendid, than such as we have this month been enjoying. They make us feel that Autumn is not a senson of decar. but'uf marit. Autumn is not a senson of decay, but of manly strength. The year is now at its full, and was disposed to trust it with silter to contempt; but so the mature pauses after having made a display of her matchless and varied power. With a glorious smile on her face, she offers us her richest fruits, and tempts us to enjoyment. Nor is Autumn a sensor for address. It is a time for sallow of the sal

A Radical Trick.

In the Baltimore Sun of the 6th instant, apeared the following correspondence, which we reproduce merelf to show our people the rame the Radicals of this county are trying to play. The writer has given correctly the names of the candidates nominated, but omitted to mention that one of them Mr. Kurre, availed him self of the earliest opportunity to decline the honor tendered bim and to administer a severe public rebake to the motley crowd that had taken such unwarranted liberties with his name. This crowd, the Sun's correspondent cails " a eeting of the citizens of Montgomery county," which might be true, if a considerable ascent plage of ignorant, irresponsible negroes, headed by less than a dozen of office-secking white men, is entitled to such distinction. Attention Democrats and Conservatives.

The time has come when the people of this ounty should bestow a few hours of their time, valuable as it may be to the consulction State from Rolical rule and ruin. Meetings have been called at public places, throughout the county, for every week until the election and it is the daty of white men to attend these meetings, and take counsel of one another .- ! It is no more partisan contest that is to be decided in November, but whether we shall have our State Government bereafter wielde Lag ne engine of destruction, or to conserve and build up all the great interests of the people and of
