

THE SENTINEL. ROCKVILLE, MD.

Friday Morning, December 23, 1871.

To Our Patrons.—As the year is drawing to a close, people will be apt to think about settling up, collecting what is due them, and paying what they owe, especially in the way of small matters. Patrons are no exception to the general rule of debt and credit, but, like all others, necessarily incur obligations which must be promptly met.

Christmas is Coming.

Christmas is coming. The children are humming. And the summer blossoms are brown and red; "Christmas is coming." The children are humming. And visions of evergreen tress, with wonderful fixtures, And fairy-like pictures, To gladden the hearts and souls of the eyes.

Yes, the happiest day of the year is at hand, and the little ones eagerly anticipate the rich gifts to be plucked from the Christmas tree now growing for them. The pretty custom of Christmas trees for families and Sunday Schools is extending in our country every year. We must thank the Germans for it, who brought it over from fatherland; and we are glad to adopt every innocent enjoyment. Of course the children are delighted, and of course the grown-up people are delighted also; and when the presents are distributed, oh, what fun and glad surprises! Christmas is a day when it is pleasant both to confer and receive gifts; for though it is not exactly known on what day the Saviour was born, it is agreed to celebrate his birth on this day. There is no day in all the year when so many tokens of love and good-will pass from hand to hand.

That was the case of the Prince of Peace. He was born on the 25th of December, in Bethlehem. He was born in a manger, and he was born in a stable. He was born in a manger, and he was born in a stable. He was born in a manger, and he was born in a stable.

The Closing Year.

The old year is dying! He has but a few brief hours to live. Poor old year! But lately decked with garlands of flowers, now the chill-windy winds are singing a sad requiem as he passes down the corridors of time to join the years that make up the mighty Past. But what record does he bear with him to the "unseen shore?" Hopes and fears, joys and sorrows, strangely commingled, make the history of all who journeyed with the dying year. Here the old man, wearied with life's journey, stopped to rest—and it matters not now that the spot where they laid him was unmarked, for more than eighteen hundred years ago a Saviour was born who will watch his sleeping dust.

And here rests one—a fragile form of womanly beauty—the sweet intonation of whose voice but too softly foretold the close of the year, and would pass away into the mystic land—and when the leaves were falling they laid her in the village churchyard. She is happy now.

And here rests the little one who had just entered on the threshold life, his tiny feet were too tender to tread the rough and thorny way alone and the Saviour gently laid it in His bosom and took it up among the angels.

What is the history of one in the history of thousands who have passed away with the dying year, and with the history of all who live to succeed. This world is but a caravanary which is evacuated and replenished by troops of succeeding pilgrims. These remain awhile, they give place to others, and so it will be until "Eternity" shall be written on the scroll of time, and this great disolve, and "like the baseless fabric of a vision leave not a wreck behind," but even then the Star which guided the Eastern Sages to the manger of Bethlehem, will guide your way until you reach the gates of rest. Reader, may this be your lot.

ROCKVILLE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—At a meeting of the Stockholders of the Rockville Library Association, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Hon. R. J. Downer; Secretary, SERRA C. JONES; Treasurer and Librarian, W. VESPA BLOC; Directors, Hon. W. VESPA BLOC, E. D. PASTYAN, GEORGE PATRICK, Capt. ASH-ADDERSON. This Association has been in existence about two years, and is in a very flourishing condition, having a large and choice selection of highly interesting volumes, to which valuable accessions are to be made in a short time. The Librarian will publish a full catalogue as soon as the new ones are received.

AN ITEM.—Some Justice of the Peace have lately been forwarding out one dollar for publishing Certificates of Marriages, whereas the price has been for years, two dollars. Indeed if we charged for them by the square, they would come to more than that amount. But, we are disposed to adhere to the old price and hope that all concerned will give heed to it.

SNOW.—Snow fell on Tuesday last to the depth of several inches, and the merry jingle of the sleigh-bells is heard on our streets. Some sleighing has been seen lately, and the thermometer ranging not many degrees above zero, and our wardrobe about as many degrees below.

LECTURE AND SUPPER.—Notice of the Lecture and Supper to take place during the holidays, for the benefit of Forest Oak Chapel, a Forest Oak, will be announced from the pulpit of this church on Sunday next. A number of the public are invited to attend.

LETTERS AND SCREENS.—Notice of the Lecture and Supper to take place during the holidays, for the benefit of Forest Oak Chapel, a Forest Oak, will be announced from the pulpit of this church on Sunday next. A number of the public are invited to attend.

Congress.

Congress has now been in session for nearly three weeks, but beyond the introduction of bills, the adoption of resolutions, &c., nothing of importance has been transacted. A lively debate sprang up in the Senate on Monday last, on the occasion of the introduction, by Mr. Trumbull, of Illinois, of a resolution for the appointment of a committee of investigation and retrenchment. On an amendment offered that the committee initiate investigations of their own action, the debate was earnest and rather acrimonious. Mr. Schurz ventilated the New York custom house frauds, and said the demoralization which existed "might reach beyond Tammany." The committee was appointed, consisting of free Republicans and two Democrats.

In the House the consideration of the Appropriation bill was resumed. An amendment providing for cumulative voting was rejected. A resolution to adjourn for the holidays from the 21st inst. until the 8th day of January next was passed.

THE DEATH OF JOHN WILKES BUOTH WAS KILLED.—Mr. Lewis, on Monday, presented in the Senate, a petition from Richard H. Garrett, of Caroline county, Virginia, asking compensation to the amount of $2,525 for his barn and goods destroyed by Colonel Baker to effect the capture of John Wilkes Booth and D. C. Harrold, in 1865. Booth and Harrold, it will be remembered, were generated in Garrett's barn, and it was destroyed by fire in order to get them.

TRIAL OF MRS. WHEATON.—The trial of Mrs. Wheaton at Annapolis is still progressing, the evidence on the part of the prosecution not being yet concluded, though it is drawing to a close. The case has now occupied two weeks, and as the witnesses are more numerous on the part of the defence, much more time must be consumed, and the case cannot be given to the jury for some time to come.

See the Carl of Messrs. SCHULLER & BAKEMAN, Artists, 727 Ninth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. These gentlemen are superior workmen and finish all jobs in a neat and artistic style. A call solicited.

We tender the compliments of the season to the numerous readers of the Sentinel and wish them all a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

Unity. DECEMBER 5, 1871. Mr. Editor.—Thanksgiving day has passed. The most interesting occurrence during the day was the celebration of the Mount Carmel Sabbath School anniversary, which came off at 7 o'clock, P. M. It was a complete success, reflecting honor upon officers, teachers, and scholars. The services were of a high order, and the surrounding community. The church was filled with the most respectable and highly appreciated citizens of the neighborhood.

The children, according to previous arrangement, met at Mr. John A. Boush's, and after devoting a short time to the rehearsal of speeches, formed in line and marched with their Superintendent at their head, to the appearance of about one-fourth of a mile. When they arrived at the church they were met by a committee who escorted them to the seats reserved for them in front of the church. The first thing to meet their gaze as they entered the house was a handsome eagle, beautifully trimmed with evergreens and decorated with such flowers as the season could afford. Behind the stage and written in large letters forming a semicircle, was the name of the school, and the very appropriate motto, "God is our Guide." It was very beautifully ornamented with festoons.

Along the cross-beam of the frame of the stage there were brilliant lights placed at intervals of six or eight inches, which added much to the appearance of the stage, and to the observer appearing to form a golden crown for the speaker. The ladies who assisted in the decorations for the church on this occasion, displayed the most exquisite taste, and merited the highest commendation of all those who shared the entertainment.

The hour for opening having arrived, we were led in prayer by the Rev. C. W. Casperson, after which the opening address was delivered by Mr. Lewis, of the Board of Education, the importance of the Sabbath School; its general and special utility, and its wonderful achievements, both in dispelling the shades of superstition and darkness, and in spreading light, truth, and knowledge into heathen lands.

The speeches and dialogues were arranged into sections, and so arranged as to close each section with a dialogue, or with a song (on the stage) by seven little girls selected for that purpose. After the completion of each section there was singing by the school. The most thrilling stage performance was the singing of the little girl, who came forward to the front of the stage by side, and bowed with all the grace and elegance which she possessed. They were all dressed in suits of elegant and becoming attire, and they were very beautiful wreaths. Their acting being emblematical of purity and innocence, rendered the scene doubly impressive.

The order of exercises having arrived to the closing, James Towson, Esq., delivered the valedictory address, and closed by tendering the thanks of the school to the friends who had favored them with their presence, and by very touchingly complimenting the superintendent for his unwavering interest in the school.

The above, apparently behind time, is still very acceptable, and we hope our friends throughout the county will furnish us notes of what is transpiring in their respective neighborhoods.—Ed.

Murder and Lynch Law.

MURDER, December 19.—Last night a man was seen lurking around a building at Union City in which the express routes are confined, and on being approached by policeman Kline he started to run and was pursued by the officer. The pursued turned and fired, instantly killing the officer. The depot watchman joined in the chase and was shot in the shoulder. The murderer was subsequently captured, tried and placed under guard. Before day light this morning about thirty disguised men overpowered the guard, killed Levi Farrington, an express robber and took the murderer away. The body of the latter was found after daylight hanging to a tree. His name was Zoler, from Kentucky.

A National Bank Gone Under.

PUNXSUTAWIA, Dec. 19.—The Fourth National Bank, located on Arch, behind 8th street, has been thrown out by a joint action of the bank examiners and clearing house. It has a capital of $200,000, with deposits amounting to $300,000. An investigation is making of its present condition.

Singular.

SINGULAR.—A singular circumstance (farther than fiction) has occurred in Massachusetts. About thirty-five years ago a man named Colburn ran a saw, leaving his wife and two children destitute. The mother and daughter, and the son struggled on, obtained an education, and is now a minister and chaplain of the State prison. He has never heard of his father, and supposed him dead. But recently there came to him a letter from the old gentleman, and he is not dead in the least, but alive in Westinghouse Territory, and will richly reward the man who brings him news. He also announced his intention of coming to Boston, where he hopes to spend the remainder of his days in peace and plenty. The Boston Journal says the Rev. Mr. Colburn is now daily expecting the arrival of his long-absent father.

The New Appropriation Bill.

The new Appropriation Bill which has just passed the House of Representatives makes the total amount of money $200, a ratio of one member for every 124,827 of the population. By this arrangement but few of the old States lose in the number of their Representatives, while nearly all the new and growing States make large gains. The table exhibits the number allotted each State under the existing appropriation, as well as that under the proposed bill:

Table with columns for STATE, PRESENT, and PROPOSED. Lists states like Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Ohio with their respective numbers.

The State making the greatest gain is Illinois, which has five. Pennsylvania under this appropriation had 12, and now has 13. The largest gain of any State is represented in the West. All or nearly all the old slave States gain one each, which is mainly attributable to colored suffrage.

Small Fox Spreading.

New York, Dec. 19.—The small fox is spreading in Jersey City, Hoboken and Trenton, and a special hospital for the patients are being assigned in those places.

Health of Mr. Seward.

ANNAPOLIS, Dec. 19.—The report circulated that the Governor, and all very low with respect to health, without foundation. His health is as good as it has been for years past.

The largest population of the first of January, in the English, German, French, Norwegian, Welsh, Swedish, Italian, Hebrew, and Spanish languages, and all who wish to understand the principles of the alphabet should read and ponder the valuable suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the various diseases and affections of the human body, it contains a large amount of information relating to the merchant, the mechanic, the miner, the farmer, the planter, and professional men, and all who are interested in such matters, and is also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable recipes for the household and farm, botanical anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected. Among the Annals to appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful, and the best kept for the coming year. The price is $1.00 per copy, and is sent by mail to any person who cannot purchase it in person. The publishers, Hueston & Co., 107 N. 3rd St., Philadelphia, Pa., will send a copy of the book to any person who will forward a copy of this advertisement to them, and enclose a check for the amount of the book, or a note payable to the order of Hueston & Co., for the amount of the book, or a note payable to the order of Hueston & Co., for the amount of the book.
