Useful Hints.

The Partridge the Adriculturier's Princed At a meeting of horticulturists in Illinoi strong ground was taken against the destruc me, of these birds. To show how useful this burt is it was stated that a flock of partridge wea seen running along the rows of corn jus t, a sting, and seeing them engaged in some which was believed to be pulling up to and plants, one of them was killed, and p" eximited, which was found to con a cutabon, twenty-one striped bugs, and ore handred ching't bugs. Another mander related that he had adopted measures a project the bird, and that they had become entimerous and so time that hundreds of them, after snaw-falls could be seen in his barns and with the fowls where they were fed.
