we confess that we have been considerably annoyed of late by complaints from friends in different parts of the county, that we allow 100 great a latitude in our columns for personal profess to be identified with the party whose interests we seek to promote. These friends represent that such articles not only lower the standard of our paper, but have a tendency to distract and weaken the party. We feel the force of these representations. It does seem to us that it is playing in the hands of the Radicals when Democrats prefer grave charges against Democrats and call each other ugly names through a Democratic paper. Such We confess that we have been considerable resolute presents and call each other ugly names through a Democratic paper. Such souris of conduct will do more to break down Democratic ascendency in this county and turn it over to the Radicals than any and everything the latter could do to effect that object. Shortsighted, indeed, must be the Democratic who supposes that we can afford to be wranging and fighting among ourselves, and sowing discord and dissension in our own ranks by personal altercations and individual charges of corruption. The truth is, as Democrats, we will find that we have as much as we can do to fight our ensemies and keep them under, without lurning upon our friends in savage personal warfare. We, therefore, hope, that Democrats will henceforth lay asside their fratricidal weapons and buckle on their armor to do their whole and most valiant battle against the common cause.

ted in the consent of one of the best men in the county to accept the position. Before the appointment was made, it was conceded on all bands that, if Mr. Owen would accept it, he was the man for the place, pre-eminently qualified for it in every respect. We are much gratified at the appointment and acceptance of this gentleman, for it not only secures to the county his valuable services as a Judge of the Orphans' Court, but it at the same time perfectly harmonizes the various elements that were competing for the succession.

"THE ASPLAND SERTINGL."-This is the title of a sprightly weekly, just started at Ashland, Hanover county, Va., by Sitas W. Davis. Esq., a nalive and until recently a citizen of our county. The paper is independent in poltics, and devoted to Religion, Literature, Agriculture, State and Local Interests. It enters upon its career with quite a creditable show of typographical execution and editorial skill .-Although not a practical printer, Mr. Davis is a young gentleman, whose abilities as a writer and as a business-man cannot fall to command success in the way of journalism, if other faent, industry, sound judgment and close application can accomplish among the people for whose benefit he has started his enterprise, we confidently expect be will achieve. He is eminextly worthy of the highest success, and we hope he may fully realize it.
