A CONCERT.

Of Vocal & Instrumental Music ON MONDAY EVENING NEXT,

At the Rural Society or Siege of York GARDEN, on the Pleasure-grounds near the quarter of a mile from the city, and near the same distance from the Point.

Mr. Leaman

MOST respectfully returns his sincere thanks to those ladies and gentlemen who honored him with their company on the 4th of July.

He laments the disappointment which may have happened in the course of the afternoon and evening, as the band were detained elsewhere beyond their appointed time, and in consequence of the great concourse of people, at least half more than was expected, it was impossible to be correct with the toll of the day.

The crowd was so great that they broke down the platform where the dances were to have been performed. The band were obliged to desert the orchestra, so that the latter part of the entertainments went on without music.

The worthy citizens will take it into consideration, that on such a day as the fourth of July, which is celebrated throughout the United States of America, it is not expedient in such case the rules can be so strictly fulfilled, as on a less occasion.

It is hoped they will accept this apology. Mr. L. pledges himself, in future, to make it his study to have the arrangements of the garden conducted with more regularity, which he flatters himself may be done, as it is most probable that so large an audience will not meet again this season.

In future there will be seats erected on purpose for the accommodation of ladies and gentlemen, and so elevated that they may have a good view, with an entire alteration in the front of the orchestra.

In the course of the evening, Mr. Durang will sing the several descriptive SONGS:—

1 Song, Shakespeare's Seven Ages.

2 Surprising Equilibrium, by Mr. Durang, who will balance himself and dance

ON A SLACK WIRE, Swinging in the air—accompanied by Mr. Roach.

3 A variety of Beautiful and Superb

Transparencies,

Imitating Crystal, called the BRILLIANCE OF PERRICO.

1 The temple of Vulcan. 2 The Grand Signor's Seraglio. 3 A grand temple, with a view of the Moon surrounded with Stars. 4 The garden of Flora. 5 A beautiful view of Hope, Charity, Peace and Pleasantry. 6 Gen. Washington surrounded with laurel, &c. with 8 other pieces.

4 A hornpipe, by master C. Durang

5 Song, the Learned Pig, by Mr. Durang

6 A Scotch allegory solo dance, by a young lady.

As a great many were disappointed in seeing the Rope Tumbling on Wednesday, Mr. Durang will repeat it on Monday, to be introduced near the last of the entertainment.

7 Astonishing Feats of Agility, by Mr. Durang, on a rope swinging in the air.

8 Doors opened at five o'clock in the afternoon. Tickets at a quarter of a Dollar each. Children half price, to be had at the bar, given to pass and re-pass.

The garden to close at 11 o'clock.
