Some however, have concluded that a chief metive for publishing your letter. was to bring the citizens acquainted with the singular beauties, and energy of your style; to this I would reply, that you un. fortunately chose a very unchristian subject; and as far as I can learn, a very unpopular onc.

am perfectly willing however to give all due credit to the style of the letter alluded to,—and so much so, that I shall beg leave to exhibit a specimen thereof, taken from your concluding prragraph, containing about ten short

1. " I, hope sir that you and—

2. I, will never so far forget, &c,for should 3, I, but ance indulge in (these follies)

how should 4. I, again appear in St. Peter's,

5. 1, should so fail under a load of shame, that 6 I, never could again ascend the pulpit (as) 7. I, should expect the very boys would hiss me," &c. &c. &c.

It is to be wished however, that no illnatured critic, will insinuate that the above seven I's signify or spell e-g-ot-i-sm. No, no, they were only designed, of the humble rector of St. Peter's.

One word more. The scriptures inform us that " he who diggeth a pit, increasing. shall fall into it;" And I would add he who wantonly flings the tomahawk at his neighbor's head or heart, may sometimes get hurt himself by its rebounding.

I will now, sir, conclude, by a turing I you, that the style of " Pope's universal prayer" is at present much more esteem. ed than that of your letter, by yours, &c. JNO. HARGRUVE.
