Whitbread, by a decree of the High Court of Chancery of that part of Great Britain called England, made in a certain cause, where in SOPHIA COUCH is the plaintiff, and Henry Custon Atkinson is the defendant, it was referred to John Old, Esq. one of the masters of the said Court, to enquire whether CHARLES COUCH named in the will of Charles Couch the Elder, late of Cow Lane, Smithfield, London, Cordwainer, was living or dead; and, if dead, when he died. The said Charles Couch, therefore, if living, is peremptorily, either by himself personally, or by his solicitor, to appear before the said master, at his Chamber in South Hampton Buildings, Chancery Lane, London, on or before the sixth day of November, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Four, and prove his identity, or, in default thereof, he will be excluded the benefit of the said decree; but, in case of his death, any person who can give information to the said master as to the time and place of his decease, is requested so to do. It appears that the said Charles Couch formerly lived in Cow Lane as aforesaid; and about the year 1785 went to America where he carried on the business of a shoemaker, at Baltimore, and at Havre de Grace in the province of Maryland, North America; and is supposed to have died in the Arms House at Baltimore in the month of August, 1796. MEDICINES.

Just RECEIVED AND FOR SALE AT WARNER & HANNA'S BOOK STORE, Corner of Market and S. Gay streets.

Velno's Vegetable Syrup,

Concentrated for warm climates.

IT is not from any illiberal motive that the proprietor of this medicine, which has sustained an unvaried and unimpaired credit for thirty years, opposes it in all obstructions and impurities of the human fluids to the mineral and metallic salts.

In the cure of the melancholy debilities and the destructive diseases which have their origin in depraved constitutions, or external influences, the attention and care of Mr. Swainson are directed principally to the source of the disease and distribution of its contents. His medicine increases the digestive force, the principle of nourishment; it assists the separation of pure and healthy humors, and expels those where they have been either estranged by nervous and paralytic weaknesses, or superadded by gouty, rheumatic, and scorbutic humors.

To Messrs. J. Swainson & Co. London.

When in London, I promised to give you a narrative of the cure performed by your Velno's Vegetable Syrup, on an English Gentleman. It is as follows—about a year ago, I learned that there was a gentleman coming to this port, and being informed that his case was Venereal, I requested an English traveller to put one of your pamphlets into his hands, which induced him to send for a bottle of your Syrup. I sent my compliments to him, and said, that, if agreeable, I would wait on him; he very gladly accepted my offer. On my first entering the room in which he lay, I found him bathed in tears, in distress and misery. He appeared to me to be literally rotting with ulcers all over his body. He had been confined in an Inn for about twenty one months, and being a stranger, far from home, his case was truly pitiable. He had a physician and surgeon attending him for about twelve months, both of whom, he discharged, and called another physician and surgeon, with a hope that they would relieve him from his loathsome disease; but to his great sorrow, his complaint increased, and he had no other expectation, but to die in that wretched state. I visited him for a few days, and finding your Velno's Syrup agreeing with him, there was some glimmering hopes of his recovery. I desired him to consult with his physician and surgeon, about removing him to the suburbs of the town, for fresh air, to which they readily agreed. I procured for him a room in the vicinity of this city, where, by the use of the Syrup alone, he continued to recover; a miracle, and in three or four months was able to go home to his friends in a chaise, two hundred miles south of this place. He is now as well as ever, and is able to follow his usual business as a traveller, in the commercial line. It is worthy of remark, that his physician and surgeon were so ashamed of his recovering, under what they called a Quack Medicine, that they ascribed his recovery to the change of air alone. Query—why did they not prescribe this change of air to their patient? This case was universally known in this place. For the sake of the young man's friends, I do not choose to give you his name, or place of residence; but you have my authority to make any use of this you think proper.

I am, gentlemen,
Your humble servant,
A. McDONALD, Jeweller.

French Night School—Ecole Francoise.

NOTICE is hereby given, That I, the subscriber, Teacher and Translator of the French and English Languages, intend to open the French School, in my common dwelling, on the 26th instant; and if 43 years experience, in giving tuition in this line, in different parts of the United States, wit success, are not sufficient to entitle me to a share of encouragement, I beg those promising youths, who have a desire to become scholars, to apply to friend Philip Thomas, at the sign of the golden key, Baltimore-street, where they can be acquainted with my short, yet grammatical manner of Teaching.

AS I can devote some leisure hours in the day time, to the instruction of a few scholars, I should be happy to make an engagement.

VENEREAL COMPLAINTS.

AS DR. WARNER'S practice has been very extensive both in public and private, daily experience convinces him of the propriety of his method of removing the venereal disease, in preference to any medicine vended or known in Baltimore. He has removed the most desperate cases with ease and dispatch, after the failure of some of the ablest physicians both in Europe and America. Complaints of the urinary passages and debility thereof, from various causes and accidents, removed in the shortest possible space of time.

As there are persons from various causes cannot personally apply, it may be necessary to inform them, they may be relieved from a description of their complaint.

Dr. W. warrants a cure in all cases. Masters of vessels and travellers may have their medicines so prepared that a safe, effectual and expeditious cure may be effected, without the least restriction in drink or diet.

N. B. Dr. Warner has removed from Bond-street, to Cumberland Row, No. 64, below the Marsh-market.

Land for Sale.

A PART of that very valuable tract of LAND, formerly the property and residence of John Mercer Porter, deceased—situated in Baltimore county, in Back river neck, and about 14 miles from the city—containing 240 acres of strong fertile land, a great part of which is in a high state of cultivation; 14 acres in excellent timothy meadow, and about 20 acres more may be added at a very small expense.—The improvements are of wood, lately erected, and such as would suit for farm houses.—The part in wood, which is at least equal to the support of the place, abounds in lofty white oaks, interspersed with hickory. This property will be sold part for cash, and part for credit, or bartered for approved property in the city of Baltimore. It is presumed a purchaser will view the premises, therefore it is unnecessary to give any further description of them. Peregrine Porter, adjacent to the premises, will show them, and treat for the sale thereof—or, if more convenient to purchasers, apply to

Wm. C. GOULDSMITH.
August 4 ec6t

This Day Published,

By SAMUEL BUTLER,
At the corner of Market and Charles-streets,
Price 1 dollar neatly bound and lettered,

Ferdinand & Ebira.

Printed from the original manuscript of an American lady, author of 'Dorval,' 'Julia and the Baron,' and 'Amelia.'

The writer of this instructive and amusing work, has heretofore published the effusions of her pen in New England, and there (where the flights of fancy, as if filled by the rigid blasts of the north, are not received with that friendly welcome which they experience in the more genial climate of the south and middle states) commanded that applause, which genius and fancy never fail of producing on those liberal and candid minds who will take the trouble to discriminate between the ordinary day-labor of the common English novelist, who works for a living the same as any other mechanic, and has no other end in view than to bring forth a fashionable piece of goods, that will serve the moment and remunerate himself; and the lady of refined sentiment and correct taste, who writes for the amusement of herself, her friends and the public.

It contains upwards of three hundred pages, is well printed on a new type and fine paper.

Also, just published as above,
INTERESTING ANECDOTES OF THE HEROIC CONDUCT OF WOMEN,

Previous to, and during the French revolution: translated from the French of M. Du Broca, and other modern writers of authenticity.

When it is considered that this work records some of the most shining virtues of human nature, such as courage, fortitude, courage, affection, tenderness, love and patriotism, as well as superior good sense and judgment, which have been exhibited by females, and shews that the Fair Sex, when exigency requires, are by no means inferior in these virtues, and in several of them superior to what in like cases would be expected from the boasted lords of the creation—it is reasonable to expect, that almost every lady of information will be happy in purchasing a book so well calculated to defend the cause of beauty, when attacked by petulance or arrogance.

The present edition is enlarged by additional selections of about one third more than the London translation of Du Broca's Anecdotes, and is printed on a fine cream colored paper, and still less at only one half the price of the London copy.

In the press, and with all convenient speed will be published the second volume of the Baltimore Musical Miscellany, consisting of new and approved songs set to music.

20,000 Numbers.

The tickets to be sold in Halves, at five dollars each.

The Managers respectfully solicit the aid of the public to accomplish the object of the above Lottery.—Considerable exertions for several years having been already made by an association of ladies, for the education of poor orphans of all denominations.—Teachers in every part of the city have been paid quarterly for the schooling of children, and in some instances assisted with necessary clothes, from the precarious resources of subscriptions, public and private donations, charity sermons, &c.

The legislature of Maryland has been pleased to grant a lottery to raise a fund upon more stable and permanent principles, for the support of this institution; and the mayor and city council, in confirming it by an ordinance, have also given a very honorable testimony of their good wishes, by relinquishing the customary tax on the Lottery.—The Managers therefore confidently hope, that the above scheme, as well from the benevolence of its intention, as the principle of adventure, will be inviting to every citizen, in this or any other part of the United States. Adventurers in this lottery, while they feel conscientious and consoling reflection of having thereby contributed their mite to the permanent establishment of a Free School, for the education of poor children, male and female, of every denomination; will also in a pecuniary point of view, experience advantages superior to any other scheme heretofore offered.

For the convenience of purchasers, the managers have thought proper to strike off the tickets in halves, leaving it optional with the purchaser to take the whole or half ticket.

The managers have given bond for the faithful performance of this trust.

Sixty days after the drawing is finished the prizes will be paid, subject to a deduction of 12 1/2 per cent.—if not demanded within 12 months after the drawing is finished, they will be considered as relinquished for the orphans.
