

over the finances, Dearborn over the war department, and Smith over that of the navy; when Lincoln was named Attorney general.

All these men entered office with pure hands, and with a reputation for personal worth, which even suspicion had not dared to impeach. All of them had acted, a conspicuous part in the public concerns, and had thus exposed themselves to the severe ordeal of party.

It will not be unprofitable to dwell a few moments more on this branch of our subject.

Of all the duties assigned to executive agents those attached to the department of state are the most important. From their peculiar nature they require a mind, not only of the first lustre, but likewise one regulated by habitual prudence.

It will be recollected that when this constitution appeared it received violent opposition. Among the who met and repelled this opposition Madison was the foremost.

After effecting this great object, he participated in all the leading arrangements of the government. The time soon came in which the spirit of party, and with it the spirit of persecution, entered the legislature.

NEW-YORK, September 29. Capt. Conell, of the brig Agonora, who arrived here yesterday in 14 days from St. Thomas, has favored the editors of this Gazette, with a distressing detail of the loss of vessels in the West-Indies, by a hurricane, which will be found in the Marine Department.

SAVANNAH, September 14. We are requested more particularly to notice the circumstances attending the melancholy death of the two children of Mr. Nelson, occasioned by the falling of a chimney in the late hurricane.

Mrs. Nelson, alarmed at the violence of the wind and dubious of her situation, which was in the chamber, retired to a back room, with her children and seated herself and them on a small bed, Mr. Seamon sitting near.

Mr. Seamon is much bruised but is recovering. Mrs. Nelson is yet dangerously ill, but her recovery is hoped for.

From a rough estimate of damage sustained, we believe it is at least not short of the following for the city only.

Most people are of opinion that had a million would not make good the sufferers.

Some suppose that 100 negroes were lost on Hutchins's island and the S. Carolina side. A correct estimation cannot be immediately obtained.

The damage to plantations is immense, but it would at present be impossible to estimate it on any probable grounds.

Some idea may be formed of the force and violence of the late storm from the traces it has left Cockspur.

A Cannon which weighs 4800 lbs. was carried thirty or forty feet from its position. A bar of lead, weighing 300 lbs. was carried a hundred feet.

As it appears that violent bilious Fevers prevail in many parts of the Country, the following successful mode of treating diseases of that nature, seems, at this season, to be particularly worthy of attention.

A long and numerous series of proofs of the excellency of large doses of Gum Arabic in such diarrheas and vomitings are caused or protracted by acid matter in the intestines or stomach led me to conceive that this medicine might be very useful in that dreadful vomiting which usually attends the American Yellow Fever.

In diseases of a lower order I have frequently given Gum Arabic as far as six ounces a day, and am persuaded that this dose may on occasions be doubled, or quadrupled.

My patients consume annually upwards of a quintal of this Gum, and have continually done so for some years past.

A MEMORIAL Will be presented to the next General Assembly, praying that a Law may pass to authorize the Levy Court of Baltimore County, to levy, on the assessable property of said county, such sum of money as may be necessary to build a Court-House.

The different Printers in this city are requested to insert the above in their papers.

Deep plans have been laid, by our enemies, not only to injure this paper, but likewise to injure and divide the republican interest.

The piece alluded to was on Friday, at 4 o'clock (not 3 as stated by "A Citizen") presented for publication, by a gentleman, respected by the Editors, whom they viewed as a democratic republican.

On Saturday morning the piece was handed to Mr. F. who being under the impression that the piece was sanctioned by Mr. P. said it should appear on Monday.

Viewing the subject in this light, Mr. F. went early on Sunday afternoon to the house of the gentleman who presented the piece; but he was not at home.

are assigned by "A Citizen," is a base and scandalous misrepresentation.

The following gives the result of the election in the eight wards of the city; by which it will appear that the democratic republican candidates, for representatives to congress, have run almost unanimously; and it will be perceived, that John Stephen and Andrew Ellicott, esqrs. are elected delegates to the general assembly—the former a warm friend to the present administration—the latter, as it is said "of no party, and not brought forward by a party"—but be this as it may, it is certain he owes his elevation, in a great measure, to the republican party!
