

ADMONITION.

IT is much to be regretted that our city, at present, should be so much the resort of adventurers and fortune hunters...

same extent belong to Spain? It surely did. What the ultimate consequences may be, we do not pretend to determine.

CARLISLE, (Penn.) September 28.

The Editor has published such accounts of deaths as have been handed to him, not supposing it necessary, as it has never been customary here, to publish weekly accounts, on this subject.

How very different does the state of health in this borough appear; by this authentic account, from what common report we hear, has made it! It has been circulated, that six or seven die here daily.

A letter from Zante, the capital of the Island of that name, belonging to the Republic of Seven Islands) dated June 10, says, "earthquakes are very frequent here this year."

At the time the address, given in yesterday's American, was delivered, the chiefs of the Osage nation were presented with the following instrument of writing on parchment:

Chiefs and Warriors of the Osage nation of Indians!

The president of the United States takes you by the hand, and invites you and all the nations of Red people within the territory of the United States, to look up to him as their father and friend, and to rely in full confidence upon his unvarying disposition to lead and protect them in the paths of peace and harmony.

We have now made the chain of friendship bright between us, binding us all together. For your and our sakes, and for the sake of your and our children we must prevent it from becoming rusty.

In order that this friendship may be perpetual, and to prevent as far as possible every cause which might interrupt it, it is hereby announced and declared by the authority of the United States; that all lands belonging to you lying within the territory of the United States, shall be and remain the property of your nation, unless you shall voluntarily relinquish or dispose of the same.

The president of the United States sends, you by your beloved chiefs now present, a chain; it is made of pure gold, which will never rust, and may the Great Spirit assist us in keeping the chain of friendship, of which this golden chain is an emblem, bright for a long succession of ages.

Given under my hand and the Seal of the War Office of the United States, at the City of Washington, this eighteenth day of July, in the year one thousand eight hundred and four, and of the independence of said states, the twenty ninth.

(Signed) H. DEARBORN.

From the NATIONAL INTELLIGENCER.

It is clear that the conduct of Spain demands a declaration of war from the United States? To decide this question it is necessary to enquire what the conduct is.

Either the total rejection of the convention, or a negotiation amicably terminated, respecting W. Florida, previous to its ratification.

One of the many curious facts, first given to the world by Korzbrue in his French travels, is the extraordinary account of the appearance and disappearance, in various parts of France, of a young man who personates the late DAUPHIN, and who, if not the real personage, has had the address to attach to him with unbounded devotion, every rank of people wherever he goes.

EMIGRATIONS TO RUSSIA.—The emperor of Russia, or rather the ministers and counsellors, has every where emissaries, who endeavor to seduce the inhabitants of other countries to emigrate and settle in Russia. To people those waste deserts of its inhospitable climate, Helvetia has furnished its quota, and some hundred citizens of our department, near the Rhine, of the ci-devant Palatinate, have followed their example.—The Emperor has, therefore, ordered all his prefects, commanders, and police commissaries, to put a stop to this emigration, by not permitting any person in future to cross the Rhine, without a pass from the minister of police, Foucaux. Every foreign or French emissary, who is discovered in attempting to engage the people to emigrate, is to be immediately tried as an embauteur, and shot. (Paris paper.)

Married on Thursday evening, by the reverend George Roberts, Mr. Nicholas Ridgely, aged 64, to Miss Rebecca Coxall, aged 51 years.

THEATRIC—A London paper speaks in the following terms of the juvenile theatrical performer, so often noticed: "A very extraordinary phenomenon has lately burst upon the theatrical world—A boy of the name of Beatie, not exceeding twelve years of age, reads and enacts the principal of all Shakspear's characters in a style of superiority that astonishes the most experienced actors. He has performed in Ireland, and is now exciting general astonishment at Edinburgh. Off the stage his manners are puerile, as he is often seen playing at marbles in a morning, and afterwards Richard the 3d in the evening. He is rather short of his age, slight made, but has great expression of countenance. The moment he begins to converse on stage business he appears an inspired being. He has a pleasant turn for repartee, which makes his company much sought for. The Edinburgh manager expressed his fears at the first rehearsal, that his voice would not fill the house—"My dear sir," replied the little hero of the bukin, "I beg you will be under no apprehension upon that score, for if my voice does not fill your house, probably my playing will."

Departed this life on Thursday morning, in the year of his age, Mr. William L. Forman, of this city, a gentleman, whose amiable disposition, and gentlemanly deportment secured him the attachment and esteem of an extensive and respectable circle, who join their unfeigned sorrows with those of his disconsolate widow and orphans, to deplore his loss.

Departed this transitory life, at Salem, Massachusetts, after a severe illness, borne with the becoming fortitude, Mrs. MARY SOUTHWORTH, consort of captain William Southworth, of this city. In her departure from this to "another and a better world," her husband deplores the loss of an affectionate wife; her children a tender parent, and her friends an amiable companion.

The Rev. Geo. Dashiell will deliver a funeral sermon in St. Peter's Church, on Sunday next, at 10 o'clock, A. M. occasioned by the death of Mr. JOHN EVANS, who departed this life on Tuesday, the 2d inst. and left a Wife and six Children to deplore their loss.

Columbian Inn to Let. WILL be let, for one or more years, three two large three-story Brick HOUSES, with Cellars under the whole, and very extensive back buildings, now in the tenure of Mr. David Fulton, and known by the name of the Columbian Inn—fronting on Market-street a front 53 feet, and running through to German-street about 172 feet, run in good order. They have been occupied as a tavern for upwards of five years, and as it is presumed their situation is well known, it is scarcely necessary to say there is not perhaps, in this city, a house better calculated for a tavern on an extensive scale. There is also a lot and stable, directly at the rear of it, situated on the corner of German and Howard's streets, calculated to accommodate about 40 or 50 horses, and have been occupied for this purpose, by the late tenants of the Columbian Inn. If a suitable tenant, to occupy the above as a tavern, should not offer, they will be let separately, for stores and private dwellings. Possession may be had on the 10th December next. For terms apply to CHARLES TORRANCE, No. 21, Market-street. October 5
