On Thursday last, the Legislature of this-state were thrown into considerable confusion by the cry of fire, in the state house at Annapolis. One of the persons employed in the house had put hot ashes in a barrel in one of the committee rooms, which had burnt-through the barvel and communicated to the floor. And we are informed that the house contained, at the time, a considerable quantity of gun pow der : it must therefore, be considered particularly fortunate, that the fire was discovered, and extinguished sufficiently early to prevent the serious consequences which might have ensued.

He is to pay to the Bonaparte samily fifty millions of floring, in ten years, for this sovereignty, besides annuities to Talleyrand and Co. A new military capitulation, and new politica! commercial, and subsidiary treaties with France, are expected to be among the first acts of his government.

[Courier.]

According to the report of four Dutch-Deserters, Bonaparte had sent positive orders from Aix-la-Chapelle to the French commodore at Ferrol to sail for Brest, even though he should be obliged to fight his way throughour cruizers. The squadron would, in consequence, have already left Ferrol, had not an aid-de-camp of the Spanish minister of marine arrived from Cadiz with dispatches, which induced him. th wait for further instructions from France. It is believed at Ferrol, and on board the French-sleet, that the ships which are equipping at Cadiz and Barcelona, will co-operate with the Spanish cabinet regards its neutrality | jugation and incorporation walt his elec-

our blockading squadron. These Dutchmen assert, that the greatest anarchy and discontent prevail all over Spain"; that the insurrection, which began near Bilboa, has extended to the neighboring provinces; and that the insurgents amounted to upwards of 60,000 men, and were daily increasing. This latter report was confirmed-by-an American captain from Corunna, who added, that the leaders of the insur- mony of his Coronation, at Paris. In rection are Spanjards formerly in the this degraded list, however, are only to French service, and young men educated in France. The common belief among all classes of people is, that the dissolution of the Spanish Monarchy, or at least a general revolution is at hand. This dangerous superstition is kept up by pretended prophecies, circulated by Spanish priests in French pay; and it will, therefore, not be surprising, if an ignorant people, thus deluded, and also tormented by famine and disease, will, from despair, seek a remedy in the worst of all evils, a rebellion.

Government, we understand, has received certain intelligence of the emperor Alexander having ordered the it. What is this but plunder and rub. 26, French Charge d'Affaires to quit Petersburgh in twenty-four hours. This puts an end to all further speculations respecting the preservation of peace between the wo powers. (Star.)

Should this be the case, something else than the private family affairs of the Burbons, will be transacted there-His most Christian Majesty, Louis XVIII. and the Princes of his blood, intended to publish a protest against the Corsican Usurpations. That which appeared in the Moniture was a forgery of Bonaparte, Talleyrand, and Co.

ONDON, Officber 26. * A private lette: from a banking house a' Franckfort, o a respectable house in town, states that Bonaparte when the Deputes of that Imperia. City were preented to him a nong other kind and becoming expressions, told them. " that o account fife great quantity of English goods dismised of at the yearly Franckfort suir . the period when the independence of that city should cease was at hand." These deputies were toon informed that Franckfort, its privileges, and territory, were sold by the Usurper for 12 milli ons of fl rins (between 2 and 3 millions sterling), to the E'estor of HESSE. They spresentedt therefore, a memorial to TALLYRAN, offering to prohibit, or to lay a 'ax eq al to prohibition, upon all English goods; but they received no other answer than that it was too late. .. is said, that the bargain between BONA-PARTE and the Erector of HESSE has been consented by Prussia; but as i cannot be carried into execution without another violation of the German territory and independence, the city of Erankfort lias, sent deputies to the Courts, of Vienna and of St. Peteraburgh to demand the projection of the Emperors of GERMANT and Rustia.-On the other hand, BONAPARTE's resident at Franckfort. HI:INGER, has advised the Senate to offer the same sum to continue them On board the sebooner Diana, hing at Boob's French as auxilaries only to a certain In their independence, as the elector of distance from the Spanish coast, as the Herre has agreed to give for their sub-

From this many cous clude, L'at BUNAPARTE, & TALLYRAND, incuitan of the consent of the Emperor of Germany, intend, in the mean time to swindle the citizens of Franckfort out of a sum of ineney, and afterwards, to se'l their precious independence to the highest hidders.

> BONAPARTE still pursues his system of plunder and intrigue in Germany. Several German Princes are invited, or rather commanded, to attend the cerebe found those Princes who have shared at his hands the plunder of the Empire, while the others have been honored by his admonitions and rebukes. In the North of Germany, now for the fourth time within sixteen months, he demands a new loan from the neutral City of Hamburgh. The sum required is 400.000 dollars, & for this his military fi nanciers have proposed to morgage the chalk and salt pits of Lunenburgh. The Senate called a meeting of the Burgesses upon the 18.h, to take the demand into consideration; and sat for seven hours we presume, upon the means of raising the money, for they must furnish bery? The King of England, the lawful owner of the mortgaged property, has given formal notice, that he never will repay the sums thus fraudulently and feloniously obtained by France up in the security of Hanover. In the late war, France, in the same ways borrowed money from the neutral city of Franckfort, which the Corsican Adventuger is now helding up to sale to the highest bidder. This will-be the fate of Hamburgh, Lubec, and Bremen. He will first make their cit zens Laupers, and he will then sell them asslaves.

Two Gottenburgh Mails arrive" this morning, by which we learn, that the meeting of took place at Calmar on the 7th inst. It was a speciacle of a most tender and interesting nature to all who witnessed it. The Duke d'engouleme was present. Mons:eur purposes returning to England about the end of this month On the 17th instant arrived at Gottenburgh the P.ince of Wales packet, caprain Hearn, with Mr. Hargrave, the English Messer ger, who immediately set off for Stockholm Upon the arrival of the Packet, a c. urier was dispatched to the King at Stralaund.

On the 2 th, a courier arrived there from Stralsund, with dispatches for SILVERHIEM, in London.

'A London paper, of the 22d October, attributes the blowing up of the Spanish frigate Mercedes to the dangerous methods of the Spaniards in loading their guns by a shell from the cask where the powder is kept loofe.

The crew of the Mercedes, consisted of 300 men, 30 of whom only were faved. Among those that perished were the captain, his wife and 7 children, with 19 ladies.

We are informed by a gentleman from St. Thomas, that the late distressing fire at that place, was occasioned by the following circumstance -A domestic. in the ac) of fumigating a chamber to clear it of those pests of these climates, musquetoes, accidently let the candle come in contact with a musquetoe-net, which being very combustible, was immediately in flames, and spread over the whole room .- The fire could not be arrested : and it was estimated that the loss of property occasioned by this aceident exceeded seven millions of dollars.

" Monday, December 24, 1804. "The bill, to regulate the clearance of armed merchant vellels, was this day palled by the house of representatives, ayes 76, noes 33. Several attempts, as you may have concluded; were made to procrastinate its passage, if not to defeat it. Two motions for a re-commitment, were offered but failed, and tho bill passed verbatim as I presume it was published by you. I do not think it will meet with much difficulty in the senate.
