

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 27, 1805.

"PHILOMATH" is received, and shall be attended to as soon as the evidence on the part of the respondent, in the late impeachment, is disposed of.

The schooner Lively, Smith, arrived at Salem, on the 18th inst. in 7 days from Baltimore.

The Editor of the New-York Commercial Advertiser would still infer, that his statement was true, respecting a CERTAIN EFFIGY; which, as he says, he was informed, by a member of Congress, was meant to represent Mr. Randolph. We beg leave to refer him to the American of Thursday last, which positively denies it, and declares that it was not Mr. Randolph who was in the "mind's eye" of the "rabble" who manufactured the effigy, but a personage of a different stamp: Mr. Lewis says, the "Federal Gazette" substantiates the fact: But, at the same time, his reliance on its correctness, has not prompted him to atone for the falsehood he originated on the subject. For Mr. Lewis, (if even the effigy had been intended for Mr. Randolph) why did you not correct your statement, which asserted that it was denounced by a "concourse of democratic citizens in procession?" Did the Federal Gazette sanction or corroborate your "Congressman's" account in that particular? No, Sir, it could not:— Yet you suffered the slanderous stigma to pass for truth, and had not the gentlemanly candor to offer the proper correction in your power.

Married in St. Mary's county on Sunday the 16th inst. by the Reverend Mr. Smoot, Mr. JOSEPH C. WHITE, dry good merchant of this city, to the amiable and well accomplished Miss MARY JONES, daughter of Mordica Jones, of St. Mary's county.

TOTAL, 29

From the RICHMOND ENQUIRER:

I presume that the following communication, so highly honorable to our unfortunate brethren in Tripoli, will excite the sublimest sensations in the breast of every American. The information is derived from a source which precludes all doubt of its authenticity.

When commodore Preble appeared off that abandoned den of picaroons, which to the eternal disgrace of civilization has made all Europe tributary, he was informed that the American captives in Tripoli, had come to a resolution.—That they would not be ransomed; that they did not wish the independent and manly course which our government had prescribed for itself, to be altered from considerations to their own ease or relief; and that they preferred, as the course most consistent with the dignity of our country, to obtain their liberty at the hands of their brother soldiers of Tripoli.

From the NATIONAL INTELLIGENCER.

Exports of the United States.—According to the statements we have published it appears that the total exports of the last year exceeded those of the preceding year in the sum of 21,899,041 dollars.

The following will show the relation of the exports of the one year to those of the other.

In the year ending Sept. 31st, 1803— 55,800,033 In the year ending September 30th, 1804, 77,699,074 Increase the last year, 21,899,041

Table with Domestic products exported and Foreign products exported for Sept 30th, 1803 and 1804.

Decrease the last year 738,484 Increase the last year 22,637,575

Which may be considered as the relative advance of our exports for the last year. It would be doing injustice to our own ideas as well as to the enlightened character at the head of our finances...
