GENERAL FERRAND'S SPEECH -The following is the translation of a paper, robber, crying out in a moureful voice which the editors of the American were favored with by a gentleman of this city:

Speech of General Ferrand, to the soldiers and inhabitants, on the walls of Saint Domingo, in presence of the Brigands. FRENCH SOLDIERS.

and Inhabitants of St. Domingo! IT is here you must remain—It is here you must either fight or perish-It is here that the All Powerful God has marked out the place for vengeance—It is here you ought to revenge the manes of your fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, wives, children and friends, who all perished by ! blood thirsty hands-by the monsters who furround us! It is here that you ought to shew what the valor of a chosen sew are able to perform against a number of assaf. sins!-It is here where the field is cha'ked out for victory!

Do not be frigh ened at those cannibals; they appear only here strong by treacherous murder, agains those who are not able to defend themselves. Lut what can their numerous cohort do a ainst brave soldiers and a place fortified by nature and art? Soon you will see them dispersed? and fall at the foot of these camparts.

They will perhaps tell you that they have eonquered every town in Seint Domingo, though they were fortified and desended by very brave troops. Pure illusions! They to be called conquerors! They only conquered those towns which were surrendered to them by treachery and treason-none sure was taken by true force, except St. Jago; which, though ill fortified and desended by a handful of inhabitants, has shewn what valor could do against such enemies. Eighteen hundred of those barbarians have bit the dust, and we shall soon give a good account of the remainder of their army.

Tohabitants-of-St. Domingo; I do not know, if your missoriunes can bear a comparison to the direful necessity which forces us to give battle, having no place for a retreat, on one side surrounded by brigands-on the other the sea: having not one single vessel either to fly or o escape to-no other alternative offers but victory alone. - I repeat it again, it is here you must perish or conquer! Have courage now, let us fight and victory, will be our lot-

[The following account of a singular and daring robbery, is copied from the

Pittsburg Tree of Liberty.] As In John Arwin, was going from Charlestown, Brooke county, Virginia. on my way to Washington, in Pennsylvania, on the 20th inst. I met a man on the road about aix miles from Charles. town, who came swiftly up to me and took hold of my horse by the bridle, and cocking a pistol at my breast, bid me to give him my money. I began with a pretence to unlock my saddlebags, and drew a pistol from my hulster; which he discovered, and wrung it out of my hands with great violence and threw i Dihat "The President and Directors shall sale. have power to make application to the legisla. ture of the state, at the next or any succeeding session thereof, for an act of incorporation for the said compan,, on the principles, and with the powers and privileges expressed in the first article of this association, and with such other powers and privileges as they may think adviseable ; and to consent, on the part of the company to such terms and conditions for obtaining the said act, as they shall think proper." In pursuance of the above recited powers, a petition was presented to the last legislature by the president and directors, a: companied with the draft of an act of incorporation, in conform. ity with the articles of the association. The law passed by the legislature so materially, differs, in many particulars, from the articles subscribed, that the president and directors, on mature consideration, do not think it adviseable to accept of, or to ad under the law, in its present form, or until an alteration thereof can be procured ; but in all respects to execute the said articles, as far as they have the means to do so, upon the fai h of which individuals have subscribed and paid their meney.
