ENTITLED. THE AMERICAN DRAWING MAGAZINE;

A COMPLETE SYSTEM OF DRAWING, Ada; ted to the use of all persons who would become accomplished in this branch of education, by which they may be instruced without the aid of a teacher, and also, become acquainted with the first rudiments or painting, sculpture and architecture.

By JOHN ECKSTEIN, Late Painter and Statuary to the King of Prussia, and now Professor of Drawing to the Academy of Fine Arts in Philasciphia.

CONDITIONS.

Finst, The work shall be published in numhers, . ch number containing twelve engravings or etchings, thirteen inches by ten, three of which shill be coloured. The whole work will be completed in twelve nun bers, and the numbers shall be published at intervals not greater than three months each.

SECOND, The price to subscribers will be two dollars a number, to be paid on delivery. To non-subscribers the price will be two dollars and fifty cents -The necessary explanations and and instructions will be given in the early progress of the work.

THE liberal encouragement which is given to all attempts for the cultivation of the arts and sciences in this country, induces the arrist to prise t the above plan to the consideration of the pu lic. His immedia e object in this publica to will be to establish and exemplify such rules and pri ciples in the art of Drawing, as shall enable any person to obtain a proficien v therein without any other assistance. The work also will be found eminently us ful in all drawing schools, pa ticularly where he teacher is so occupied with the theoretical parts of the subject, as to be abridged in the time which should be devoted for the practical improvemen. ci ins populs.

To the Arresican public it will be unnecessa-I case India book musiin & hardkerchiefs Ty, for the succe s of a work like this, to office zny remarks on the importance and usefulness of the subject of which it treats. That public is well aware, that the ait of dawing is mile metely connected with all other of the line arts. and that an acquair takes with it aless heal to the rainter, the sculptor, and the a chieck

As a source f amusement, and as forming a branch of police a acation, the art of drawing will ever be cultivated when true taste and polished manners shall preval. The display of skill for a perpetuation of the remembrance of objects which are near to us, must ever award guatification to a feeling mind; and there is feris too no more lively pleasure than that which is experienced by a successful exhibition of the becuties of nature by the hand of art

The taste and judgment of a polished community, the ar ist proposes to offer the testimomals of his shill. Should that taste and ju me ment approve if his plan, an afford encourage. me it for his exerious, it will be the highest reward to which his ambition can aspire. To every person conversant with works of this nature, and acquainted with the expences f their publication, it will be evident that no motives of pecuniary emolument can influence him to make these projectals. His mest favorable calculations parient him injy to exped a remuper tion of the expense, and a very limited reward for his trouble.
