It is known to ail, that they a on it entual terms. have long suffered under the i thuence of ignorance, and of vice, its invariable concommant. The Atrican Methodists of this city, teeling much interested for the present and rising generation, and believing that information, through the medium of education and the preaching of the garpel, would tend much to the peare happiness, and real benefit of society, a few years fast purchased the African school house for a piace of worship and a school for the people of color: The purchase money, though large in amount, is fully discharged and paid. They have-also lately purchased a piece of ground for the bur al of the dead.

The Lord has prospered their endeavors to promote the information and happiness it their brethren; ou the house is now too small to ontain the congregation which attends. De irrus of being more extensively useful, and stimulated by the encouraging assurances of support from their white frien's and others, they are anxious to enlarge the church; but from the late great advinces they have made in the payment for the church, and the debt contracted for the burial ground, they feel unable to effect the object of their withes alone, and herefore solicit the assistance of all who are interested in the information, civilization and welfare of the presentand succeeding generations of the African race-Confidently hering their well meant endeavers will cordially meet the warmes, appr bation and generous assistance of their fellow cit zens I he committee appointed for that purp se will writ on them for the testimony of their approbation.

Mr. John Hagerty has kindly accepted of the treasurership; and Messes Emanuel Kent, james McCannon, and Isaac Bun es in, have consented to assist with their advice and attention in making the proposed alteration: Under their direction the public may rely all monies received will be exrefully a, ; r printed for the uses intended.-Trusting in the direction and superi tendence of a kin 1 over Juling Providence, it is hoped your dona it is will be seen in the improvement and hap, it is of the present and future generations
