BY AUTHORITY.

AN ACT Further providing for the government of the district of Louisiana. BE it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress-assembled, That all that part of the country ceded by France to the United States, under the general name of Louisiana, which by an act of the last session of Congress was erected into a separate district, to be called the district of Louisiana, shall henceforth be known and designated by the name and title of the territory of Louisiana, the government whereof shall be organized and administered as follows:

The executive power shall be vested in a governor, who shall reside in said territory, and hold his office during the term of three years, unless sooner removed by the President of the United States: He shall be commander in chief of the militia of the said territory, superintendant ex officio of Indian affairs, and shall appoint and commission all officers in the same, below the rank of general officers; shall have power to grant pardons for offences against the same, and reprieves for those against the United thereon shall be known. Sec. 2. There shall be a secretary, whose commission shall continue in force for four years, unless sooner revoked by shall reside in the said territory, and whose duty it shall be under the direction of the governor, to record and preserve all the papers and proceedings of the executive, and all the acts of the governor and of the legislative body, and to transmit authentic copies—of the same every six months to the President of the United States. In case of a vacancy of the office of governor, the government of the said territory shall be exercised by the Secretary. Sec. 3. The legislative power shall th be vested in the governor and in three judges, or a majority of them, who shall have power to establish inferior courts in information about 80 men had been imthe said territory, and prescribe their jurisdiction and duties, and to make all laws which they may deem conducive to the good government of the inhabitants | thereof: Provided however, That no law shall be valid which is inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the United States, or which shall lay any person under restraint or disability on account of his religious opinions, profession or worship, in all of which he shall be free to maintain his own, and not be burthened with those of another. And provided ules, That in all criminal prosecutions, the trial shall be by a jury of twelve good | dead. The child was looking out at a and lawful men of the vicinage, and in all civil cases of the value of one hundred dollars, the trial shall be by jury, if either of the parties require it. And the go- injury—a few slight marks of injury were territory, all the laws which may be made as aforesaid, and shall from time to time report the same to the President of the United States, to be laid before Congress, which if disapproved by Congress shall thenceforth cease and be of no effect. Sec. 4. There shall be appointed three judges, who shall hold their offices for the term of four years, who, or any two of them, shall hold annually two courts within the said district, at such place as will be most convenient to the inhabitants thereof in general, shall possess the same jurisdiction which is possessed by the judges of the Indiana territory, and shall continue in session until all the business depending before them shall be disposed

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That for the more convenient distribution of justice, the prevention of crimes and injuries, and execution of process criminal and civil; the governor shall parts of the territory in which the Indian title shall have been extinguished, into districts subject to such alterations as may be found necessary, and he shall appoint thereto such magistrates and other civil officers, as he may deem necessary, whose several powers and authorities, shall be regulated and defined by law.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That the governor, secretary and judges to be appointed by virtue of this act shall respectively receive the same compensations for their services as are by law established for similar offices in the Indiana territory, to be paid quarter yearly out of the treasury of the United States. Sec. 7. And be it further enacted, That the governor, secretary, judges, justices of the peace and all other officers, civil and military, before they enterupon the duties of their respective offices, shall take an oath, or affirmation, to support the constitution of the United States, and, for the saithful discharge of the duties of their effice; the governor before the President of the United States, or before judge of the supreme or district court the United States, or before such oer person as the President of the United States shall authorise to administer the same; the secretary and judges before the governor; and all other officers before such person as the governor shall direct.

Sec. 8. And be it further enacted, That the governor, secretary and judges, to be appointed by virtue of this act, and all the additional officers authorised thereby, or by the act for erecting Louisiana into two territories, and providing for the temporary government thereof, shall be appointed by the President of the United States, in the recess of the senate, but shall be nominated at their next meeting for their advice and con-

Sec. 9. And be it further enacted, That the laws and regulations, in force in the said district, at the commencement of this act, and not inconsistent with the provisions thereof, shall continue in force, until altered, modified or repealed by the legislature.

Sec. 10. And be it further enacted, That so much of an act, entitled, "An act erecting Louisiana into two territories, and providing for the temporary government thereof," as is repugnant to this act, shall from and after the fourth day of July next, be repealed, on which said fourth day of July, this act shall commence and have full force.

The British papers continue to mention, that Novoziltzoff, a Russian envoy, has been sent to Italy, to propose to the pacification. If this is so, it certainly discovers considerable anxiety for peace in Alexander to send an agent from Russia to Italy to hunt up Bonaparte, to induce him to put an end to the war.

We hear from Passamaquaddy, that an English ship of war has of late arrived there for the purpose of recruiting, which in so obscure a place can only be done by pressing men. At the date of our pressed; in effecting which several men from the American side, it is reported, had been taken without protections, and that all the English coasters and fishermen had suspended their business in the neighbourhood of the ship.

HANOVER, (N. H.) June 28.

Northumberland, June 8. On Saturday last, a heavy shower of rain attended with severe thunder and lightning, was experienced here; when a child of Mr. Moses Dustin, between 8 and 9 years of age, was struck instantly broken square of glass in a window, with two other children near by, viewing the clouds; the other children received no vernor shall publish throughout the said discovered on the casement and on the roof of the house, but no material damage sustained, or any sensible 'shock felt by the family in the house. Nothing was to be seen on the body which denoted violence; nor was it in any degree discoloured. It is hoped that such events will warn people to keep at a distance from their doors or windows in a season of tempest, as well as to prepare for sudden

On Saturday, the 15th inst. a log house belonging to Mr. Zebulon Hunt, of Bath, was struck with lightning, which split a stud and took two large pieces almost off; and running down through the chamber floor, shivered in pieces two looking glasses, and split two logs through at the west end of the house where the glasses hung, knocked one man and a woman with a child in her arms, and three more children to the floor, in the other room. In an adjoining room lay another woman, in a fainting, helpless posture; and while the company were affording her relief, came a most shocking flash of lightning and thunder-but through the goodness of Almighty God their lives were all spared, and the injured are recovering.

AMHERST, (N. H.) July 2. Lightning-On Tuesday last was experienced in this vicinity, as severe thunder and lightning as has perhaps been known for many years. In several places, its effects were severely felt.

In Merrimac, it struck the barn of Lt. Henry Fields, on the top, and passed off in two different directions, nearly destroying one end of the barn. From the barn, one part took an easterly direction, thro'a shed, where it killed nine sheep and one cow; the other went southerly about 30 yards, to an apple tree, where it killed two hogs, and set on fire a parcel ofdry wood lying near it. From hence it took different directions, making deep surrows in the ground in its course. One part disappeared in a pile of wood at no great distance, while the other continued by the door of the house, about 50 yards, when it struck a buttonwood tree, and after passing up the same about 15 feet, spent itself in the air. Some pieces of the barn were found at the distance of 112 vards from the place from whence they were remoed by the lightning. The family in the house were sensibly affected by the shock, though none were essentially inju-

Remarkable Melanchuly event.

We have seldom to record a more truly singular and distressing event, of the effect of passion in youth, than the following :-- On Friday last, AVERY HAR-Low, only twelve years of age, whose parents are called respectable, living in French and Spanish fleets had sailed for Sharon, had returned from an errand, France. In the Spy came passengers, when his father chastised him in a gentle manner for his loitering. He was then bid by his father to go with a horse to pasture, about three quarters of a mile distant. As he was going, he was heard to say, by one of the smaller children. sary to have gone that distance. They a kickory, which being at one end too some smaller pieces. A complete moese ! was about his neck. His father cut him from the tree, and attempts were made to resuscitate life by a physician, but to no purpose. He was gone, by one rash, inconsiderate act, beyond the recal of all human power—an awful example to all passionate, disobedient children!

The agitation and distress of the parents can better be conceived than described; and their chief consolation must French emperor a plan for a general be that of having been faithful in the discharge of their duty in his education. We understand the verdict of the jury is, that he hut an end to his own life through want of reason and reflection, in the heat of passion.

Captain Farwell, of the ship Spy, arrived at Norfolk, in 16 days from Guadaloupe, says, that before he sailed the Governor of Guadaloupe had declared, that he was determined to put to death a; Americans trading to or from St. Domingo, and that official orders to that effect would be immediately issued. The general opinion at Guadaloupe was, that the Captains Harding of that port; Gillis of New York, and Cilpin, of Bultimore, with their crew; their vessels were captured.

As will be seen by the official return, the city inspector reports 61 deaths in the course of last week. The increased number, however, need not create the least alarm, when it is considered that at least the one half are children under five years of age, carried off by dysentery, and the complaints incident to infancy. No less than four persons are mentioned as having died suddenly in consequence of drinking cold water.

RAMSEY, in his history of the American Revolution, records the following instance of patriotism.

Among the Americans who were killed in the action near Charleston, on the 20th June, 1779, was Col. Robents, an artillery officer of distinguished abilities. In the short interval between his being wounded and his dying, he was visited on the field of battle by his son, captain Roberts, of his own regiment. The expiring father presented his sword to his son. with all exhortation to behave worthy of it, and to use it in desence of liberty and his country. After a short conversation he desired him to return to his proper station, adding "that there he might be useful, but to lam he could be of no ser.
