"Policy" renders an interview necessary, with the author of a piece, signed "Indeftendence," previous to its insertion.

FOR THE AMERICAN.

Mr. EDITOR,

IT is with much gratification we j' are enabled to announce to the citizens of Baltimore, that, if elected, Mr. Thomas GRIFFITH will represent us in our next General Assembly. The merits of this gentleman are so well known, as to preclude every necessity of descending to panegyric: we shall only say, he is a native American, and has been long a respectable citizen of Baltimore. Much might be said of the services he has rendered his country when he held an im--portant and respectable office under the sanction of its government, for many years, during which his residence was in France; and through the whole tenor of his conduct, we have never heard the malignant fiend with her thousand tongues, even attempt to whisper into disrepute Lis self-earned lame.

FOR THE AMERICAN.

Mr. Preurs,

AS the electioneering compaign has commenced, and several mechanics have f been pleased to send you for publication, the names of those, who, in their estimation, vere suitable characters to represent our city in the general assembly of this state.— It is probable that no others will be nominated, as the day is near at J hand when they will be elected. I am " myself a mechanic, and to them I wish to address myself. Ever since I have been eligible to vote, I have uniformly exercised my right in favor of republicans, and will, when called upon, do the like again. It is well known that the mechanic interest has always been able to elect whom they please, and consequently sought for by those who wished to be exalted to places of honor, and sometimes offices of profit. A writer, who signs himself A Mechanic and Subscriber, has taken upon himself to recommend to the ci izens of Baltimore, what I call a modern tederalist, as a proper character to repregiven to any person, who shall find all scrit us.- I hope we will not suffer ourand deliver to either of the subscribers, it selves to be duped by him, who. I am in the city of Baltimore, the remains of apt to believe, has taken upon Limself the late Mr. CHARLES RIDGELY, who the name, without really being one, merely to carry his man. Republicans have always been our choice. Much of late has also been said about the banks and their directors, to influence the minds of the public. What, in the name of I common sense, have we to do with them ! or their cirectors? for we get no dis- W counts, though we may have often tried, and upon as good paper, (as they style it) as the city can afford. Pethaps some who have commenced a mercantile business, may now and then be favored, but I never knew, no not even one solitary instance of a mechanic's obtaining a discount if he followed his branch of business; then I ask again, what possible interest can we have in them? I would willingly lend my aid to do them away, and once more place ourselves on an equal footing with the merchant and trader; but for the present let us unite in supporting the cause for which we had so hard a struggle, in voting for John Stephen and Theodoric Bland, firm republicans and Americans. I would not wish to withhold any respect to men professing the like principles, be they of whatever nation they may; to me they are all alike, and in my bumble opinion, entitled to the same regard with others who think with ANOTHER MECHANIC.

festival, during which time their slaves ad liberty, without restraint or exception, to speak what they would in order to relieve their oppressed minds-when the festival ended they returned to their former abject condition.—However absurd it may appear to some---to make a comparison between the slaves of Rome and the freemen of Baltimore--tho' it be to the " Jews a stumbling-block and the Greeks foolishness"--there is something strikingly analogous in the two stations-----Baltimore, elections as they have hitherto turned outare an indescribable nething--an numeaning farce-their tendency has been to make men great at the expence of the best and dearest interests of the community .-- Instead of elections, we might just as well revive the olympic games or the British boxing matches—it is of no use to send such men to Legislate for us as we had last year-they either do not understand the interests of their constituents or totally disregard them -- in either case they ought timore county intend to petition the next | to be dismissed from their stations—indeas undo what they have done-and do better for the future-but they try all possible means to avoid a discussion-they have the objections against their conduct in black of struth and echerness," and what is the reply !-- Let any person read the Federal Gazette of the 2d instant and he will
