A Black Woman turned White. HIS DAY, the 21 of December, and eve-I rv dar this week, will be exhibited at Mr. M Walker's tavern, No. 18, North-Howard-st. a woman born BLACK, but has since turned p received most beautifully WHITE. She was born on the plantation of Mr. John Pindle, near Caton's lime-kilns, within a few miles of Baltimo certy; is now about 26 years of age has a child perfectly black. Her mother, a black woman, served her time to Mr. S. Vincent of Gay-street, and he has also an own brother of this extraordinary woman. This most singular woman, who has changed the darkness of an Ethopiate to the most delicate white, has always been habituated to the labor of the corn-field and other hard exercises she has saldom experienced indisposition, and the remarkable change can only be ascribed to causes which the most learned and ingenious have never been able to ascertained. In Carey's American Museum may be found an elegant communication from the celebrated Doctor Rusk, of Philadelphia, wherein that learned and scientific gentleman endeavors to account for the Physical cause of such phonomena, is the only instance, except the present one, that ever occurred in the United States, which was that of a man in Virginia. The public may rely upon it that there is no deception in the above. The most respectable evidences can be adduced to prove that the woman was actually born a black Negro, and, except in those parts more immediately exposed to the sun, in her daily labor, has, from some unknown cause, actually turned to a pure and beautiful white; and what is still more extraordinary, her wool retains its natural shape and
