Longitudes at Sea,

FOUND, if not exactly, at farthest, within five miles, by a process, which, after ten days' instruction, may be performed, in about fifteen minutes.

The following are amongst the methods published in London, for the above purpose, since the beginning of the present century:—1st. A Lunar Chart, the only one in this city. 2d. A projection of two lines only. 3d. Trigonometrical calculation. 4th. A variety of formulae, simplified by alphabetical order, and marginal references to rules.

Those who are desirous of becoming acquainted with the above methods, or any one in particular, will please to apply at Mr. Bigoe's, No. 43, Charles-street.—1st. The price, including navigation, double altitudes, the use of the sextant, &c. &c. is ten dollars; and Seron's spectrum, is ten dollars by the branch, one half in advance. No entrance. On the same terms will also be taught, mensuration of superficies, solids and lands (the last, as now used in the university and by the survey-general of Pennsylvania); also gaging, dialling, geography, &c. by a graduate of Harvard University, for many years employed by government as mathematician in the navy, and now an instructor in a respectable academy in Pratt-street. A Translator's office, for the English and French languages, if opened at the same place, and every species of printing in both languages, formed or corrected in any style, for publication. February 14.
