I FEEL disposed (as every honest man ought, who has been rendered unable from adverse causes to comply with his engagements) to acquaint my friends thus publicly, rive every day at 9 o'clock, A. M. whose confidence I have always possessed, (and hope still to deserve) that in consequence of the unfriendly disposition of banking indiday and Friday, at 7 o'clock, A. M. stitutions, extending to the destruction of my credit and the impossibility to meet my | Saturday, at 9 o'clock, A. M. engagements, without making sacrifices to my total min, I am necessitated to say, that after the 22d instant, I cannot meet other engagements, than those which every man of feeling holds sacred. And for the satisfaction

may make immediate use of. son to expect from merchants. In this trade I | Weights, &c. have acquired wealth equal to my expectations | The Should the above not be disposed of pre--and with the product of my industry, I am not dissatisfied. I owe my prosperity and success in business, to credit established by de- | office. grees, on my own funds and unwearied application—not to the banks, as most others. have never stooped to court their partial favors. In consequence of the present scarcity of money, which is well known to us all, country produce is low and in no demand. The funds that reasonable calculation would allow sufficient to meet engagements daily falling due, are locked up in the country. I have asked as sistance from banks, on paper that is always discounted for favorites and shavers, who have a little interest at the next election for direct ors. On the best paper I have been uniformly refused, and necessitated to make sacrifices, and many of those same notes thus privately discounted I have to shew, bear the names c bank directors and others, who hold a capital borrowed from those institutions. Thus into the hands of speculators, Jews and usurers, the good people of this state have placed the direction of more than double the actual capital of the state. Be it far from me to say or Seed Potatoes, Cycler Vinegar, Indian Corn, | Ulink, that there are no well meaning men among the directors of those i stitutions. Some few, poverty obliges to hold their seats, and if we One case cotton Cambricks, which will be judge by their works, the balance are sycophants, polished in intrigue, and engaged in designs that disgrace society! I don't wish to complain that those institutions would not give to me the same accommodation as they have to others, less deserving. I wish to let the world know that they have unfeelingly destroyed my credit without cause, as the result of my business will shew. I am possessed of active funds, more than sufficient to pay my debts, independent of debts due me in the country, to a much greater amou t. Under those circumstances. I appeal to the feelings of my fellowcitizens, how far those monsters have been justifiable in destroying my credit, gained on my industry, which I have always held dearer to me than life—and to support it, I have made sacrifices much to the advantage of (no doubt) many of themselves. It is not uncommon for those juntos to murder their neighbor's 'credit behind the curtain, and afterwards whisper the evil deed with deadly venom-then the incautious victim feels the well pointed shafts of avarice, and too often falls a prey to those unfeeling murderers. As for the lieutenant of the Mammoth Bank, if he could suppose others equally base, wicked and vindictive as himself, he ought to feel the horrors of retaliation from cowardly assassins and midnight incen-

> Poisoned tongues have been too effectually engaged to my discredit, though in one case where the wicked calumniator is discovered. I shall appeal to the laws of my country for redress.
