The following is a correct account of the distresses produced by the war in Germany, as copied from a Circular Letter distributed throughout England, for the purpose of obtaining donations; it was handed to the editor by a gentleman of this city, with a particular request to give it publicity.

DISTRESS IN GERMANY.
 The intelligence which has lately been received from various parts of Germany, of the calamitous effects occasioned principally by the war, is so well authenticated, as to have a strong claim, not only on the commiseration of the British public, but also, on its beneficence.—In order to excite those sentiments, and feelings, which lead to the exercise of correspondent liberality, it will only be necessary to state the substance of the information contained in several private letters, received from different persons upon the continent: one of them has the following expressions:

HEIDELBERG, October 23, 1805.
 "But six weeks ago, the Emperor Napoleon, was at Boulogne; and now he is in the heart of Bavaria, at the head of 140, or 150,000 men; and the Austrian army is either killed, taken prisoners, or dispersed. How will this end? The whole of Germany, and the northern nations, are in arms: it is awful indeed!
 The violence of this tremendous storm falls upon our poor native country. Last summer there was such a scarcity in several parts of Saxony, Lusatia, Silesia, Bohemia, Austria, and other neighbouring provinces, that many, baked bran for bread, and used grass for vegetables; so some people even went to those places where dead horses were thrown, and fed upon their flesh. Now, in addition to the usual population of the country, there are 150,000 men coming from the West, and more than 100,000 from the East, who must also be fed: and in the northern parts the harvest has again been very scanty. My very heart bleeds at the sight of this universal distress. O! that some relief might be afforded us! And perhaps our hopes of receiving some assistance from England may not be disappointed.

Another letter, from STUTTGART, dated Oct. 11, 1805, states as follows:
 "What would you feel, could you now see our city! It has quite the appearance of a camp, 20,000 French soldiers having been quartered upon us. We have two officers and twelve privates in our own house, and some of our neighbours have had from thirty to forty. Provisions became so scarce, that they were hardly to be procured. There are some districts in the vicinity of Ulm, in which every thing is entirely consumed; and we have an universal famine to fear. The vintage of this year has also failed!"

From various quarters, it is stated, that foraging parties of soldiers have traversed the country in every direction, and at the point of the bayonet, have compelled the farmers to thrashout their grain for the use of the French army;— the season too, has been so unfavourable, that the vintage has failed.—The poor inhabitants in those parts, can now, neither get bread for themselves or their children to eat. As to animal food, the armies have in many places, cleared away most of the cattle. There are, therefore, numbers of very worthy families in the utmost distress, for want of the absolute necessaries of life.

It may be suitable to observe, that these communications have been made spontaneously, and are not the result of any previous investigation, or enquiry.—A vast accumulation of evidence on this subject probably exists in various hands, unknown and inaccessible to the writers of this address; and were it necessary to collect testimonies, on a more enlarged scale, from the suffering inhabitants of Germany, it is to be feared that the detail would prove too voluminous, as well as to affecting, for general perusal.

The information above stated, was sufficiently interesting, to induce a few friends to meet together, in order to consider of suitable means for mitigating, in some degree, these calamities; and it was the prompt and unanimous impression, AT A MEETING HELD IN LONDON, NOVEMBER 22, 1805,

That not a day should be lost in a case so pressing and urgent.—It was, therefore, RESOLVED,
 "To guarantee the payment of a considerable sum of money, which was specified, [on the expectation of its being raised by subscriptions and public collections, in the united kingdom of G Britain and Ireland,] and to give orders by the same night's post, to some confidential friends on the continent, to expend that amount, in the purchase of provisions, and otherwise, as they shall be directed."
 The Committee which was then formed, for the purpose of obtaining and administering relief to the Sufferers, and for circulating the substance of the above intelligence, have now the satisfaction to state—That, the Public have testified their sympathy on this occasion in a degree highly honorable to their character; and by their liberality have not only indebted the Committee for the amount of the guarantee above-mentioned; but enabled them to give directions to administer relief more extensively than in-their first instructions. And, on this principle it is their intention to continue to act, collecting from time to time such other information from Germany, as may enable them to proceed on a dis-direct and impartial plan of distribution among the sufferers.

 In order to prevent the benevolence of the public, which has such a commendable object in view, from being intercepted and falling into improper hands, much deliberation has been employed; and the precautionary instructions which have been given are such, as to leave no material cause for apprehension on this subject.
 The Committee might now invite the continued liberality of the public by many very forcible and affecting considerations, but they rather chuse to rely on the preceding statement of facts, persuaded that they are of themselves sufficient to produce a just and honorable impression.
 It will at once be recollected, that the objects to be relieved, are Christians—and some of them the immediate subjects of our beloved Sovereign: the principles, therefore, of piety and patriotism are alike their Advocates.

LONDON, December 23, 1805.
 At subsequent meetings of the Committee, the following intelligence was received, which, agreeably to the intimation before given, they now communicate to the public. The first information is derived from the Rev. C. E. A. Schwabe, Minister of the German St. George's Church, Goodman's-fields, London.
 "Auliffe-street, December 17, 1805.

"During my stay on the Continent in the months of July, August, and September last, I witnessed, particularly in Saxony, affecting scenes of distress.
 Bread had risen to three times the price at which it had been a twelvemonth before, and in several places could scarcely be obtained. The Governments were obliged to have the houses searched, and to force those who had a little store left, to bring it to market. An article of food, to which nothing but the danger of being starved could induce men to have recourse, was given to the poor for Bread.
 The country people cut down the corn before it was ripe, and braved the prohibition of the Government with the exclamations, "Give us bread for our families!" Distress led great numbers to commit various depredations. In one small town, Sonderhausen, not less than sixty persons were, at the time when I passed through it, confined in dungeons for setting fire, in a state of despair, to several houses and villages. Contagious diseases were apprehended, and must I fear be the final issue of these terrible calamities.—Late accounts describe the present situation of the inhabitants of that country as infinitely worse, than it was during the summer. A friend of mine wrote a few weeks ago from Erfurt, as follows:

"We flattered ourselves, that our situation would be a little more tolerable after the harvest, but, alas! the scarcity is far greater than it was, and an army of 100,000 men is collecting in our neighborhood. Sometimes distress would tempt us to doubt of a Divine Providence.
 Yet it is our comfort that God still lives, and extraordinary evils lead often to extraordinary means of relief."

Another friend, of the same neigh-hood, writes:—"I assure you we are in a dreadful embarrassment, and I do not know what we are to do. The people are in despair. If things do not soon change, we shall have a general revolution, for the greater part have nothing to live on, and the little that is left, must be given to the Military."

C. E. A. SCHWABE.
 The Committee felt great interest in the above communication, and ordered some relief without delay.
 (To be continued.)

CHARLESTON, May 16.
 Captain Jenkins informs us that three British frigates, a brig and two schooners were cruising off the island of Porto Rico; one of the frigates had cut out a Spanish schooner from a port in that island, having on board a cargo worth 32,000 dollars, in specie and cocoa.
 At a meeting held at Planter's hotel, on the 12th inst., by the American masters of vessels in this port, to adopt some mode of expressing their disapprobation of the recent conduct of the British armed force off New York upon our fellow citizens, when in the pursuit of their lawful business, and within the jurisdiction of these United States.

And likewise in paying a tribute of respect to the unfortunate John Pierce, who fell a victim to British cruelty and injustice, by a shot from the British ship Leander, commanded by Henry Whitty, when within a quarter of a mile of Sandy Hook, on the 25th April, at 5 P. M.

Captain David Jewett, in the chair.
 On motion, Resolved, That captains Peter Wm. Marrenner, Charles Cromwell, Daniel Jones, Isaac Lesene, Wm.
 Brewster, Daniel Bragdon and Isaac Seymond, be a committee to prepare and report to this meeting, resolutions expressive of the sense of this meeting, to be proposed to a subsequent one, to be held at Sollee's long-room, on the 14th, inst. at 7 P. M. Which meeting being held according to appointment, the committee reported the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted: Resolved, As the sense of this meeting that it accords with every sentiment expressed by the citizens of New York, upon the late unwarrantable, wanton and cruel violation of the part of the British citizens off Sandy Hook, of the laws of humanity, hospitality, and the rights of a neutral country, which should be sa-
