For Congress, THOMAS DICKSON, NICHOLAS R. MOORE. For Assembly, THEODORE BLAND, ELIAS GLENN, As men who by their general habits of industry and propriety are likely to unite the democratic republican votes in their favor. It is unnecessary to expatiate on the advantages and the final triumph which will await united exertions in the cause of liberty. In a few days I shall probably take occasion to address my fellow-citizens on the unfortunate schism which has arisen in the republican councils. I have no

Mr. Pechin, I beg leave through the medium of your paper, to nominate Mr. JAMES A. BUCHANAN, as a proper person to represent this city in the next congress—a gentleman whose talents and commercial knowledge eminently qualify him for that important office: he has always been a firm republican and his integrity will be acknowledged by all who know him.—If he will consent to serve he will be voted for by republicans generally. A. Z.

To the Voters of the City of Baltimore, GENTLEMEN, You are hereby respectfully informed, that Mr. Adam Fonerden will represent you in the next General Assembly of this state, if elected. It is therefore expected he will meet the general approbation and interest of his fellowcitizens on the occasion. MANY VOTERS. Communicated. HENRY TRAPNALL. This gentleman is a candidate for the office of sheriff at the next election. He is now upwards of forty years of age, and of consequence cannot expect, in a common course of nature, to have many opportunities in addition to the present to solicit the favor he now asks from the confidence of his Fellow Citizens. The mild, amiable, and agreeable manners of Mr. Trapnall, together with that benevolence of heart, for which all who know him, will give him credit, must ensure him a considerable portion of the public confidence, (and should he be so fortunate as to become the object of the people's choice) would be an ample pledge and guarantee to the public, that the duties of his office would be conducted, with politeness, integrity and humanity. But in addition to many other excellencies of character, this gentleman, from the first dawn of Republicanism upon this western world has been a sincere and ardent friend to the rights of man, and the true principles of freedom—still then this merit, shall this virtue, in the cause of liberty not meet its reward, from the republican voters of the city and county of Baltimore! Remember my fellow citizens, that it is only by the exercise of your voice on the days of your election that you can confer favors upon the meritorious, or impose punishments upon the undeserving. It is by the EXERCISE of the RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE ALONE, that you can support and maintain PRINCIPLE. Do this, and you will shew yourselves the advocates of truth, you will prove yourselves the friends of JUSTICE. FOR THE AMERICAN. To the free and independent Electors of Baltimore, FELLOW-CITIZENS, THE object for which I address you requires no apology; it would ill-become the descendant of the illustrious Trenchan, in laying his sentiments before the public, to stoop to any adulatory compliments. I write to my fellow-citizens, animated with patriotic feelings, and with that frankness which I trust will ever mark my character. The period is fast approaching when you will be called upon as men and as citizens to exercise the distinguished powers vested in you by the constitution of electing your representatives. The right of suffrage is the corner stone of your national prosperity and the seminal principle of your political liberty. Approach the poll as to an altar, come to it as to the performance of a great public trust. On the first Monday in October let no apathy or indifference prevent you from the execution of this important duty, as you wish for the honor of your country, for its future happiness, for the stability of your republican system, over the corrupt plans of federalism. Your representatives should be men of mature experience, of cultivated minds, general knowledge of mankind, unswerving integrity, and unyielding adherence to democratic principles, and to the present virtuous administration. They should have wisdom enough to know the true interests of their country and virtues enough to make that interest the polar star which is to direct their political course. I beg leave most earnestly to recommend for the support of genuine republicans— For Congress, THOMAS DICKSON, NICHOLAS R. MOORE. For Assembly, THEODORE BLAND, ELIAS GLENN, As men who by their general habits of industry and propriety are likely to unite the democratic republican votes in their favor. It is unnecessary to expatiate on the advantages and the final triumph which will await united exertions in the cause of liberty. In a few days I shall probably take occasion to address my fellow-citizens on the unfortunate schism which has arisen in the republican councils. I have no
