from whence he obtained it; and, altho' he yet has not pledged to offer, that his official conduct shall give universal satisfaction, is willing to say, that his discretionary powers shall be exercised with moderation, and that he never will be the instrument by which a sacrifice of feeling or property shall be made to gratify the caprice of any individual.

October 14 64t

LONDON, August 31.
We anticipate the indignation of our readers, and of the world when they shall hear, that it is the fixed determination of Bonaparte to dismember the monarchy, and to annihilate that of Portugal, in favor of that profligate, abandoned traitor, the prince of peace—that the provinces of Biscaiy, Navarre, Catalenia, and one half of Arragon are to be consolidated as a kingdom for that infamous betrayal and enslaver of his country & and that Portugal is held out to the miserable instrument of the French despot, the king of Spain, as a desirable compensation for his ancient domains?
But it will readily be believed, that so long as a drop of British blood circulates in the veins of a British minister, the abandonment of our oldest and best ally would not be submitted to. We must therefore conclude, that lord St.
Vincet and general Simcoe are dispatched to that country, and will be followed by our fleets and armies, to oppose to the uttermost, this infamous project.
That this arrangement is determined upon, we have no doubt; that it is now in progress to defeat it, we are well assured. That the final issue of this virtuous effort may be as successful as its motives are justifiable, honorable and legiti-mate we most humbly hope and pray.
The Paris Moniteur of the 14th August contains the following most important and affecting State Paper, being the Resignation of the High Office of Emperor of Germany, by FRANCIS, Emperor of Austria.
VIENNA, August 7.
"We Francis Second, etc."
"Since the peace of Presburgh all our attention and all our care have been employed to fulfil with scrupulous fidelity all the engagements contracted by that treaty, to preserve to our subjects the happiness of peace, to consolidate everywhere the amicable relations happily re-established, waiting to discover whether the changes caused by the peace would permit us to perform our important duties, as Chief of the Germanic Empire, conformably to the capitulation of election."
"The consequences, however, which ensued from some articles of the Treaty of Presburgh, immediately after its publication, and which still exist, and those events generally known, which have since taken place in the Germanic Empire, have convinced us that it will be impossible, under these circumstances, to continue the obligations contracted by the capitulation of election, and, even, if, reflecting on these political relations, it were possible to imagine a change of af-airs, the convention of the 12th of July, signed at Paris, and ratified by the Contracting Parties, relative to an entire separation of several considerable States of the Empire, and their peculiar consideration, has entirely destroyed every such hope."
"Being thus convinced of the impossibility of being any longer enabled to fulfil the duties of our Imperial functions, we owe it to our principles and to our duty, to renounce a crown which was only valuable in our eyes, whilst we were able to enjoy the confidence of the Electors, Princes, and other States of the Germanic Empire, and to perform the duties which were imposed upon us. We declare, therefore, by these presents, that we, considering as dissolved the ties which have hitherto attached us to the States of the Germanic Empire; that we considering as extinguished by the confederation of the States of the Rhine, the charge in chief of the Empire; and that we considering ourselves thus acquitted of all our duties towards the Germanic Empire, do resign the Imperial Crown, and the Imperial Government. We absolve, at the same time, the Electors, Princes and States, and all that belong to the Empire, particularly the Members of the Supreme Tribunal, and other Magistrates of the Empire, from those duties by which they were united to us as the legal Chief of the Empire, according to the Constitution."
"We also absolve all our German Provinces and States of the Empire from their reciprocal duties towards the Germanic Empire, and we desire in incorporating them with our Austrian States as Emperor of Austria, and in preserving them in those amicable relations subsisting with the neighbouring Powers and States, that they should attain that height of prosperity and happiness which is the end of all our desires; and the object of our dearest wishes."
"Done at our residence, under our Imperial seal."
FRANCIS.
Vienna, the 6th Aug. 1808.
This is followed by the following Address in the subsequent Moniteur:
VIENNA, August 8.
"We Francis Second, etc."
In abdication of the Imperial Government of the Empire, We, considering it as the last effort of our care, and as an absolute duty, do express thus publicly a desire equally reasonable and just, that the persons who have hitherto been employed in the administration of justice; and in diplomatic and other affairs, for the good of the whole empire, and for the service of the Chief of the empire, should be suitably provided for."
"The care which all the states of the empire took of those persons who lost their places by the affair of the indemnity in 1803 induces us to hope that the same sentiments of justice will be extended to those individuals who have hitherto been
