PROPOSAL

By the Rea Grove Hagerry is George Dobbin

To publish in one octavy rolume, price to subscribers one dellar fifty rents, neatly bound, pavable on delivery,

To which will be prefixed,

And an Appendix, Exhibiting the rise, progress, and present state of the Methodist Church throughout the United States: with his funeral ser- " " mon preached by Dr. White-A correct engraved Portrait of Mr. Wesley willembellish the redurite.

THE publication of this volume was occasioned by the repeated solicitations of many estremed Friends and Christian Professors. The Methodist Churches in the various Statest of the Union are very numerous, and their so cieties large; it is not surprising, therefores that among their members there should be considerable proportion who, from different causes, remain unarquainte! with the charace ter and labors of the founder; and with theimmense success which has accompanied the ministrations of the various instruments ema played to diffi se the knowledge of that ' lifer and immortality which he brought to light: through the gospel" The Christian feels a peculiar interest in the history of those men and gospel ministers, whose piety, "like & city set upon a hill, could not be hidden;" whose example so luminously shore ame me omen "that others seeing their good works glorifi d their Father in heaven;" whose at alfor the Redeemer animated them to surmount every difficulty to propagate that beaverly doctrine which " is a faithful saying; and warthy of all acceptation, that Jesus Christ cameinto the world to save even the chief of sinners; and whose perseverance and efforts. aided by the spirit of God, were crowned with unusual success: "the eves of numberless sinners being opened, an themselves turned from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan

1) God." The memoirs of eminently pious men are undoubte ily the most instructive, interesting and valuable species of writing; it combines every advantage which good example produces; it encourages those who study their lives, to ceaseless efforts in the work of religion; is animates them resolutely to pursue the path which leads to eternal life; and it constantly exhilerates them with the anticipation of hisimilarly glorious exit, and the same inconceivably beatific reward. - Among those whose charactor, talents, labors and usefulgess, will live in the men ory of all the ensuing ages of the church, fiw modern Christians have stronger claims upon the attention of their successors. than the Rey. John Wesley; whose extraordinary zeal, inc saint exertions, unsullied purity of motive, indefatigable perseverance, unyielding fortitude, irreproachable uprightness and astonishing prosperity in the immaculate Jesus cause, joined to the variety of his writings. the number of Christians who have united with the societies which he and his associates established, raise him to a very high rank among those who are born to dispel darkness from the human mind, and to disseminate the cheering and benign lustre of evangelical day. The progress of the Methodist Church in the United States is too important a topic to be omitted-hence Bishop Asbury's relation of his ministerial employment and its blessed effects, lias been consulted, and intelligent persons in the society have kindly communicated the result of their researches on this subject. The general want of a portable relation of the founder of the Methodist Societies, and of the means which, used under the blessing of God, have rendered their members so numerous, authorise a presumption, that this review of Mr. Wesley's life will be acceptable to all those "who love our Lord Jesus Christ in sin-
