The house proceeded to the second reading of the bill to incorporate the flockholders in the Meclanics' Bank of Baltimore, and after amending the tame the question was put, That the further confideration hereof be possesses until to-morrow? Refolved in the amrinahre.

The committee to whom were referred the communications of the executive relative to the Maryland bank flock lately in the bank of England, report, that they have carefull, eva mined the feveral documents fuhmitted to their consideration, from which it appears tha J deph ! H. Nichelson, elquire, the agent, herecofore app inted for that purpose, has d sposed of all the Bock in the bank of England to which this flate was endilled, and has received for the fame the fum of Jolls 648,484 34, which fum, in purfuance of a resolution of the general assembly, parela November fession, 1804, has been appropriated as fellows: Dills.

The committee further report, that fr m the correspondence on this subject between the executive and agent, which has been tam bet re them, the i aportant transaction of drawing our funds from a dillant country, has been effected with equal talent and fidelity; they therefore beg leave to submit the fellowing retoiumons:

All which is submitted. By order,

We have heard a rumour of intelligence having been received, that the Horidas were ceded to the United States. It is unknown to us where the report originated. We give it as we heard it. The writer of the letter, from which the preceding extract is made, hints at the possibility that such an event may occur, by observing, that lands which fell for five and fix dollars now, will be worth twenty when a change takes (Petersburg Republican.) place.

* The extract alluded to relates to the American and Spanish forces of the frontiers of Louisiana, but the account is not so late as our former advices from that quarter.]

In the course of business, I have often found it noted in Log-Books of vessels arriving in port, that they had seen a ship or brig (as the case might be,) but could not speak her, she being a mile or two to windward, or not directly in their cours. This has suggested anidea that a cheap Signal might be adopted, where. by the vessels of each State, or port in the Union, might be easily known to each other, even without speaking, or any other communication than hoisting a Flag.—I have therefore taken the liberty to propose a plan that has suggested itself to me as being of sovery little expence or trouble, that I hope one day to see it become nearly, if not quite universal.

The plan I would propose is as follows:-That each state, shall adopt a particular field Brig Ann, Benkin, or ground for their signal flag or burgee-according to the following arrangement which I beg leave to suggest :

Portsmouth, New-Hampshire, deep red jack Province of Main light do. Boston, Mussachusetts, deep blue Newport, Rhode-Island . light do Neu-Haven, Connecticut, New-York Orange New-Jersey Philad Iphia, Pennsylvania Wilmington, Delaware Baltin:ore, Maryland

Morfolk, Virginia .

To make the same more easy, I would proorigs, &c. so numbered, should be printe of om time to time. This mode would be the singular usewhere look outs or signal Posts are kept, as a numer cal Flag could be found & hoisted in half the trace they must take to over auf their different colour signals.
