JOHN LE TELLIER,
DENTIST,
In St. Paul's Lane, two doors above the Post Office.
OFFERS his services to the inhabitants of Baltimore and its vicinity in every branch of his profession, particularly in restoring the Teeth to their natural elegance without injuring their enamel, by cleansing them from that corrosive substance called Tarar, which adheres to them, it being of a yellow or black appearance, producing Scoury, causing an offensive breath, decaying of the Teeth, or a wasting of the Gums and Bony process of the jaw, till they drop out.
Persons unto whom nature has denied the satisfaction of having natural Teeth may have their loss supplied by artificial ones, set with such nicety and beauty, that they cannot be distinguished from natural, and of materials that will not change to an unnatural colour. Hollow ones he plugs so as to prevent them from being painful or further decaying for many years, and institutes those with the Gums that are much depreciated by carelessness or corroding medicines. Likewise extracts such as are too far gone to save.
