SPECTACLES. And having in bibed the notion, I was at a loss how to begin my prespectus. So many have gone before me-so many have gene on willy-nilly, led by some ignis fatuus-so many have failed—that by all that is beautiful and subline, I had determined to ask yourselves how I shall address you? And believe me, Madan, or Sir, or Miss, or Misster, this is a matter of selious consequence—for if your weightips or your ladyships should happen to be in an ill I unior, and my proposals should then come laughing across you, you might perchance send then to Old Nick: And again, if they should unluckily reach you in the fashion of a greybeard upon a go-cart, and you should be in "merry mood," you might laugh my gravity to scorn, and ask my carrier of parcels, like our wags with the country men, " when he had come down!" Thus you see I am in a dilemma- However, SPECTACLES the thing shall be called, eay what you can; and I will try the experiment of peeping through then st your purses for THO DOLLARS PER ANNIM --- Cheap Ly Plutus! dog chesp! The winders that may be seen through them will exceed all descriq tion-and what is remarkable, they will suit all sorts of people-young and old-short sighted and long sighted----- It shall cohtain-let me see-

" You are welcome to try it before you buy it"-This was the elegant motto which a schoolmaster of mine put upon his ink-bottles-and a very honest one it was-

So shall it be with my commodity-you shall try on the Spectacles before you pay for them; that is, my dear friends, you are not to pay one maravedi in edvance, but just fifty American Cents of the United States currency per quarter-and after reading my first number, if you are not pleased and tickled, nay and instructed to boot, why, by the bonor of a valiant Spaniard you may throw the four pages out of your win-
