A. C. D. LAVIGNE, HAVING harm! of the envious expressions uttered by certain com mon variers, miser dile chin serapers, and frizguilary quacks, territor to depreciate that superriority which ge ims is entitled to and talents will invariably command, hereby puts them and their vulgar arts at defiance; and scorning to hold parley widesuch sneaking imps, reposes to any gentleman to detend and maint in at his Shop, the Head Quarters of Lishion, No. 6, South Gay-street, against all persons whomsoever, his title to supremacy in carlery, waggery and razery, to the amount of 100 dollars and upwards! As hostil, as he is to that low style of puffery adopted by a certain agreenturer, 'yelep'd Haggins, LAVIGEE cannot avoid declaring in the face of the world that his education has been scientifical; that after having finished his studies at Paris, he took the tour of the universe-having had the rare fortune of regulating the heads of Catherine II. and the Grand Turk; the King of Persia and the Emperor of China; the Mamelucs of Egypt and the Dey of Algiers, together with all the ladies of their respective courts: He has visited Cape of Good-Hope, India, Java, Madagascar, Tartary, and Kamschatka, whence he reached the United States by the way of Cape Horn: In England he had previously tarried, where he delivered Lectures on Heads in great style, and received much applause. He has at last settled down at Baltimore, determined to devote the remainder of his days to the high profession to waich his destiny has called him-Inviting all the literati, the lovers of the arts and sciences, to visit him at his Laboratory of Beauty, where he has separate rooms for accommodating ladies and gentlemen, who desire to adorn their heads with hairudition.
