

Daily Paper $7 and Country Paper $5 per ann. All advertisements appear in both Papers.

MONDAY, APRIL 27, 1867.

[From the New-York American Citizen.]

TO RUFUS KING, Esq.

Sir, From your silence on the subject of my letter of the 4th inst. I presume that I am not to be honored with a reply. Perhaps this may be owing to my temerity in addressing him, whom Mr. Coleman calls "the first man in the country."

Though you, sir, have not honored me with your notice, I have been abundantly honored by your friends; and yet, extraordinary as it may appear, I mean to pay little attention to their addresses, but to envelope myself in dignity like your own.

Your friends, who they accuse me of want of moderation in my conduct towards you, are wonderfully mistaken. They do not reflect, or know, that I have never spoken of you without suppressing (as I now do) personal feelings that rise up within me, and swell my heart with indignation and resentment.

Your friends, who they accuse me of want of moderation in my conduct towards you, are wonderfully mistaken. They do not reflect, or know, that I have never spoken of you without suppressing (as I now do) personal feelings that rise up within me, and swell my heart with indignation and resentment.

Your friends, who they accuse me of want of moderation in my conduct towards you, are wonderfully mistaken. They do not reflect, or know, that I have never spoken of you without suppressing (as I now do) personal feelings that rise up within me, and swell my heart with indignation and resentment.

Your friends, who they accuse me of want of moderation in my conduct towards you, are wonderfully mistaken. They do not reflect, or know, that I have never spoken of you without suppressing (as I now do) personal feelings that rise up within me, and swell my heart with indignation and resentment.

Your friends, who they accuse me of want of moderation in my conduct towards you, are wonderfully mistaken. They do not reflect, or know, that I have never spoken of you without suppressing (as I now do) personal feelings that rise up within me, and swell my heart with indignation and resentment.

Your friends, who they accuse me of want of moderation in my conduct towards you, are wonderfully mistaken. They do not reflect, or know, that I have never spoken of you without suppressing (as I now do) personal feelings that rise up within me, and swell my heart with indignation and resentment.

Your friends, who they accuse me of want of moderation in my conduct towards you, are wonderfully mistaken. They do not reflect, or know, that I have never spoken of you without suppressing (as I now do) personal feelings that rise up within me, and swell my heart with indignation and resentment.

mountains of Wicklow; while military tribunals, house burnings, shootings, torture, and every kind of devastation were desolating and overwhelming the defenceless inhabitants, some of the state prisoners then in confinement entered into a negotiation with the Irish ministers for effecting a general amnesty; and as an inducement offered among other things not necessary to the examination of your conduct, to emigrate to such country as might be agreed upon between them and the government.

The offer was accepted, the bloody system was stopped for a time, and was not renewed until after your interference, and after the English ministry had resolved openly to break its faith with us. On our part, we performed our stipulations with the most punctilious fidelity, but in such a manner as to preserve to us the warmest approbation of our friends, and to excite the greatest dissatisfaction in our enemies.

The offer was accepted, the bloody system was stopped for a time, and was not renewed until after your interference, and after the English ministry had resolved openly to break its faith with us. On our part, we performed our stipulations with the most punctilious fidelity, but in such a manner as to preserve to us the warmest approbation of our friends, and to excite the greatest dissatisfaction in our enemies.

The offer was accepted, the bloody system was stopped for a time, and was not renewed until after your interference, and after the English ministry had resolved openly to break its faith with us. On our part, we performed our stipulations with the most punctilious fidelity, but in such a manner as to preserve to us the warmest approbation of our friends, and to excite the greatest dissatisfaction in our enemies.

The offer was accepted, the bloody system was stopped for a time, and was not renewed until after your interference, and after the English ministry had resolved openly to break its faith with us. On our part, we performed our stipulations with the most punctilious fidelity, but in such a manner as to preserve to us the warmest approbation of our friends, and to excite the greatest dissatisfaction in our enemies.

The offer was accepted, the bloody system was stopped for a time, and was not renewed until after your interference, and after the English ministry had resolved openly to break its faith with us. On our part, we performed our stipulations with the most punctilious fidelity, but in such a manner as to preserve to us the warmest approbation of our friends, and to excite the greatest dissatisfaction in our enemies.

The offer was accepted, the bloody system was stopped for a time, and was not renewed until after your interference, and after the English ministry had resolved openly to break its faith with us. On our part, we performed our stipulations with the most punctilious fidelity, but in such a manner as to preserve to us the warmest approbation of our friends, and to excite the greatest dissatisfaction in our enemies.

The offer was accepted, the bloody system was stopped for a time, and was not renewed until after your interference, and after the English ministry had resolved openly to break its faith with us. On our part, we performed our stipulations with the most punctilious fidelity, but in such a manner as to preserve to us the warmest approbation of our friends, and to excite the greatest dissatisfaction in our enemies.

The offer was accepted, the bloody system was stopped for a time, and was not renewed until after your interference, and after the English ministry had resolved openly to break its faith with us. On our part, we performed our stipulations with the most punctilious fidelity, but in such a manner as to preserve to us the warmest approbation of our friends, and to excite the greatest dissatisfaction in our enemies.

I have complained. I sincerely wish I could believe that such were the facts—but observe this argument. We contradicted the mis-statements of the committees of the Lords and Commons of Ireland, by an advertisement written in prison signed by our names, and published on the third of September—it must have reached London on the 7th or 8th—your remembrance must have been made on or before the 12th, for it was communicated to us on the 16th.

I have complained. I sincerely wish I could believe that such were the facts—but observe this argument. We contradicted the mis-statements of the committees of the Lords and Commons of Ireland, by an advertisement written in prison signed by our names, and published on the third of September—it must have reached London on the 7th or 8th—your remembrance must have been made on or before the 12th, for it was communicated to us on the 16th.

I have complained. I sincerely wish I could believe that such were the facts—but observe this argument. We contradicted the mis-statements of the committees of the Lords and Commons of Ireland, by an advertisement written in prison signed by our names, and published on the third of September—it must have reached London on the 7th or 8th—your remembrance must have been made on or before the 12th, for it was communicated to us on the 16th.

I have complained. I sincerely wish I could believe that such were the facts—but observe this argument. We contradicted the mis-statements of the committees of the Lords and Commons of Ireland, by an advertisement written in prison signed by our names, and published on the third of September—it must have reached London on the 7th or 8th—your remembrance must have been made on or before the 12th, for it was communicated to us on the 16th.

I have complained. I sincerely wish I could believe that such were the facts—but observe this argument. We contradicted the mis-statements of the committees of the Lords and Commons of Ireland, by an advertisement written in prison signed by our names, and published on the third of September—it must have reached London on the 7th or 8th—your remembrance must have been made on or before the 12th, for it was communicated to us on the 16th.

I have complained. I sincerely wish I could believe that such were the facts—but observe this argument. We contradicted the mis-statements of the committees of the Lords and Commons of Ireland, by an advertisement written in prison signed by our names, and published on the third of September—it must have reached London on the 7th or 8th—your remembrance must have been made on or before the 12th, for it was communicated to us on the 16th.

I have complained. I sincerely wish I could believe that such were the facts—but observe this argument. We contradicted the mis-statements of the committees of the Lords and Commons of Ireland, by an advertisement written in prison signed by our names, and published on the third of September—it must have reached London on the 7th or 8th—your remembrance must have been made on or before the 12th, for it was communicated to us on the 16th.

I have complained. I sincerely wish I could believe that such were the facts—but observe this argument. We contradicted the mis-statements of the committees of the Lords and Commons of Ireland, by an advertisement written in prison signed by our names, and published on the third of September—it must have reached London on the 7th or 8th—your remembrance must have been made on or before the 12th, for it was communicated to us on the 16th.

I have complained. I sincerely wish I could believe that such were the facts—but observe this argument. We contradicted the mis-statements of the committees of the Lords and Commons of Ireland, by an advertisement written in prison signed by our names, and published on the third of September—it must have reached London on the 7th or 8th—your remembrance must have been made on or before the 12th, for it was communicated to us on the 16th.

I have complained. I sincerely wish I could believe that such were the facts—but observe this argument. We contradicted the mis-statements of the committees of the Lords and Commons of Ireland, by an advertisement written in prison signed by our names, and published on the third of September—it must have reached London on the 7th or 8th—your remembrance must have been made on or before the 12th, for it was communicated to us on the 16th.

lish and Russian vessels, and if that unwarrantable system of exclusion is still persisted in, the blockade will be of course refused.

Several Hufum and two Gottenburgh mails are now daily and hourly expected at the post-office.

By the ship Eliza, Capt. Smith, in 29 days from Bordeaux, we have received papers from France, containing accounts from the armies several days later than those via England, and the George and Gold Hunter—But, we find no news in them—no exultation on account of French Victories over the Russians. This circumstance is a proof, that the French army has at least been "worsted."

We have two additional Bulletins, which are quite uninteresting. The 64th Bulletin is dated Osterode, 21 March. It states that the wounded on the part of the French amounting to 5000 have been transported from the field of battle to Thorn, and to their Hospitals on the left bank of the Vistula.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

56, W. Spoke a New-York brig, 5 days from N. Carolina, bound to the W. Indies, her name unknown.

Alfo, ship John Adams, Callender, 34 days from Liverpool. Sundry dry goods—Benj. and George Williams. Sailed 22d March, in co. with ship Philip, Williams, for Baltimore; Chatham, Wallon, for New-York; Industry, for Alexandria; Bolton, Trot, for Bolton; several others. Left ship Adriana, Harthorn, for Baltimore next day; Wm. Penn, for New York. Packet for Bolton.

Alfo, ship Ploughboy, Collard, 46 days from Liverpool—Salt and Crates—Lemuel Taylor.

Alfo, brig Elizabeth, Dixon, 23 days from Kingston, (Jam.) via Norfolk—Cousc—M'Neil and Neilson.

Alfo, last evening, sch'r Betsey, Reeves, 20 days from St. Bartholomews—Sugars—Jonathan Hudson.

Alfo, sch'r Sally, Peterson, 18 days from P. Petre, Guad—Sugars, Sc—Cornhwait and Morgan. The brig Greenwich, Wells, for Baltimore, sailed 4 days before.

Alfo, brig William, Dew, 35 days from Matanzas—Sugars—S. Smith & Buchanan. April 13th, lat. 34, 18, long. 71, 40, spoke sch'r Nancy, Hall, from Bolton for Touago, had left her foremast, both boats and all her spars and sails, except her mainmast and one topmast—having lost both my boats, could render her no assistance.

The ship North America, Tucker, and Henrietta, Baxter, for Baltimore, sailed from Amsterdam 8th March, in co. with ship Hero, arrived at Alexandria.

Arrived, brig Rising Sun, Burr, 5 days from Warren, R. I.—Balfan.

Dr. Tissot's CELEBRATED Gout and Rheumatic Drops.

A FRESH supply of the above invaluable medicine, price per bottle 2 dollars; is just received and for sale, wholesale and retail, by the agents for Baltimore.

Dr. DOBBIN & MURPHY. A liberal allowance made to those who buy to tell again.

In addition to the certificates, (already published) of General Charles Ridgely, of Hampton—John Gibson, Esq. of Annapolis—John Macbride, Esq. and Mrs. Macbride, of Anne Arundel county—Mrs. Margaret Ryan—Mr. Thomas Kello and Mr. Thomas Campbell, of Baltimore: the agents are happy in laying before the public the following certificates politely ordered to the proprietor in Philadelphia.

CERTIFICATE OF PHILIP PANCAKE, Lieutenant Colonel, 24th Regiment Pennsylvania Militia, South Field Street, Philadelphia.

It has always been considered that health is one of the greatest blessings we can possess in our journey through life, and from the many complaints and pains to which the human frame is subject—we should always be in search of remedies—and when found, communicate them for the advantage of mankind. From this reflection I feel it a duty which I owe to my fellow citizens, that having been afflicted with a violent inflammation or rheumatism in one of my knees for some time, that I could not be moved without the assistance of two or three persons, and with the severity of the pain was so debilitated that my health was fast declining—indeed a fever would soon have followed, and in all probability would have ended in death. After applying a number of things which had been recommended I was at length persuaded to try Dr. Tissot's celebrated Drops, which I declare upon my honor, that after two rubings, the swelling and pain abated to such, that I could walk without any help whatever—and I am now thank God perfectly recovered by this very useful medicine, which is in my opinion the best that ever was invented, and I unhesitatingly recommend it to persons who are laboring under any of the above complaints. I must also say more in praise of this extraordinary medicine—for some years past I have been afflicted with that fatal and distressing disorder the gravel, and during my confinement with the rheumatism I had several spells—but by taking twenty drops a day, it is astonishing the effect it produced, for in the course of six days I was quite cured.—There are a number of my friends who law my situation, and can vouch as to the fact of these statements. I mention this, that the public may not suppose that this paragraph is inserted, as many are to mislead, I am persuaded with motives very different, my aim is for the afflicted in similar complaints to be cured.

Signed, PHILIP PANCAKE.

CERTIFICATE OF Mrs. HUGHES, north Sixth street, two doors from Market street, Philadelphia.

I certify that I have been afflicted with most severe rheumatism in my foot and ankle, so as to disable me from using them, being strongly recommended to apply Dr. Tissot's gout and rheumatic drops, I did so, and in two days found to much relief that in the course of a very few days further application, every symptom of pain was removed—I have continued free from rheumatism ever since.

Signed, MARY HUGHES.

CERTIFICATE OF Mr. STEPHEN DISHARON.

This may certify, that I Stephen Disharon, of Princes Ann County, Eastern Shore of Maryland, was sorely afflicted with rheumatic complaints, and was advised to apply Dr. Tissot's Gout and Rheumatic Drops, which, under God, in a short time effected a radical cure.

Signed, STEPHEN DISHARON. December 15th, 1866.

CERTIFICATE OF Wm. ERIGUT, Deputy Keeper, Debtors' apartment, Philadelphia.

I certify that I was violently afflicted with the gout and rheumatism for several months, and could get no relief from any thing that was recommended to me, at last I was advised to apply Dr. Tissot's gout and rheumatic drops, and was relieved and effectually cured in the course of one week, by using only one bottle.

Signed, WM. BRIGHT.

CERTIFICATE OF Mrs. MARY TAYLOR.

F. Mary Taylor, No. 135, Fifth Street, Philadelphia, aged upwards of 70 years, having been afflicted with very violent rheumatic pains for more than eight years, being recommended to apply Dr. Tissot's Gout and Rheumatic Drops, on only using half a bottle, every Rheumatic affection was completely removed, and I have continued free from all pain ever since.

Signed, MARY TAYLOR.

CERTIFICATE OF C. BRUCE, Corner of Little Seventh and Locust streets, Philadelphia.

I certify that my wife Jane Bruce, had been afflicted for many months with dreadful rheuma-

MONDAY, APRIL 27, 1867.

[A Supplement of advertisements accompanies this day's American.]

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

On the 26th November, a British squadron of 7 sail, under the command of Sir Edward Pellew, entered Batavia road, and commenced a heavy fire on the Dutch shipping, and they finding their guns could not reach, the vessels being previously ran on shore, they rowed in with their boats, set fire to, and completely burned 18 sail, and a large quantity of stores.

*Porcupine was not naturalized, and I understand that Mr. Carpenter is not—Globe.

† Mr. King, when a lad, was a fervent and avowed the LIBERTY of Sir John Temple, the near relative of Mr. Emmet. I assert this fact on the authority of a respectable gentleman in this city.

‡ It is said that on Monday evening last, certain federal gentlemen held a private meeting, at which they agreed to withdraw or cause to be withdrawn from Mr. Emmet federal professional business put into his hands, and, as in the glorious times of '98, to combine to do him all the pecuniary injury in their power!

NEW-YORK, April 24. LATE FOREIGN NEWS.

By the arrival of the ship Pallinurus, in 26 days from Plymouth, we have been put in possession of London papers to the 22d March, being two days later than before received by the Gold Hunter, from which the following articles are extracted.

LONDON, March 22. The duke of Portland, who, at his majesty's command has undertaken to form a new administration, continues occupied in that important and we incline to think, arduous arrangement.

A French squadron consisting of 3 sail of the line and a frigate, which, for some time, had been lying in the outward harbour of Brek ready for sea, appears, by letters which reached town from Plymouth, to have escaped thro' the passage Du Raz. It is conjectured that they are bound to America, to relieve the two ships blockaded there by the British cruisers.

The blockade of Trieste has been raised for the present, in consequence of a conference between the governor and the British commodore: the port, however, continues shut against the Eng-

Perhaps it may be said, that you were yourself deceived by those very calumnies of which