Runaway Negro.

WAS committed to the gaol of Washington county, [Maryland,] on the 12th instant, as a runaway, a negro man who calls himself David Jones, alias Ifrael Davis, appears to be about 39 years of age, 5 feet 5 or 6 inches high; his clothing is a ſtriped Bennet's cord jacket, blue cloth pantaloons, cotton ſhirt, an old wool hat and ſhoes. Says he is a free man, that he was formerly a cook on board the frigate Chesapeake, and that he lately lived in Alexandria and Georgetown. The owner, if a slave, is requeſted to come and releaſe him, otherwiſe he will be ſold for his gaol fees, agreeably to law.

PREVENTING DISEASES;"

Founded principally on an attention to Air and Climate, Drink, Food, Sleep, Exerciſe, Cloathing, Paſſions of the Mind, and Retentions and Excretions—By SHADRACK RICKETSON, Phyſician in New-York.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

We, the ſubſcribers, having examined a Treatiſe on the "Means of preſerving Health and preventing Diſeaſes," compoſed by Doctor Shadrack Ricketſon of this city, embrace, with pleaſure, the preſent opportunity of giving it our decided and public approbation. The ſtyle of the work is performed in ſo plain and intelligible a manner that it may be readily comprehended by every perſon of ordinary information; the principles inculcated are uniformly ſupported by well adapted quotations from the beſt authors on the ſubject, forming in the whole a collection of facts and opinions well worthy the attention of every claſs of ſociety.

New York, September 1ſt, 1806.

SIR,

I have peruſed the work you have put into my hands, relative to the "Means of preſerving Health and of preventing Diſeaſes."

It appears to me to be arranged in a perſpicuous manner, and to contain principles which will receive general approbation.

You have alſo very judiciouſly availed yourſelf of the obſervations of ſome of the ableſt writers of the preſent day, which will give an additional value to your work, eſpecially with thoſe who may not have access to the originals.

Accept, ſir, my beſt wiſhes for the ſucceſs of your undertaking.

Your humble ſervant,

DAVID HOSACK.

Dr. Ricketſon.

New-York, September 1ſt, 1806.

"We hope this publication will have the good effect of carrying the valuable cautions and precepts which it contains into many places, and recommending them to the attention of many families and perſons whom otherwiſe they might never have reached.

"This benefit, together with that of calling to the minds of many who are too apt to refore the ſalutary advice it offers, will, we are confident, afford to the benevolent and judicious author, a compenſation for all the labor he has beſtowed in preparing it for the uſe of the public."

Med. Repoſitory and Review of American publications on Med. Surgery, and the auxiliary branches of ſcience, for Auguſt, September, and October 1806.—By Doctors Mitchell and Miller.

Similar recommendations highly approbating the foregoing publication, have been received from Dr. Ramſey, of Charleſton, and Dr. B Waterhouſe, of Cambridge.

We, the ſubſcribers, having been favored with the peruſal of a book compoſed by Doctor Ricketſon, of New-York, entitled "Means of preſerving Health and preventing Diſeaſes," do, with much pleaſure, give it the ſanction of our approbation, and cheerfully co-operate with our reſpectable brethren of the Faculty in other places, in recommending it as a valuable and uſeful guide to health, and containing directions well calculated to prevent or mitigate diſeaſes: and therefore worthy the attention of every family and individual.

We confidently hope that the merit of this little American work will be duly appreciated, and that thereby its benevolent and judicious author will be amply compenſated for his labor and good intentions.
