

and thinking alike, we may reasonably suppose they would act alike. Now the British print at Quebec and two or three Boston papers hold the very same kind of language and utter sentiments of a similar stamp. In case of a war, therefore, is it not likely that those who write for those Boston papers which support such sentiments, would be found on the side of the British?

The British begin already to calculate upon their conquests in South America; the Quebec Mercury says—

"The resources of the La Plata, for Cattle are immense. Our people have but to kill & salt. It is said that contracts are already entered into for the purpose."

The writer of that article forgets that Monte Video and Buenos Ayres may be re-conquered by Bonaparte in Europe, whose achievements will enable him to say to England what she shall keep and what surrender at a general peace.

It is to be lamented that the chief town of Old Massachusetts should furnish writers for Britain: Writers who go hand in hand with such fellows as Berkeley and the Tories of Canada. The Quebec Mercury of a recent date contains a long article on the subject of the late attack on the Chesapeake: It justifies the outrage in every particular, and speaks in the most contemptuous terms of this country. Among other expressions it has the following:

"Powerful and elevated among nations, as Great-Britain at this day is, she would be wanting to herself did she passively submit to any willfully injurious, and atrocious conduct, from a people who, to the thunders of her navy have only to oppose such impotent weapons as Proclamations, Resolves, writings and clamours."

One would suppose that such insolence would hardly be imitated by any printer in the United States. The single consideration that the sentiment is entirely British, ought to prevent an American journalist from coinciding with it. But Great-Britain has her partisans in this country as well as elsewhere, and the following, from the Boston Repository, completely proves that a British subject in Quebec and an Anglo-American at Boston are essentially the same kind of animal; and that if Dr. Park is not already a British hireling, he is very willing to become one; for like the Quebec Mercury he says—

"It is a man possessing any perfect right in the power of exercising it, and neutral in the power of a nation without the power of giving them a reality. And to defend neutral rights by the force of arms & argument against the interests of belligerents, is like offering the hostilities of proclamations the force of arms for their protection."

After reading these two extracts, it is believed that no man can really doubt about a British influence existing at Boston.

If "neutral rights are but a name," as the Boston Repository says, why should government be troubled about them? We traffick, however, in them, and are being in this country growing enough in mind to yield right to power, that there are honest citizens in the United States to give the government power to protect right.

Dr. Park thinks right is not to be supported by argument. All his calumnies against the present administration, and all his justifications and adulations in favor of British outrage, go to show, however, that he believes wrong may be countenanced by abuse.

Extract of a letter from Fort Stoddert, June 6.
"A few days since, a duel took place just below the Spanish line, between captain C. Perkins and Mr. Joseph P. Kennedy, in which the former was killed. He did not die on the spot, but he survived only a few hours."

Lusus Naturæ.
To be seen at Mrs. BICHAMPS, No. 2, North Charles street,
A Young Lady,
BORN without hands, and with only three toes, on one foot; who is not so much a subject of wonder and admiration for her great ingenuity and elegance for embroidering artificial flowers fit for trimming, and in cutting with rich variety and taste, gentlemen's watch papers, as for the peculiar felicity of her disposition and entertaining style of conversation, diffusing gaiety all around her; indeed, her cheerful and sportive engaging aspect at once dispels those painful sensations which the deprivations of her limbs excites in the sympathising breasts of her visitors, which give place to the most felicitous impressions, resulting in an admiration of the unparalleled good sense and cheerful resignation of this young lady to her peculiar lot, which she has rendered by her persevering industry, spirit & wisdom, a happiness to herself, and a very instructive and consolatory example to the world generally, and to her own sex particularly.
Large Flowers, &c. for sale by the Young Lady at the above place.

For Sale,
A valuable tract of LAND, lying in Anne Arundel County, in the neighborhood of Elk Ridge, containing 804 acres, between 13 and 14 miles from the city of Baltimore, and 127 from the Federal City, and on the new road contemplated by congress from the latter of the former place. There is upwards of 650 to the above well wooded and inferior to none in its vicinity; the residue is now under cultivation: the soil is adapted to every species of country produce, particularly for the production of Tobacco. The improvements are a tolerable frame House & Kitchen, a good Barn and Stables, a good Apple and Peach Orchard. Considering the great scarcity of wood and its being near one of the best markets in this state, with addition of a quantity of Iron Ore thereon, and the convenience of its situation to the mills and water carriage, where produce may be conveyed from Elk Ridge Landing to Baltimore, renders this land worthy the attention of farmers and others. Also, 30 acres situated on Elk Ridge, adjoining the residence of Mr. Graham, two miles from Spurrier's tavern, on the road from Frederick to Annapolis. Also, between 350 and 400 acres lying in Frederick county, contiguous to William Hobb's, Esq. and part of which joins the turnpike road on both sides; principally standing in wood of a good quality. The soil is surpassed by none in the neighborhood for the production of every description of produce; it is deemed unnecessary to give a further description of the aforesaid lands, as it is presumed those inclined to purchase will view them. The terms will be accommodating and price low. For further particulars please to apply to the subscriber at the counting-house of Messrs. Samuel and Eli Clagett, Baltimore, or to Mr. Charles Hammond, Elk Ridge, who is authorized to dispose of the same.
REZIN HAMMOND.
If the first mentioned Tract is not sold before the 10th November next, it will be offered to the highest bidder at public auction on that day (of which previous notice will be given) at Spurrier's Tavern, Elk Ridge, in the forenoon, when the terms will be made known at the time and place of sale.
