To the Public.
An advertisement was published in the Federal Gazette of the 28th inst. signed "Robert Benson," offering a reward of "Six Cents" for the apprehension of "William Mills." The stigma which such a publication is calculated to fix upon a youth may be readily appreciated by every body: But that stigma it is hoped will be lessened or entirely wiped away, when the public are informed, that the young man did not absent himself with any intention of running off: That he belonged to a Volunteer Corps; that he joined that corps with the full approbation of "Robert Benson"; that he was called upon by his commanding officer to join his comrades in arms to go in pursuit of the pirate that attempted to carry off the Othello; and that with those comrades he has returned to this city and is at all times ready to perform his duty as a faithful apprentice. How far, under such circumstances, "Robert Benson" is justified in his advertising "William Mills" as a candid public will judge.

The horse is a bay, about 16 hands high, with a small bluish in one eye, and a few white hairs in his forehead; trots, gallops, and appears to be about 8 years old.
