I have perused the work you have put into my hands, relative to the " Means of preserving Health and of preventing Diseases."

It appears to me to be arranged in a perspicuous manner, and to contain principles which will receive general approbation.

You have also very judiciously availed yourself of the observations of some of the ablest writers of the present day, which will give an additional value to your work, especially with those who may not have access to the originals. Accept, sir, my best wishes for the success of your undertaking. Your humble servant, Similar recommendations highly approbating the foregoing publication, have been received from Dr. Ramsey, of Charleston, and Dr. B Waterhouse, of Cambridge.

We, the subscribers, having been favored with the perusal of a book composed by Doctor Ricketson, of New-York, entitled " Means of preserving Health and preventing Diseases," do, with much pleasure, give it the sanction of our approbation, and cheerfully co-operate with our respectable brethren of the Faculty in other places, in recommending it as a valuable and useful guide to health, and containing direc tions well calculated to prevent or mitigate diseases; and therefore worthy the attention of every family and individual. We confidently hope that the merit of this little American work will be duly appreciated. and that thereby its benevolent and judicious author will be amply compensated for his labor and good intentions.

To the Public.

An advertisement was published in the Federal Gazette of the 28th ult. signed " Robert Bestson," offering a reward of " Six Cents" for the apprehension of "William Mills." The. stigma which such a publication is calculated to fix upon a youth may be readily appreciated by every body: But that stigma it is hoped will be lessened or entirely wiped away, when the public are informed, that the young man did not absent himself with any intention of running off: That he belonged to a Volunteer Corps; that he joined that corps with the full approbation of " Robert Benson;" that he was called upon by his commanding officer to join his comrades in arms to go in pursuit of the pirate that attempted to carry off the Uthello; and that with those comrades he has returned to this city and is at all times ready to perform his duty as a faithful apprentice. How far, under such circumstances, "Robert Benson" is justified in his advertising " William Mills," a candid public will judge. EZEKIEL MILLS.
