Cotton.—The fales of cotton in the two last weeks have been very limite L. The importa tions from America and Lisbon have been laige, and the present flock, including all descriptions, cannot be computed at less than 70 es 86.000 bales. A considerable proportion of thefe are very ordin, ry Uplands, the value of which is daily depreciating, owing tol there being no deman 1. Yester lay 209 bales of ordinary were brought forward by auction, 156 of which were fold to the buyers of damaged and unmerchantable cotton, at the average of 13 3-4d per lb. the feller paying the auction duty of 5 per cent : and the remainder, with the exception of one lot of good, at 17 1.4d. withdrawn at 13 1 2d. per ib. There are, however, many thousand baies in the market, much inferior in quality to these, and which, with reference to this fale, cannot be valued at more han 12d to 13d per lb; middling may be quoted at 14d to 15d; fair 15 1-2 a 16d; good, of which the supply is small, 16 1-2d a 17 1-2d per lb. There are, we imagine. 8 to 10,000 bales of New-Orleans in the market, the major part of which are ordinary, and which may be valued at 18d; fair to good at 17 1-2d 2 19d per lb We quote Rained Sex island at is 20 a is 8d; ordinary and middling at 18. 10d'a 25; fair at 25.0 1-2 a 25 lb, good a is ad and fine and very fine at 25 2d a 28 6d; Bourbons 2s 1d a 2s 4d; but nothing whatever is doing.

Grain, &c .- The weather continues very favorable for the crops now on the ground, and which are very promising, inforeign grain nothing whatever is doing, the dealers and aconfumers declining to give more than 1's 6d per 70 lbs for good American whear; at this price sales to a limited extent might be made, but the helders generally are not at prefent dispoted to fell under los 9d a 218 per 70 lbs. The price of Baltimore and Viginia hour may be considered 37% of New-York 338; and of Philadelphia 398 per barrel; 1 but the two f rme, referipti na continue to be simelt whotty neglected, and indeed fale or Philadelphia are very simited. The quantity seil in the market may be computed at about 53 coo barrels and more is expected We i cash, concinue of opinion, that if the weather remains tavourable, the prices of flour are likely to be faither reduced, as the centand for the confumption of the interior of the country | co. ie very trilling.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Annapolis, to his friend in Wallington city, dated trie 31th ult.

.. You have no doubt heard of the affair of the pirate that fome days pall fired on and took pollesson of the ship Othello from Liverpool bound to Baltimore. On Friday last we heard bere that the pirate had gone up the bay : the only send in our port that was tit was immediately got ready and a part of the artillery and Intantry of this piace were lent in fearch of her, together with a barge trouthe French 80 gun thip. Hearing allo that some suspected persons had gone up the road, a detachment on horteback mas lent after them, and in the evening returned with 5 Frenchmen, who ack owledged that they had a few days before left the pirate schooner. The vellel returned without being lucky enough to fall in with the pirate.

. ... I was present at the examination of the five pritoners, so were sever los the officers of the L'Eo'e, viz. the captain and others-allo capt. la Villeau of the Patriot. Th y thewed great anxiety, and a delite to bring the culprits to jullice. They turned out to be deserters from the L'Eole and Patriot, who were enlifted in Baltimure. they fay, to go to the Well Indies, but finding themselves deceived, had deferted. . The officers of the pirate schooner were Frenchmen from Baltimore, not heretofere connecled with the French ships of war. As foon as the militia of this place were making a flir, the officers of the L'Evie offered a part of their ciew to aid us, together with their barge, and guns | able to the subscriber; likewise a ticket in the and ammunition. Their barge that went out was manned in part with Frenchmen. I feel hurt that the French officers should be inspected as it appears they are. They have manifelled every dilposition to the contrary, which ought to be made public. A schooner from Baltimore manned by militia, has taken the pirate and carried her to Baltimore. Part of the crew made their escape, and partwere taken by com. Krohm and are confined on board the Patriot. - More falle representations have been made."
