Notice.

I am resolved to be cautious in what money or cost I may have occasion to pay to John Picket, who calls himself a Deputy-Sheriff, under Mr. John Hunter, of Baltimore county; for some days ago the said Picket called on me to serve a feri faicias on me as administrator of Captain Charles Wells, for certain costs due by the estate of said capt. Wells for Non Pros. The money was due; but not having been demanded had not been paid. Before the said Picket went any further than summoning his appraisers (who were summoned before I knew any thing of his process, although Picket passed by the door a minute or two before, choosing however to be silent) the money was paid. The first intelligence I had of the affair was on the arrival of said Picket at the door with his appraisers. As soon as he told his business the money was quickly paid, and before he had any time to go further. Still the said Picket demanded the cost of 30 dolls. 81 cents and an half, amounting 3 dolls. 58 cents. A short time after I began to think the said Picket had received more than his just due, and I stepped down to the Sheriff's office to ascertain the fact. After I mentioned it to Mr. John Hunter, he examined the law and paid a part of it back. But the said Picket being there he made an objection by saying that he was entitled to it by swearing his appraisers. But the fact is they never were sworn by the said Picket at any time whatever. Therefore there is reason to believe that said Picket has gone into the practice of receiving more than his just due; 1st in not having part of it being paid back; and secondly by saying that he had sworn his appraisers, which they totally deny. The thing shews for itself. Was the cost due without swearing appraisers? If so, what exorbitant costs must accrue, where appraisers are sworn and actually appraise? At least, I presume, one third of the principal! If the said Picket had been entitled to the money, would it have been paid back? or would it have been paid back if it had been legally received? Or had this man to be kept in office after this foul proceeding? If he took the money from me, he may take too much from others, and hundreds may suffer. Doubting as I do Mr. Hunter's knowledge of the business, I have thought it my duty to make this statement, that he may be informed of the conduct of his deputy.
JOHN HUNTER.

GRAND LOTTERY, BALTIMORE.

Authorised by an act of the general assembly of the state of Maryland; the scheme of which Lottery is the most brilliant ever offered to the citizens of the United States, containing, besides a large number of other valuable prizes,

1	prize of	30,000 dollars.
1	do of	15,000
3	do of	10,000
2	do of	5,000
8	do of	1,500
7	do of	1,000

And not two blanks to a prize. The scheme consists of 500 tickets. 10,000 of which are actually filled at a company of gentlemen in New-York, in whom the managers have obligated themselves to combine to work on THURSDAY, the 31st day of December next.
TICKETS & SHARES are now selling at [illegible] each, at G. & R. WAITE's truly fortunate Lottery Office, corner of Market and Charles streets, Baltimore.
From the rapid sale of the Tickets in every part of the union, no advance will shortly be put on them, of which an advertisement will soon appear in the public papers.
The gratifiers of the scheme of the above lottery together with an assurance from the managers that the lottery will positively commence drawing on the 31st of December next, have been sufficient inducements for the subscribers to come to the city of Baltimore for the express purpose of superintending the sale of the tickets.
G. & R. WAITE.
☞ One of the above firm will personally attend the drawing daily, to take down the numbers as they are drawn, and a list of them regularly published. All prizes paid by G. & R. Waite will be paid by them, and a printed list of all prizes drawn will be published by them and forwarded to their
